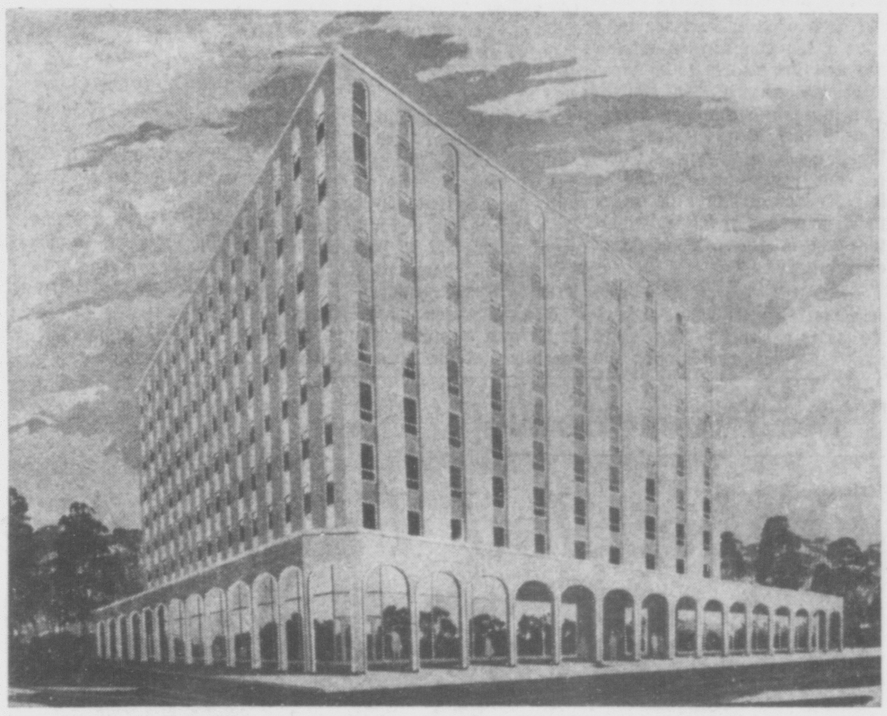
ASK DOWNTOWN HIGH-RISE

AS IT STANDS now, the corner and frontage on Davis Street for which a modern ten-story building has been proposed includes several small structures "have lived beyond their economically useful life," according to Village Pres. John G. Woods. The proposed building would extend east along Davis Street to the west side of Winkelman's Bicycle Shop as presently planned. Assessed valuation on structures and land as it exists now is about $47,00, compared to $2 million estimated value of proposed store-office-apartment building.



TEN-STORY STRUCTURE proposed for location at the corner of Davis Street and Evergreen Avenue would follow architectural trends of modern Rome, housing a store, offices and apartments.

10-Stories Are Proposed

Plans for a 10-story store-office-apartment building in downtown Arlington Heights began to take shape this week with beginning of negotiaations for purchase of land.

The proposal, made at an informal meeting Dec. 5, of the village board and plan commission, would involve razing half a block of old stores along Davis Street, including the vacant Geiseke Department Store, to make way for the new building.

The first two floors would be occupied by a combination of the Schneller Furniture Co. and Colonial Shoppe, both owned by Joseph Schneller, who presented building plans at the meeting of village officials.

AS THE plan now stands, the next three floors of the proposed building would be devoted to office space (31,000 square feet), and the top five floors would house 45 apartments.

The building itself, designed by McCarthy-Hundrieser and Associates, would be marble and gray glazed brick — two stories coming to the street, with an inset eight-story high-rise column. Both levels are designed with a simple continuous arch motif.

Schneider described the planned building at its presentation as "the something vital which is necessary to spur redevelopment in the downtown area."

HE EXPRESSED hope that development of such a building, with a furniture business to draw people from surrounding communities, would attract comparable buildings and businesses to the village.

Village offcials attending the meeting unanimously expressed their agreement with the concept and principle of such a building and with the idea that it would be a "bold approach for revitalization of downtown Arlington."

The latter words were those of Village Pres. John G. Woods, but at the same time he brought to light the problem of developing such a building in Arlington Heights.

THERE ARE no provisions in the village's comprehensive zoning ordinance which specifically apply to high-rise stores, offices or apartment buildings.

A special committee of the plan commission, headed by Charles Catlin, has been studying revision of apartment zoning standards for several months. One specific topic is establishment of an R-7 class for high-rise, but this presumably would be designed with residential areas and strictly residential buildings in mind.

After hearing similar suggestions from members of the plan commission, Woods said, "I think the core (downtown) area needs special provisions." He added, though, that boundaries for this area would be difficult to establish, and that perhaps special provisions should be made for different zones within the core.

PLANNING problems which came under discussion in a question period following Schneller's description of the proposed building included the size and probable tenancy of apartments; possible obstruction of light, air and view through height of the building, and adequate parking facilities.

Of a total of 45 apartments, the architect's layout includes

Judge Clarifies New Court Setup

The nature of the court to be established in Arlington Heights Jan. 1 under the Blue Ballot judicial reform amendment has been clarified and set in writing this week by Harold Sullivan, chief judge of District Two, Cook County Circuit Court.

It is best described as a consolidation of magistrates and JP courts now in existence in six area communities: Palatine, Rolling Meadows, Wheeling, Buffalo Grove, Prospect Heights, and Arlington Heights.

COURTROOMS in communities other than Arlington Heights are no longer to be used, but police magistrates and justices of the peace from all communities will continue to serve until their terms expire.

The Arlington Heights court facility, which has been made available without qualifications by the village board, is the council chamber on the second floor of the new municipal building, 33 S. State Road.

From all appearances and a tentative schedule set forth by Judge Sullivan, it will be in use five days a week—at a rental fee of $1 per year to be paid to the village by the county.

THE CASE load as planned will be primarily traffic matters and criminal misdemeanors brought forth by police of the five incorporated municipalities involved, and by county and state police.

In a schedule set up for the first two weeks of court operation, each community has a specific time for traffic matters and another time for misdemeanors. State and county police are granted similar times, but according to Judge Sullivan the load of these cases will be relatively light.

Sullivan has met with chiefs of police from all communities to determine if the time allotted will be sufficient for the average number of cases coming from each village.

THE COURT will also serve in civil suits amounting to less than $5,000 for which a jury trial is not necessary, and for certain felony hearings before an associate judge.

Under the present schedule Monday and Tuesday mornings and most of the day Friday of each week would be free for handling of such cases.

Sullivan also said he will sit personally on the Arlington Heights bench at regular intervals to hear juvenile cases from the six communities.

But the scope of the local court will apparently be limited to non-jury matters — not on a par with "district" courts to be located in Skokie and Evanston for District Two.

CIVIL SUITS over $5,000 and higher criminal cases would be heard either downtown, or in one of the district courts under his present recommendation, Sullivan said.

He added that he could not see the feasibility of establishing a jury court in Arlington Heights because of the difficulty of transporting jurors who must be selected from the county as a whole.

Rotating magistrates and justices of the peace from the entire district will sit on the bench of the new court to hear traffic matters, criminal misdemeanors and lower civil suits, spending time proportionate to the salary they draw.

According to Sullivan, the village will probably be required to pay the salary of a full-time clerk for the first year under the Blue Ballot system. He anticipates that the county will eventually assume the salary obligation.

ALTHOUGH records and dockets for the court will be kept in the Niles Township building, which Sullivan said is the only place he could find room to centralize, local clerks will be charged with keeping records straight while they are in court.

The clerk will also have to supervise over-the-counter payment of traffic fines on a plea of guilty. Sullivan anticipates that this "cafeteria court," to be open every day, will take much of the heavy load off the standard dockets.

IN SUPPORT of his consolidation of courts for District Two, much different from the policy of leaving each municipality with its own court in neighboring District Three, Sullivan said it would work a practical advantage for record keeping, economy, and the dignity of a full-time court room.

He said the longest trip to court would be from Wheeling, which is only about 15 minutes driving time. He also said police from all villages can write a specific time for court appearances on tickets so they will not be kept out of their villages for an extended period of time.

Since there will be no provisions for jury trials, changes in the physical setup of the court room will probably be limited to elevation of the judge's seat and a table in front of the seat, installation of a rail in front of the bench, and provision somewhere in the building of a counter for the "cafeteria court," Sullivan said.

Christmas Tree Takers Blame Bet

Two men admitted to Arlington Heights police Dec. 12 that they were caught in the act of Christmas taking.

Arlington Heights police spotted Paul A. Stuber, Rolling Meadows, and Edward L. Dufford, 1718 W. Northwest Highway, Arlington Heights, loading a Christmas tree into their car at Charles Klehm and Son Nurseries, Algonquin and State roads.

When they were apprehended going north on State Road, they told police they had done it on a bet. Both are now free on $200 bond and set for appearance in Arlington Heights court Jan. 8 on charges of theft.

Garbage Service Brochure Issued

A garbage service brochure was distributed in draft form last week to members of the Arlington Heights village board.

Once completed, it will be distributed to all citizens and businesses in the village. It explains terms of the new contract just signed with Laseke Disposal Service.

School Caucus Meets Jan. 6

The Arlington Heights School Board nominating committee will hold the first of three scheduled meetings Jan. 6 to pick a slate for three board positions to be vacated in 1964.

Present members of the District 25 board whose terms will expire are Charles O. Bennett, George A. Harris and Roger J. Burke, who has previously served as a board member, was appointed in July to complete the unexpired term of Ralph G. McGee.

He will not be eligible for re-election, but both Bennett and Harris, who are now serving their first terms, will be.

THE NOMINATING committee is composed of two delegates from each participating local organization which is civic or educational in interest, and which has no political or religious affiliation.

Over 50 organizations have been invited to participate, according to J. Robert Jolly, chairman of the nominating committee. He invited other interested organizations to contact him.

The first of three meetings, Jolly said, will be devoted primarily to orientation. A screening committee of eight members selected from the larger body must be chosen.

THE SCREENING committee then must review all candidates for the three vacancies and make recommendations for a slate upon which the entire nominating committee will vote.

Jolly said the second committee meeting will be primarily for presentation of the candidates, and the third will be the vote.

He explained that the screening committee's recommendation is simply a recommendation, and that members of the large nominating committee are not bound by any choice.

JOSEPH FANER, president of the school board, has been authorized to speak to the nominating committee at the first meeting on the workings of the school board.

Faner and Mrs. Dennis Malcolmson, whose three-year terms expire in 1966, and Victor Myer and Harold E. Sorter, whose terms end in 1965, are the remaining members around whom the new board will be built.

Early Deadline

The Dec. 26 editions of Paddock Publications 14 suburban newspapers will go to press three days early next week because of the Christmas holiday. Deadline for news copy is Friday.

Village's Revised Traffic Laws May Be Wasted Effort

An Arlington Heights village ordinance, passed Dec. 2 to replace the Illinois Uniform Act Regulating Traffic as the basis for all local traffic citations, may prove little more than wasted effort.

In making provisions for courts under the Blue Ballot judicial reform Chief Judge Harold Sullivan of District Two has recommended that all tickets from Jan. 1 on be written, when possible, on the UART.

THE VILLAGE'S nearly exact copy of the state statute was adopted when doubt arose as to who would prosecute tickets written on the state code and who would get the fines.

The Arlington Heights village board expressed a desire that Village Prosecutor Warren Peterson prosecute traffic violators ticketed by Arlington Heights police, and, naturally, that the village receive the money collected in fines.

State's Atty. Daniel P. Ward has issued an opinion that all tickets written on the state code should be prosecuted by an assistant state's attorney rather than a municipal prosecutor.

IF THE STATE'S attorney prosecutes, there is also some area of doubt as to whether the fines go to the county or to the municipality whose police issued the ticket.

But, according to Sullivan, there is no doubt that the fines would go to the municipality in any case.

He also said the State's Attorney's office would come under a heavy load if it were to prosecute all UART offenses. He saw the likelihood that such prosecution would be limited to cases such as driving while intoxicated, in which a jail sentence may be involved.

Sullivan said his recommendation was in line with the thoughts of Chief Judge John Boyle of Cook County Circuit Court, and that it was designed to insure uniformity in ticket writing.

He said he believes the Circuit Court will publish the form of complaint to be used as a rule throughout the county. This would make it impossible for Arlington Heights to use its recently-adopted code.

To Fine Stalled Trains

Engineer, conductors or others in charge of trains blocking an intersection in Arlington Heights for more than five minutes may now be issued citations comparable to traffic tickets.

A village ordinance providing legal backing for such an arrest was passed Monday by the village board without a dissenting vote.

SPECIFIC INSTANCES mentioned as reasons for establishment of the law were freight trains switching cars onto a siding at Hill-Behan Lumber Co., and passenger trains which wait to begin a scheduled run just west of the downtown train crossings, but cause the crossing gates to go down.

Board members spoke from experience in saying the wait could sometimes be as long as 15 or 20 minutes for a single train.

Reports 'Orderly' Talks On Future of Old Orchard

Mount Prospect village trustee Parker Ekren this week described negotiations on annexation of Old Orchard Country Club as satisfactory and orderly.

Ekren is chairman of the village judiciary committee, and as such he and his committee are charged by the village board with negotiating with Old Orchard officials on terms of annexation for the 200-acre plot.

When development of the area was proposed before the Cook County Zoning Board of Appeals the village of Arlington Heights opposed plans for high-rise apartments, a multi-story lodge, town houses and additional recreational facilities as they were then outlined.

Mount Prospect also joined in objection through the village attorney, but the village board of that community never acted on a formal statement.

THEN, simultaneously, the county hearing was continued indefinitely and negotiations for annexation were begun between Mount Prospect and Old Orchard owners who propose development of the country club.

Negotiations for annexation of the land now deal with zoning and controls on development of the land once it is a part of Mount Prospect.

Ekren said the owners of the property and development area have been very cooperative and "more or less agreed to all of Baughman's recommendations."

The Baughman to whom he referred is M. Eugene Baughman, recently retained as village planning consultant for Mount Prospect, who serves in the same capacity for Arlington Heights.

HE WAS assigned by Mount Prospect to study the development and make recommendations based on the village's present density and zoning requirements, as well as attempt to come up with new zoning provisions.

Baughman had recommended that five 16-story apartment units planned for an area near Camp McDonald Road either be reduced in height or moved further in on the golf course.

Ekren said negotiations are headed for a compromise between Baughman's recommentions and the original developers' plan.

Another of Mount Prospect's recommendations, also put forth by Arlington Heights at the time zoning was in county hands, was that controls be established to insure that the 9- and 18-hole golf courses now in existence remain after development of the property.

In this area, Baughman has recommended a plan which would put individual phases of development on 40-acre zoning plots, totaling a maximum of 160 acres of the 200-acre property.

THIS WOULD, apparently, leave 40 acres suitable for future development not included in the present plan.

So far, two negotiating sessions have been held and the third is set for Saturday.

Ekren said the developers have already agreed to an internal traffic system satisfying objections by the two neighboring villages when the plan was before the county zoning board. At that time, exterior access on public streets was planned for a number of the proposed apartment units.

Ekren said probably three more meetings between his committee and the developers would be required before the matter would be set for full consideration of the village board.

This would eliminate any action on the plan this year, as no more village board meetings are scheduled before January.

Begin Skating At Four Rinks

Skating began this week on four major rinks and one plowed pond maintained by the Arlington Heights Park District, after four days of below-zero weather.

Both skating and hockey rinks at Pioneer and Recreation Parks are open, with warming houses and lights for night skating.

THE BIG SKATING rink at Douglas Avenue and Olive Street is also ready for use, lighted and complete with warming house.

At Hasbrook Park, the district's newest, the rink is ready and lights have been installed, but the warming house has not been constructed yet.

The Greenbrier Subdivision retention basin will be kept plowed for skating as well, but park director Thomas Thornton said there are no lights provided and the water is perhaps a bit deep for good skating. (A

Engineer Optimistic on Weller Retention Basin

The prospects of a federal project in Mount Prospect to build a retention basin for Weller Creek water on industrial land look good, according to William E. Bauer of Bauer and Associates Engineering Co., Chicago.

Bauer is the author of a multi-million dollar project on land owned by Salvatore DiMucci. The idea would encompass scooping out 35 acres of land for the basin.

A concrete cap would be placed over the basin and light industry could be constructed on top. The water collected in the basin could be purified for industrial use.

Bauer and Vinton M. Bacon, head of the Metropolitan Sanitary District, journeyed to Washington, D.C., last week to testify on the project before the House Public Works Committee.

BAUER SAID engineers from the Department of Health, Education and Welfare seemed to be favorably impressed with the idea.

Bauer and Bacon will return in mid-January to continue their testimony.

Bauer said the one thing that might stop the project would be current economy moves that might defeat the proposed appropriation of $20 million for this and similar projects.

Bauer said officials were impressed "because the plan is down to earth and practical. We have an excellent chance of getting some project in our area and this stands as good a chance as any."

BAUER SAID the Chicago area's advanced standing in treatment of sewage and sewer projects could help get the project through because it would furnish research possibilities.

He said that without the present advanced standards it would conceivably end up elsewhere so scientific studies could be more conclusive. (A(M

SANTA EXTENDS himstlf to offer candy to an awe-struck girl who "doesnt know" about sitting on his lap. She did take the peace offering, though. (Staff photo)

Santa Holds Court On North Dunton Ave.

Saint Nick is undeniably a jolly old chap, but a visit to his headquarters in Arlington Heights shows that village kids and tots sometimes just don't know what to think.

His is an imposing uniform, an imposing stature, and an even more imposing white beard which has been known, on occasion, to tickle.

Perhaps any one of these factors, or just the fact that his North Pole home is a long way from Arlington Heights, account for the number of children who do their Christmas wishing "long distance."

There are just as many—even more—who couldn't be happier to find the plump lap, smiling countenance and waiting ear for their Christmas lists; but even these children approach with caution.

THERE IS certainly no need to rush an experience which just might be a bit mystic. Wide eyes generally belie comments of past days that "Santa must be Daddy."

At 10 N. Dunton Santa's bag is filled with candy, and boys and girls must answer the old question, "Have you been good this year?" The answer is seldom "no," and the candy is never put back in the bag.

Toys seem to have spilled from his bag all over the room, as well as some things which might interest mom and dad.

Not that the old charm of Santa Claus isn't enough to bring the "old folks" out in the snow anyway. (A

Hearing Monday On 50-Acre Tract

Two hearings concerning property in Elk Grove Township will be held Monday, Dec. 23, by the Cook County Zoning Board of Appeals.

One is a rescheduled hearing for the rezoning of 50.4 acres from R-4 (single-family residence) for multi-family residences. The site is at the northeast corner of Algonquin Road and Linneman Road in Elk Grove Township, adjacent to the United Airlines General offices.

The largest single petition for apartments yet filed in Elk Grove Township, it is expected to draw opposition from neighboring villages and school districts.

THE EXCHANGE National Bank of Chicago is listed as trustee for the property. Max M. Fleisher is listed as the attorney.

It, and a second petition, will be heard at the Mount Prospect Village Hall beginning at 3 p.m.

The second petition is for the rezoning of one and a half acres on the east side of Elmhurst Road, 330 feet south of Higgins Road, from MI (restricted manufacturing) to 5 (general commercial district).

The proposed use is for used car sales and new and used parts sales. LaSalle National Bank is listed as trustee, and Roy L. Hoard as applicant.

The land is located directly across from the Centex Industrial Park. (A

Store Displays Paintings by Nun

Sister Mary Augustine, S.S.N.D., a teaching nun at Mount Mary College, Milwaukee, has brought another group of her abstract paintings to Arlington Heights for sale through Schneller Furniture Store in Arlington Market.

For more than a year, Joseph Schneller, proprietor of the store, has been displaying Sister Mary's paintings, selling several in that time.

Far from being an amateur at her art, the sister graduated from the Chicago Art Institute with a degree in fine arts. She obtained an advanced degree in art education at the University of Wisconsin.

Since 1956 alone she has exhibited her works in 37 local and regional shows including three solo shows and participation in a group show in New York.

DURING THAT same period she has sold more than 80 pictures, some to public and private collections including Brust and Brust, Architects, and Jacobson Interiors.

Sister Mary teaches a full range of art classes at Mount Mary College, from beginning to advanced, and devotes spare time to abstract interpretation of a wide range of subjects.

Her associations in the fields of art and education include Wisconsin Painters and Sculptors, Wisconsin Art Teachers Association, Delta Phi Delta (national honor art), and Pi Lambda Theta (national women in education).

The sister explains her artistic production as a fascination with the color and design of all things around her.

MANAGEMENT

YOU KNOW AND TRUST

The men who founded and, as directors, govern the policies of this Association are respected members of the northwest suburban communities in which they live. Since we are a Federally chartered and therefore mutual institution, they have no vested interests in the Association, nothing to gain beyond having their names related to a well established and highly regarded institution.

Their reputations, the respect of their neighbors, are bound up with this Association; hence their pride in its steady growth and the esteem it has earned in the financial world.

It makes sense to place your savings with management you know and trust.

VIRGINIA TERRACE

Three Terrace college students have arrived home for the Christmas holidays. Jean Guderley, daughter of the William Guderleys, 1228 N. Yale, and Ann Schmitt, daughter of the Albert Schmitts, 1321 N. Illinois, both students at Northern Illinois University in DeKalb, arrived home Friday and will return for classes on Jan. 2. Marcia Cech, daughter of the Ed Cechs, came home Dec. 13 from Western Illinois University in Macomb. She will return for classes on Jan. 7.

A neighborohod Christmas dinner party was given by Fred and Valerie Good, 1310 N. Illinois, Monday evening. Attending were the Bob Murphys, Woody Sorensens, Jack Kenneys and the Bob Crawfords.

The Terrace welcomes Larry and Jane Lincoln and their daughters, Cindy, 2, and Linda, 5 months, who moved to 1322 N. Illinois from Chicago on Nov. 16. Larry is the manager of the Embassy Motor Hotel in Franklin Park.

Weekend guests of LeRoy and Velma Leister, 1440 N. Yale, were Velma's sister and brother-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Aberle of Fairbury. The families celebrated two special occasions over the weekend. Eddie Leister was 10 Dec. 14 and the Aberles celebrated their first wedding anniversary on Dec. 15.

BRENDA CRAWFORD and sons, Bradley, Steven and Kevin, 1309 N. Chicago, returned home Sunday from an extended Thanksgiving vacation in Missouri. Brenda, Bob and the children went to Sikeston, Mo., on Nov. 27, where they vacationed with Brenda's parents, the J. A. Lopps. They also visited Bob's parents. On Dec. 1, the Crawfords attended the 50th wedding anniversary of Bob's grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. E. E. Eaton. Bob returned after Thanksgiving.

William Paul, son of Frank and Shirlee Pircher, 1330 N. Illinois, was baptized at St. Thomas of Villanova Catholic Church in Palatine on Sunday by Rev. Francis C. Waldron. Godparents were Andrew and La Rue Reed. The Pirchers hosted a party at their home after the baptism. Attending, in addition to William's sponsors and their two sons, were the John Fairfields of Arlington Heights, Walter Obergs of Park Ridge and William's brothers, Frank, Steve, Mike and John.

Celebrating her ninth birthday on Dec. 15 was Susan Catlin, daughter of the Charles Catlins, 1609 W. Olive. A group of Susan's young friends feted her at an afternoon party. Celebrants included Mary Jo Rozdalovsky, Denise Davis, Margaret Manos, Kris Shuman, Melanie Clarkson and Susan's sister and brother, Virginia and Charles. Sunday evening Susan's grandparents, Mrs. Franklin Catlin of Park Ridge and Mr. and Mrs. LeRoy Wolfe of Chicago, helped her celebrate her special day.

Sunday Ray and Lynne Fedderson and children, Tricia and Jeffrey, 1522 Oakton, attended a Christmas celebration at the home of Ray's mother, Mrs. Nora Fedderson of Chicago. The celebration was held early because Ray's mother is leaving Dec. 23 for a three-week vacation in Florida. Ray attended the Chicago Bears—Detroit Lions football game before the holiday dinner.

A CHRISTMAS coffee was given by Dorothy Kirstein, 1310 Jo Lane, last Wednesday evening. Enjoying the homebaked Christmas cookies and coffee were Helen Martin, Carroll Brahm, Barbara Mayland, Edith Singer, Betty Bloom and Barbara Gustke.

The Terrace bids farewell to Ronald and Joanne Peters and their sons, Jeff and Greg, who moved Dec. 6 from 1110 N. Yale to 2807 Sigwalt in Rolling Meadows.

Attending a hockey game in Chicago was a special birthday treat for Bobby and Jeff Krug, sons of Bob and Darlene Krug, 1212 N. Race. Bobby's 10th birthday is Dec. 19; Jeff was 8 Dec. 16. The boys and their father saw the Black Hawk-Detroit Red Wings hockey game Sunday.

Ray and Vaneta Kellogg and children, Whitney and Jean, 1341 N. Wilke, attended a Christmas get-together at the home of Vaneta's cousin and her husband, the Robert Tipswords in Batavia, on Sunday.

A family celebration was given for Susan McCabe on Dec. 10, her 14th birthday, at the home of her mother, Mrs. Elwood Wilson, 1236 N. Race. Attending were Susan's great-grandmother, Mrs. Adeline Wynn, grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. John Wilmot, aunt and uncle, Louise and George Wilmot, and her brothers, John and Rick.

A surprise birthday party was given for Karen Murphy on Dec. 8. Surprising Karen were her parents, the Julius Modorys, and her brothers and sister, Bob, Arnie and Laura Gulbrandsen, Bob's parents, the William Murphys, all of Kenosha, and Bob's brother and family, the J. P. Murphys of Lombard. A birthday cake and dinner were brought by the guests.

Ray and Lynne Fedderson were dinner guests of Bruce and Margo Wilkinson on Friday night.

ATTENDING a dinner-dance at the River Forest Country Club Saturday night were Ray and Vaneta Kellogg. It was given by Employers Mutual of Wausau for their employes.

Weekend guests of Al and Rosemary Shellander, 1716 W. Olive, were Rosemary's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Walter Jonas of Lake Geneva.

Bob and Karen Murphy, 1314 N. Illinois, attended a cocktail party Dec. 7 at the home of Charles Barber in La Grange Park. The Christmas party was given for Simmons employes and their wives. (A

Eastwood Events

Danny Mosby's "close to Christmas" birthday could be lost in the pre-holiday hub-bub, but luckily for Danny it received all the fanfare of another time of the year celebration. On Monday for his sixth anniversary he played host at luncheon to several other kindergartners and neighborhood pals. Illness prevented Tommy Lee Schaefersman from attending, but Robbie Donges, Robbie Koss, Mark and Peter Cormier and Timmy Farrell were all there for the fun. Danny's little sister, Beth, also enjoyed the party. They are the children of Mr. and Mrs. Gordon Mosby, 720 N. Hickory Ave.

The godparents of Bruce McBride, Kathy and Doug Morrissey, came from Lombard for his 5th birthday party on Dec. 10. Mrs. Ann Morrissey from Eastwood, was there, too, to extend her greetings.

BRUCE'S big sister, Cassandra, who is 13, had the honor of being selected "Junior Leader of the Month" for the YMCA. Working to become a junior leader, Cassandra has been helping in the girls' gym at the "Y" and every Saturday morning at 7:45 has been teaching handicapped children to swim. The senior Bruce McBrides of Brighton Place are Bruce and Cassandra's parents.

Teri Lee Nielsen of Brighton Place also has a December birthday. On the 9th she was eight years old and she invited several of her second grade classmates for dinner. Kim Kenyon, Carol Luker, Margaret Kanouse and Kathy Zember joined Teri for the festivities at the Homer Nielsen residence.

WHEN MRS. Juanita Scheffner of N. Dryden Avenue left Florida on Sunday it was 88 degrees, and what a letdown it was to step off the plane into our zero and snow weather! Mrs. Scheffner had been visiting for one week with her sister and family, the P. T. Bridensteins in Miami. Her short stay was crowded with activities—visiting and shopping, and attending the University of Miami Symphony benefit concert, and seeing Henry Morgan in "The King of Hearts." Mrs. Scheffner was accompanied to Florida by her mother, Mrs. S. E. Storme of Marion, Ill., who will spend the winter in Miami.

The William Wood family of N. Dryden Avenue is anticipating the Christmas visit on Dec. 23 of Mr. Wood's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Wood, from Neenah, Wis. The junior Woods had spent the Thanksgiving holiday in Neenah, and turn about being fair play, the senior Woods are coming here so that the Wood children can be in their own home for Santa's visit.

HAPPY BIRTHDAY greetings are extended to Terry Bart of N. Dryden Avenue, who observed his 13th on Dec. 10. Terry's brothers and sister, who are a party in themselves, and his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Bart, marked the day with a family dinner celebration.

Notes from Arlington Acres

Marie Marshall CLearbrook 5-2936

Santa Claus and his pack of goodies arrived Saturday, as scheduled, at the annual Christmas party given by the Arlington Acres Civic Association for the members' children. Close to 100 small fry were present to see a Christmas movie and to receive gifts, and later to feast on soft drinks and cookies.

Congratulations on the success of the party go to Mrs. Don Slusser and her "righthand," Mrs. John Donovan, as well as Mrs. Al Zmrzly, Mrs. Lauren Hulse, Mrs. James Finley, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Jenko, Boyd Briscoe and Jim Evanger. Also to the mothers who furnished homemade cookies and to Ray Fritz for the special part he played.

Arlington Acres is happy to welcome Mr. and Mrs. James Massey who recently moved from Baltimore to 509 S. Gibbons. Mr. Massey is with the Royal Globe Insurance Company.

A HOLIDAY cookie exchange, which has become a tradition with a group of neighbors, was held Wednesday evening at the home of Mrs. Arvid Alvin, 513 S. Phelps. Participating in the exchange were Mesdames D. W. McCammon, Craig Thompson, Robert Post, John Whetstine, Emil Straub, Duke Kruse and Robert Swaim. Each guest brought her own specialty to be shared and in exchange took home her share of the cookies baked by other guests. The evening was topped off with a grab bag and dessert and coffee furnished by the hostess.

Kenneth Alvin's third birthday Dec. 12 was celebrated at a family dinner that evening at which his grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Walter Alvin of Des Plaines were guests. Dessert was served later in the evening when the party was joined by the birthday boy's aunt, uncle and cousins, the Jack Schulers of Arlington Heights.

Mrs. Ron Brown, 432 S. Phelps, was hostess at the Birthday Club party for Mrs. Leo Smolinski, 2105 E. Grove, Thursday evening. Among the guests were 12 other club members.

Janice May's Dec. 13 birthday was celebrated Friday evening at Old Orchard Country Club. Janice and her pin-mate, Arne Eglie of Fairlawn, N. J., with another couple, had dinner and attended a performance of "The Four Poster." Later in the evening they joined Jan's parents, Al and Elsie for a special toast at the Christmas dance given by the Hawthorn Woods Women's Club at Old Orchard. The Mays live at 509 S. Prindle.

WHEN MARK Longrie left for kindergarten at Kensington School Thursday, he took a box of candy with him to be shared with his classmates in honor of his fifth birthday.

His family celebrated the event at dinner that evening. Helping make the festive meal one to remember were his parents, the Lyle Longries, sister, Marcia, and brother, Keith, 429 S. Forrest.

Mr. and Mrs. Allen Wolkey, 409 S. Prindle, celebrated their 12th wedding anniversary Monday. They shared their happiness in the day with a group of long time friends with whom they dined out.

Penny Scharf, 528 S. Prindle, was guest of honor Saturday at a party given by a friend in Mount Prospect to celebrate her Dec. 15 birthday. Twenty friends gathered to wish Penny many happy returns of the day.

A speedy convalescence is wished for Mrs. S. L. Johnson, 512 S. Prindle, who is home after minor surgery in a Chicago hospital. (A

10 two-bedroom units and the remainder one-bedroom. The ratio of one- to two-bedroom units presently recommended by the village is 1:2.

Schneller pointed out that the proposed site for the building is far removed from any residential area, and "there is no other location in this area with as many advantages for high-rise."

HE ALSO noted that the present assessed valuation on the property including building is $47,294, and that approximate value of the new building would be $2 million.

Charles Catlin observed that parking as planned in two floors beneath the building did not seem to be enough, but he added that this was just a "quick observation."

Underground parking would provide for 95 cars without an attendant and double that amount if an attendant were provided, according to Schneller.

Use of railroad parks for store parking and in computation of requirements was also mentioned, but there was no hint of a decision.

SCHNELLER said that favorable comment from village officials was enough to allow him to pursue negotiations on purchase of the land, but that such a sale would have to be conditioned on approval of the project.

He said he would not be alone in financing the project, but would attempt to obtain local financial participation based on the board's reaction.

Woods and Harold Carlson, chairman of the plan commission, both assured Schneller the village would begin immediately in consideration of unique problems surrounding the project.

"We will cooperate in every way possible in expediting the resolution of the matter," Woods concluded.

RIDGE

The combined chorale groups of the fifth grade sections of Ridge School will present a program of Christmas music Thursday, Dec. 19, at 7:30 p.m. in the Multi-Purpose Room. The group will be directed by Mrs. Marjorie Carroll. This program is being held as the regular PTA meeting.

The Ridge area children have reacted eagerly to the announcement of the PTA-sponsored movie, "Merry Andrew" according to committee members. The movie, starring Danny Kaye, will be shown at three showings Jan. 11.

Mrs. George F. Maybee, president of the PTA, has announced that there will be no monthly meeting in January.

Name Neighborhood Park for Albert F. Volz

Only Living One Of Original Board

The newest of several neighborhood parks in Arlington Heights, still under construction at St. James Street and Kennicott Avenue, has been named for Albert F. Volz, 92, a member of the village's first park Board of Commissioners.

The resolution passed by the present park board establishing the name "Albert F. Volz Park" recognized Volz as "one of the founding fathers of the Arlington Heights Park District" who "gave unstintingly of his energy, time and ability in the affairs of the Arlington Heights Park District for many years."

But Volz was not just active in the park district.

HIS FATHER, Christian Volz, was a member of the first village Board of Trustees after its incorporation as Arlington Heights in 1887.

Albert Volz was also a member of the village board for several years and served two terms as mayor—one in 1907 and another in 1913.

During his service as mayor the first water works was put through.

Volz was also a member of the village's original fire department, beginning in 1894, and is the only living member of that original group.

HE SERVED in the Illinois Legislature and was active in seeing that the village got a high school when the state district system was set up.

Not the least among his other contributions to the village was the work with William Busse of Mount Prospect to promote the establishment of Northwest Highway—still the main thoroughfare through the village.

He was a partner in the Peter and Volz Foundry, established in 1901, manufacturing iron parts for school and opera seats. In 1923 the company name was changed to Arlington Seating Co., with Volz still at the head.

He turned from manufacture of iron parts to woodworking for the seats and only retired from leadership of the firm in 1943.

THERE ARE now four parks in the village named after members of the original park board. Of these, Volz is the only member alive today.

The others for which parks have been named posthumously are Eugene N. Berbecker, N. Moore Banta and Henry C. Klehm. Another original member, J. D Flentie, has not yet been honored with a park name.

T hepark named for Volz has now been graded and seeded, border trees have been planted and work has started on a ball diamond.

According to Thomas Thornton, director of parks and recreation, the five-acre site will be ready for use this coming spring.

HE ADDED that tennis courts are planned for some time in the future but not for next year.

Harnischfeger to Sell Diesel Plant

MILWAUKEE, (UPI)—Harnischfeger Corp. said today it will sell its diesel engine division at Crystal Lake, Ill., and discontinue the manufacture of such engines.

The company said that when its present order backlog has been completed, it will offer the product line and production facilities, including land, plant and equipment, for sale. The 11-year-old plant has 142,000 square feet of floor space located on 80 acres.

Negotiations are under way with several interested parties, the company said.

The company said it is relocating as many qualified employes as possible, either by transferring them to other locations or placing them with other firms, as operations are reduced at Crystal Lake.

The company said it is directing its efforts to other products which offer a better sales, profit and growth potential. (BB

Pre-Holiday Socials Overwhelm Friday the 13th Jinx

Last week's Friday-the-13th jinx was totally and happily overwhelmed by pre-holiday sociability, and was ignored by almost everyone but members of the Anti-Superstition Society. At this time of the year it takes more than a jinx, even coupled with the season's first deep freeze, to slow the happy-frantic pace that traditionally catches up with everyone.

Among the "jollies" of Friday the 13th was a surprise bridal shower for Miss Pamela Warfield, who will be married tomorrow evening in St. Simon's Episcopal Church to Patrick Buick of Mount Prospect. Fifteen friends and members of the groom's family greeted the bride-elect as she arrived at the Palatine home of Patrick's aunt, Mrs. Donald Buick, not at all prepared for her role as guest of honor.

And since that's the way "victims" of surprise parties ought to be, everyone felt that the would-be unlucky date did a commendable job of reversing itself.

Carol Spomer was still only 13 Friday evening when 13 of her 14 party guests and a big black cat bedded down for the night at 222 S. Walnut. The young hostess turned 14 Monday and although her slumber party was not intended nor planned as a birthday celebration, somebody let the cat out of the bag and the king-sized kitty, a stuffed one, was among Carol's "unbirthday" gifts. For the life of 'em, nobody could find anything unlucky about the whole Friday shebang, which was non-stop fun from beginning to end.

SUSAN AND Larry Keller had the good luck Friday to begin a long holiday vacation, arriving home from DeKalb where both are students in Northern Illinois University. With the rest of the family waiting at 512 W. South to welcome the scholars was their grandfather, S. H. Gibson of Elkhart, Ind., here for a visit through the holiday season.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Baker, 19 N. Pine, were in Detroit Sunday, watching with pride the mid-year graduation ceremony at Wayne State University where their daughter, Karen, received her bachelor's degree in the fine arts. Double congratulations were due the diploma-bearer; she was graduated on her birthday. Karen will remain in Detroit where she plans to pursue her career and make her home.

The Peter Eriksen family, 5 W. Orchard, weekended in Columbus, Ohio, where they enjoyed an early Christmas celebration with Mrs. Eriksen's parents, the Boyd Hills.

Carol Condon is expected home at 314 W. Fairview tomorrow for a 2-week vacation from the books at the University of Wisconsin.

KENT AND Kerry Kurtz arrive today for a holiday vacation with the ones waiting for them at 805 S. Mitchell. Among "the ones" is Miss Patricia O'Hara of Streator, a Southern Illinois co-ed, who came here from Carbondale yesterday to spend the holidays with the Kurtz family.

Kent will be on his first home leave from Fort Leonard Wood where he reported for basic training late in October. Kerry is at Illinois College in Jacksonville. Mom expects to spend most of her sons' vacations in the kitchen, feeding the two.

A surprise birthday party a week ago Sunday honored Mrs. Elizabeth Jarmuth, 412 S. Vail, whose three children and 10 grandchildren were among her well-wishers. Given by her daughter, Mrs. John Gape, in the Gape home, 448 S. Vail, the buffet supper party also included Mrs. Jarmuth's sister and family, the Arnold Behrenses of Des Plaines, and her brother and family, the Robert Wagners of Plainfield.

Another brother, Edward of Bakersfield, Calif., was not able to join the rest of the family here. Mrs. Jarmuth's other children are a daughter, Mrs. Leland Leikam of Prairie View, and a son, Charles, also of 412 S. Vail. Longtime family friends were included in the successfully surprising occasion, making a total of 30 in the "Happy Birthday" chorus.

THE FREEZIN' season and an assortment of minor ills in the William Patterson household, 1011 S. Dunton, prevented the family from taking their customary part Monday night in a Mexican posado, annual holiday fiesta in Chicago's Old Town, which traditionally precedes a Christmas party in the Azteca supper club of the Pattersons' brother-in-law.

Mrs. Patterson was able to attend another "annual" Tuesday night, however, one much closer to home. She was among 20 neighborhood women who regularly meet for an evening of cards and just as regularly ignore the cards during their Christmas season night together. Held this year in the Michael Huck home, 1048 S. Dunton, the no-card party included a grab-bag gift exchange and just plain relaxing for the holiday-rushed housewives.

Mary Schlickman and her Dad, Eugene, shared the honors at a family party a week ago Sunday when uncles and aunts, grandmas and grandpa brought birthday greetings to both. Mary was 7 years old Dec. 11 and her father got a year older, too, Dec. 17. Among their well-wishers were the senior Schlickmans, who came from Rockford for the fun, and Mary's other grandmother, Mrs. Lucy Muraski. Mrs. Muraski, also of Rockford, came here earlier in the month to recuperate from recent surgery and will remain with the family through the holidays.

NEIGHBORS AND friends of the LeRoy Monti family, 1012 N. Highland were sorry to learn of the death Dec. 5 of Monti's father in Long Island, N. Y. The Montis returned early last week from a 5-day stay in the East.

Immediately upon their return home, Mr. and Mrs. Monti welcomed a west coast relative, Pat Viberts of Pasadena, Calif. Viberts, on a business trip to Chicago and points East, is a here-again, gone-again guest but it is hoped he will spend the Christmas holiday with the Montis before returning to California.

Mr. and Mrs. Theodore Bartholby, 1329 W. Park, initiated their holiday social season with a Tom and Jerry party last Friday night. Guests were 22 suburban business friends who happily adopted a superstition that a sub-zero Friday the 13th is a good night for a party.

WORD THIS week from Miss Betty Jo Wishart, former local teacher now on the staff of the Air Force Dependents School in Stephanville, Newfoundland, is that she's sorry it's so cold down here and she's having a fine time, thank you. Her mother, Mrs. William T. Wishart, 1282 S. Highland, isn't worrying about frost-bite, at least not for Betty Jo, since the lowest temperature reading in Newfoundland is about 15 degrees. Above zero, that is.

Miss Wishart taught first grade in Olive School last year, and applied for her present post about a year ago when the Newfoundland superintendent of schools was in Chicago. Her interview was on one of last winter's many 15-below-zero days, and Miss Wishart said later that "the poor man nearly froze" and could hardly wait to get back where it was "warm." Now she's there, too, and earlir home-for-Christmas plans have changed, although not solely because of the weather.

MISS BARBARA Bradle, 606 S. Dryden, entertained at a prenuptial party and miscellaneous bridal shower in honor of Miss Adrienne Olson of Prospect Heights, who will be married Dec. 21 to Charles R. King of Springfield in the Prospect Heights Community Church. Miss Bradle will be a bridesmaid in the wedding party.

Mrs. William Stempl, 530 S. Dryden, and her daughter, Jenilee, recently returned from Beckley, W. Va., where they visited her mother, Mrs. R. L. Reardon.

Mr. and Mrs. Jim Chambers will arrive from Grand Junction, Colo. this week for a visit with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. William M. Chambers, 520 S. Pine.

The Leo Martins, 330 S. Bristol, were hosts at a reception for 40 guests last Sunday, following the christening of their first baby, Andrea Charlotte. The baby was christened in Our Lady of the Wayside church and her godparents were James Clark of Arlington, Mass., and Miss Florence Regep of Chicago.

THE P. W. HENLEYS, 819 E. Park, will welcome her mother, Mrs. Jay Randolph, and brother, Jay, who arrive here this week from Tulsa to stay through the Christmas holidays.

Mr. and Mrs. Peter McQuillon, 760 S. Belmont, entertained at a pre-Christmas dinner party Saturday for 22 guests, all members of Mr. McQuillon's family who live in the area.

Among early arrivals home from college for Christmas vacations with their parents are Miss Linda Hardison a freshman at Wittenberg College. She will come home Thursday to spend the holidays with her parents, the J. Brown Hardisons, 347 Burton.

Mr. and Mrs. Bert Johnson, 415 Grove, were hosts at a cocktail party Dec. 14, given in honor of the Gordon Berlins, who leave next week for their new home in Philadelphia.

Miss Judy Adams, daughter of the Roy Adamses, 615 E. Davis, marked her 13th birthday Friday, Dec. 13. Following Cotillion practice at the Wilson school, she shared a birthday cake with members of her family including her sister and family, the George Zouloks of West Chicago.

Your Stonegate-Scarsdale correspondent wishes to correct an error that appeared in last week's paper regarding Miss Lorette Pedersen. Miss Pedersen received an honor award at an honor convocation at Chicago Teachers College North for the third term, instead of the third year. Miss Pedersen is a sophomore.

MR. AND MRS. Ed O. McKown Jr., 206 S. Gibbons, had as their houseguest during the past week, the latter's mother, Mrs. George W. Fraley of St. Augustine, Fla. Mrs. Fraley left Monday for Seattle where she will visit friends and relatives.

The McKowns will be hosts at a small Christmas party Friday.

Mrs. Edward Wilson and Mrs. W. H. Carns were hostesses at an annual open house and cocktail party Dec. 15 in the Wilson home, 304 S. Wilshire, given for husbands of Kappa Alpha Theta sorority members.

The Wilsons are looking forward to the arrival of their son-in-law and daughter, Capt. and Mrs. Ronald Prater, and their children Beth and Ricky who will arrive Friday from Albuquerque, N. M. to stay through the Christmas holidays.

The Praters will spend part of their stay with his parents, the Carroll Praters of Western Springs.

The Wilsons are planning a family party next Sunday to celebrate young Beth's fourth birthday.

MRS. GALE Oberlin, 201 S. Dryden, took part in the Mount Prospect Sweet Adeline singing group Christmas program last Thursday, given in the Union League Club of Chicago.

Sunday, the Oberlins gave a pre-Christmas farewell dinner party for her sister, Miss Hazel Pratt and aunt, Miss Wanda Pratt of Park Ridge, who are leaving for California this week for a 2-week stay.

Mr. and Mrs. Perry Thomas, 341 S. Stratford, became grandparents of a boy born Dec. 12 to their son and daughter-in-law, the Randall Thomases of Prospect Heights. The baby, named David Randall, is the Thomases' second son and third child.

Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Auer, 202 S. Stratford, gave a family dinner party Dec. 14, to mark the birthday of their daughter, Carol. Carol, who has just learned to ski, was presented with a pair of skis from her parents.

Stonegate college students have begun arriving home for the holidays. Bill Bredehoft, a freshman at Dartmouth, and Miss Joan Wilcox, a freshman at Mills college flew home last weekend.

Arriving home this weekend will be Miss Nan Tully from Milwaukee Downer University, Miss Anne Ewing from Western Illinois University, Ray Strobel from Michigan State and his sister, Judy, from Oklahoma State University, where she is doing intern work as Youth Director of Lutheran students.

THE WILLIAM J. Stulls, 640 S. Belmont, will have as their guests during Christmas week, her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Ulrich of LaCrosse, Wis., and her aunt, Miss Estelle Holway of Madison.

Mr. and Mrs. Louis Neckar, 516 E. Mayfair, were hosts at a dinner party Wednesday for 10 members from his Jefferson Park Prudential Insurance office.

Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Wilcox, 210 S. Brighton, went to New York City for a week of business and pleasure. They attended several plays and while in the East, went to Mountain Lakes, N. J., to visit former Stonegate neighbors, the John Dietzes.

Mr. and Mrs. John Michalson, 343 S. Bristol, entertained at an open house Sunday for friends and neighbors.

Mrs. Michaelson's parents, the M. C. Robinsons, former Evanston residents now living in DuBois, Pa., will arrive in Arlington Heights Monday for a week's visit. (A

New Dance Classes Slated at YMCA

Six new adult ballroom dance classes will begin at Northwest Suburban YMCA Monday, Jan. 6, and Friday, Jan. 10. The classes will be geared to the beginner for basic steps, the intermediate who wants to brush up on the latest Latin dances and the advanced dancer who wants to learn a combination in all dances.

The courses will cover a 7-week period and are open to all single adults and couples, whether 'Y' members or not.

THERE WILL also be classes starting on the same nights for junior high and high school students. Junior Teens (sixth and seventh grades) and Senior Teens (eighth grade and high school) will have their classes Monday evenings, and a Junior Hi Cotillion will be offered Friday evenings for seventh and eighth graders.

Students enrolled in these classes are welcome to attend a teen dance and splash party at the 'Y' the fourth Saturday of each month at no charge. Guests may attend at a nominal fee.

All courses are taught by Grace V. Hansen, director of the dance department of Metropolitan YMCA of Chicago. (B9

Pleasant Thinking

The pleasantest things in the world are pleasant thoughts, and the great art in life is to have as many of them as possible.

C. N. Bovee

By LINDA NORRIS

ONE OF THE BEST known and most admired of all jazz pianists is Earl Hines who organized his first band over 35 years ago. . . . During his career, he has discovered and fostered the careers of many artists and is beloved by his colleagues in a highly competitive and sensitive field. . . . In his first recording for Capitol, Hines is heard in his album dubbed simply "Earl Fatha Hines" doing such numbers as I Ain't Got Nobody, Thou Swell, and his theme song, Deep Forest. . . . Incidentally, that nickname of "Fatha" was willed Hines by a disc jockey.

A leader in the surf-music craze that is sweeping the country, Capitol has put together selections from six of the nation's most popular surfing albums under the appropriate title, Surfing's Greatest Hits. . . . The LP, which follows in the wake of another pick-up that became a hit, Shut Down, offers tracks from Surfin' U.S.A., and Surfin' Safari by the Beach Boys; Surfer's Choice and King of the Surf Guitar by Dick Dale; Sunset Surf and My Son, the Surf Nut, by Jack Marshall who does wacky music and commentary on the surfin' scene.

Dean Elliott is one composer-arranger-conductor who goes in for the unusual. . . . His first Capitol LP, contained sounds of things from cement mixer to crickets and now in his latest, Heartstrings, he comes up with re-echoing strings, a sound produced when the strings play a brief note which is then "echoed" electronically on a diminishing level and in pre-determined tempo. . . . Repertoire includes The Very Thought of You, And the Angels Sing, Song from Moulin Rouge, Over the Rainbow and Ruby among others.

Palatine High Picked as Air Pollution Check Point

Palatine High School on Quentin Road has been selected as one of 15 sites set by the Cook County Air Pollution Control Bureau for air monitoring stations.

Approval of the 15 locations came this week from the U.S. Weather Bureau.

Seymour Simon, president of the County Board, explained the 15 stations are to be located atop school buildings outside of Chicago.

Assembly of the high volume air samplers is now under way by county employees, Simon said. Installation of the equipment will be made during the next six weeks, with all stations to be in operation not later than Feb. 15, he predicted.

Cook County commissioners adopted an air pollution control ordinance on April 30, putting the county into the fight for clean air.

COUNTY officials, headed by Simon, have repeatedly called upon local municipalities in the county to adopt their own air pollution control ordinances. Less than six of the county's 125 incorporated cities and villages have such ordinances at the present time.

Pollution findings at the 15 county stations will be correlated with those of 20 similar stations placed in operation during the past year by Chicago.

The county air pollution ordinance officially affects only 360 square miles of property outside the municipal limits of towns and villages.

"The program will aid all communities, including Chicago, because air pollution knows no geographical boundaries," according to Erwin R. Horwitz, director of the newly-created Air Pollution Control Bureau.

By applying findings of the samplers to incorporated areas, the actual 360 square miles of county unincorporated area would be greatly increased.

Air-borne particles trapped by screens inserted in the samplers will be gathered twice weekly by county employees, then sent to the state health department's laboratory in Chicago for detailed analyses.

The study will assist in the tracking of air poilutants to their sources, according to Vincent A. Rago, chief engineer of The aim of the sampling stathe air pollution control bureau. tions and other efforts under the new air pollution control program is to "provide cleaner air for residents of Cook County," Rago stressed.

The station in Palatine will be similar to the air sampling station established by Chicago at Argonne National Laboratories, Rago explained. The Argonne station provides "clean air" data as a basis for comparison for samples collected at the 20 Chicago air-sampling stations. The county expects to use the data from Palatine, as well as the Argonne sample reports, for their "clean air" basis.

HE NOTED that the samples from Palatine would be "average" for the "clean-air northwest Cook County area."

Violators of the air pollution control program in the unincorporated areas of Cook County are subject to fines up to $500 and jail sentences up to six months for each day on which violations occur.

Inspection and approval of the county's monitoring sites was made during the past week by Paul A. Humphrey, weather bureau research meteorologist, sent here from Cincinnati. The sites were strategically chosen to take advantage of various air currents.

Cooperation by Palatine High School officials was cited by Albert J. Mullins, assistant control bureau director. Mullins personally visited and secured permission for the installation.

The sampling devices will be made available for study by science classes, Mullins explained.

Three county sampling sites are in the north-northwest county area. Besides Palatine, stations will be located atop East Maine Junior High School, Niles, and Central Elementary School, Wilmette.

Five stations are in the west county area. These are in Franklin Park, River Forest, Hillside, Cicero and Argo. Seven stations are to be established in the southern part of the county—in Orland Park, Blue Island, Midlothian, Harvey, Calumet City, Flossmoor and Chicago Heights.

Rago called the air pollution problems in these areas more serious because of the greater industrial development adjacent to communities of homes.

Test of Friendship

It is one of the severest tests of friendship to tell your friend his faults. So to love a man that you cannot bear to see a stain upon him, and to speak painful truth through loving words, that is friendship.

—Henry Ward Beecher

ALMOST $200,000 in contributions for Northwest Community Hospital are represented by the four men noted with arrows above. From left, Nicholas M. Lattof this week made his third $10,000 contribution on behalf of Lattof Motor Sales. H. F. Bruning last week contributed $50,000 to the present drive. In the original campaign Bruning made the largest single contribution of $75,000. Jack Hughes, executive vice president of Littelfuse, Inc., this week announced the third $10,000 contribution by the firm. Earl K. Riley and his wife this week added a $5,000 personal gift to the hospital fund. The four men were members of the hospital board of trustees six years ago when this picture was taken to mark the awarding of the construction contract for the original building, and all are still hospital trustees.

More Big Gifts Spur Hospital Fund Drive

Special gifts totaling $40,000 were added to the expansion fund of Northwest Community Hospital this week.

The contributions included a $10,000 anonymous gift.

Two gifts of $10,000 marked the "third time around" for the contributors.

Jack Hughes, executive vice president of Littelfuse, Inc., Des Plaines, announced the company's third $10,000 gift to the hospital.

Nicholas M. Lattof, chairman of the hospital expansion fund drive and the original hospital building fund campaign, disclosed a $10,000 donation to the hospital from Lattof Motor Sales. The gift followed two previous $10,000 contributions from the firm.

THE MOUNT Prospect State Bank provided a $5,000 gift to the hospital fund this week.

A similar contribution came from Mr. and Mrs. Earl K. Riley of Arlington Heights.

Lattof praised the contributions from the Rileys and the Mount Prospect State Bank. He particularly noted the donations from Littelfuse, stating, "The hospital is fortunate in having Jack Hughes and Thomas Blake, president of the firm, as residents of the communities served by Northwest Community Hospital.

"Although the company headquarters is in Des Plaines, Hughes lives in Arlington Heights and Blake in Inverness."

"In addition, Jack Hughes serves as vice-chairman of the hospital board of trustees," Lattof added.

'This company's cooperation in the hospital expansion project," Lattof emphasized, "is typical of the extra effort extended by many of our citizens and industries to assure our fast-growing area the kind of hospital care and facilities its citizens require."

More Details Given on High School Proposal

Rearrangement

It is well for people who think to change their minds occasionally in order to keep them clean. For those who do not think, it is best at least to rearrange their prejudices once in awhile.
—Luther Burbank

District 214 Vote Scheduled Feb. 29

More details have been given on the referendum for a high school in Elk Grove Village, two school sites and possibly an addition to the Prospect High School fieldhouse, which is set for Feb. 29.

Maximum cost of the proposed sites — probably in Prospect Heights and in Rolling Meadows — has been set at $650,000.

Probable cost fo the fieldhouse lobby to provide two teaching stations plus a direct outside entrance would be $175,000. Board members of High School District 214 have not yet agreed to include the issue on the referendum ballot, but have slated further discussion on the proposal.

Cost of the 2,500-student school has not yet been set. Estimates range about 10 per cent more than the Wheeling High School, now under construction. The bond issue for the Wheeling school was $4.9 million.

PRELIMINARY costs developed by Berger-Kelley-Unteed and Associates, architects for both the Wheeling and Elk Grove High Schools, had school board members doing some fast cutbacks at a special meeting Tuesday.

The architects were told to rework the plans, aim at saving costs, and report back to the board Jan. 8.

Hardest hit in the cut-backs suggested was a 13-room convertible team-teaching area. This will be reduced to about seven rooms, similar in area to that included in the Wheeling High School.

Under the guidance of Hal Armstrong as chairman, basic plans for the new school, location of the sites and tentative referendum date were developed by a 65-member Lay Citizens Committee.

Originally, the school board adopted the recommendations of the committee without change. The cost figures as developed this week will bring some changes in an effort to cut costs.

Tentative discussion by the Lay Citizens Committee had aimed at $5.25 million as the suggested bond issue sum to build and equip the Elk Grove School.

The committee, once final plans have been developed for financing the proposed bond issue, will become a public relations group working to pass the referendum.

The committee has been meeting since October, studying the area growth, building needs, building structures and financial backing for the needed new construction. Armstrong of 920 Tower Dr., Mount Prospect, was named permanent chairman at the second meeting of the group.

The proposed Elk Grove High School will be located on a site now owned by the school district at Arlington Heights Road and Elk Grove Boulevard. The school will be built to accommodate 2,500 students — the standard used by District 214 in previous schools. Tentative opening date is September, 1966.

HAL ARMSTRONG

THE ROLLING Meadows site is a parcel of 42 acres on Central Road. The location is across from the new Sacred Heart of Mary Catholic Girls' High School opened last fall. Negotiations for purchase are now under way.

Condemnation proceedings have been filed on a 38.25 acre site on Willow Road in Prospect Heights. The property, located one quarter mile east of Buffalo Grove Road, is now in two sections under separate ownership.

Suggested plans for the referendum almost included a proposal for swimming pools at the new high school as well as the other four schools in District 214. The citizens committee, with a majority vote of only two, turned down the proposal. This would have put swimming pools into Arlington, Prospect, Forest View and Wheeling, as well as Elk Grove High Schools, at an estimated cost of $350,000 for each pool.

Another long discussion by the citizens committee covered the proposal to make a larger auditorium in the proposed Elk Grove building. The other four high schools in District 214 have Little Theatre facilities which seat 500 persons. It had been proposed that the district needed one meeting place of larger size. The committee finally decided that a 500-seat theatre was sufficient and to increase the size would be desirable but not necessary.

The referendum will mark the first time District 214 will ask citizens to approve a new high school before the last school approved is open. The new Wheeling High School is not slated to open until September, 1964.

The same situation will be repeated in the future, however. According to enrollment projects developed by the citizens committee the district will need a new 2,500 high school almost every two years. Rapid increases in assessed valuation within the district will prevent the tax rate from climbing much higher, school officials hope.

The high school district now has 7,372 students enrolled. This is expected to rise to 8,301 next year and 9,426 in 1965-66. The projected enrollment for 1966-67 would be 10,910—almost 1,000 students above the capacity of the present four 2,500-student schools. It is this enrollment which would be first met with the proposed Elk Grove High School.

Advises Using 5-Cent Stamp on Yule Cards

"People sending Christmas cards today at the five-cent first class rate pay the same to mail Christmas greetings as Americans did well over a century ago," commented Mrs. Virginia F. Dodge, Arlington Heights postmaster.

In 1847 the Post Office Department issued its first stamps, including a nickel stamp for the basic prepaid letter rate, she said.

"Since 1932," the postal executive observed, "while living costs for the American family have skyrocketed considerably more than 100 per cent, the cost of mailing a first class letter has only increased by two cents or two-thirds of what it was in 1932."

THE POSTMASTER'S comments were made in connection with a recommendation to use the first class five-cent Christmas stamp on Christmas cards. The stamp portrays the national Christmas tree.

The five-cent rate permits forwarding or return of the letter where necessary, Mrs. Dodge said, and allows the use of a handwritten message on the card. It also provides speedier handling and faster delivery, particularly for cards going out-of-town.

The modern custom of sending greeting cards can be traced to the Chinese who celebrated the event of the New Year with messages of good will.

The first known published Christmas card appeared in London, in 1843. It was designed by John Calcott Horsley, a British painter and illustrator of the period. In 1846, one thousand copies were lithographed, hand-colored and sold by an art shop.

"IT IS surprising how similar this first card more than a century ago was to many today. Small panels to the left and right show the charitable acts of 'clothing the poor' and 'feeding the hungry,' always connected with the Christmas season," Mrs. Dodge commented.

According to the postmaster, the date of the first American Christmas card is not known, but an American authority on greeting cards, Ernest Dudley Chase of Boston, found what he believed to be the first.

"Authorities say there can be no question but that his discovery, a card which extends 'A Merry Christmas and a Happy New Year' from 'Pease's Great Variety Store' is a very early card. Mr. Chase believes it to be the earliest known American card," Mrs. Dodge said.

Sending cards can be a pleasure with a little preparation, having a good mailing list, mailing promptly and including the ZIP Code on every card, she added. (A

Says CMA Working On Reorganization

PHOENIX, ARIZ., (UPI) — Consumers Mart of America (CMA) is to present a plan of reorganization in federal bankruptcy court at Phoenix next month.

A spokesman said the company and a committee of creditors are currently working on the plan.

The chain discount merchandising organization petitioned the court in October for reorganization. The company operated stores in Arizona, California, Florida and Chicago. Its main office is at Phoenix.

Since the court action was initiated, CMA has, with court approval, cut loose from its Florida operation, which it said was its biggest loser. The question of what should be done with the California outlets is under advisement.

Under the petition for reorganization, the company listed assets of $6.8 million and liabilities of $7.5 million. The court approved the formation of the creditors committee to work with company officers in reorganizing. That plan is to be submitted no later than Jan. 10, and a spokesman said that it probably would be presented on the deadline date. (BB

Dry Cleaners Told to Improve

MILWAUKEE, (UPI)—Dry cleaners will be run out of business by constant improvements in cleaning methods unless they learn to offer new services and improve their own methods, the executive director of the Chicago Dry Cleaners Association said.

Ben Rosenfield spoke to delegates of the Wisconsin-Upper Michigan Dry Cleaning Institute. He said ways must be found not only to clean garments but to restore qualities to them which have been lost through wear. (BB

Forest View News

The Christmas tree has been put up at Forest View Grade School and each class is taking a turn at decorating it.

On Friday, Dec. 20, the children will have their individual Christmas parties in each room. The room mothers are expected to help out. Each class has its own fun program planned.

Residents are reminded of the Christmas play at Dempster Jr. High on Dec. 18 and 19. The band will entertain during the intermissions.

School will let out on Friday, Dec. 20, for the Christmas vacation period and will start again on Jan. 6, 1964.

Happy birthday wishes this week go to Bernice Ayres, Eleanor Hanke, Eugene Kertz, Jeanine Kijak and Warren Schlatter.

MR. AND Mrs. Don Larson of W. Algonquin Road spent Friday at the Home Builders Show at McCormick Place, after which they had dinner at Delmonico's. On Sunday they were among the guests at an open house party at the Ralph Heiden home in Barrington. Also on Sunday, Mr. Larson and Larry were cheering at the Bear's game while Mrs. Larson and Jim attended a coffee hour for Upper Iowa University at the Morrison Hotel. Meanwhile Scoop went to the Loop Theatre to see Walt Disney's "Incredible Journey," with Giorgio Bonnazza.

On Monday, Loraine Gorgius of S. Busse Road was hostess to her aunt and uncle, Mr. and Mrs. D. Wilhelm of Sand Lake, for lunch. On Thursday she entertained her cousin, Mrs. Stewart Avildsen of Chicago who visited for the day.

Sincere condolences go to Mrs. Bernard Olson of 1924 Elk Grove Road on the death of her father. The funeral was held in Wisconsin Rapids, Wisc., on Dec. 10.

LAKE BRIARWOOD

Lake Briarwood Home Owners Association recently completed the forming of the various committees for the coming year welcoming, sick and visitation—Irene Lawrence is chairlady; social—Ralph Baumgardt and Jean Loeschen; athletic—Joe Engel; maintenance and grounds—Gordon Dunker and Roy Jorgenson; safety and sanitation—Henry Riemer and Bob Bender; publicity and history—Norm Peterson and Stan Adamson; and finance—to be managed jointly by the members of the board.

Mr. and Mrs. John Loeschen, 2901 Briarwood Drive, are entertaining John's parents, Mr. and Mrs. John L. Loeschen of Sarasota, Fla., for the holidays.

On Sunday, Mr. and Mrs. Roger Bardwell, 2829 Briarwood Drive, spent the evening at a dinner party given by Mr. and Mrs. Ludwig Bodewski of Glenview.

COLONIAL HEIGHTS

Mr. and Mrs. Carl Baardson, 1714 Estates Drive, entertained the Joseph Howver family on Sunday. The children enjoyed the day of shopping, eating and seeing the displays at Randhurst.

On Saturday, Mr. and Mrs. Warren Schlatter and Ronnie of 1702 Robbie Lane enjoyed the evening visiting and talking over old times with a former grade school friend of Jeanette and her family, the Gerhard Korengs of Chicago. Sunday they celebrated Warren's birthday with a dinner for Warren's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Emil Schlatter of Chicago, and his brother and family, the Herb Schlatters.

Mr. and Mrs. Jack Hill and their daughters were happy to have unexpected guests for the weekend. They were Jack's parents, Mr. and Mrs. D. Hill from Chicago.

A get well message goes to Audrey Anderson. Perry Anderson took his children, Kathy, Johnny and Robbie, to Arlington Heights to visit his sister, Mrs. John Carl for her birthday. Later in the day the children had a special treat in helping to trim their aunt's Christmas tree.

Saturday evening Mr. and Mrs. Gil Kenning entertained the Ed Speek family of Niles at dinner.

THE JIM Kingsboroughs will have an especially nice holiday this year. Jerry's mother, Mrs. Muriel Woolford of St. Joseph, Mo., will be with them.

Sunday afternoon Mr. and Mrs. George Menard took Gene, Penny to Philip to Haeger Pottery to look and shop. In the evening they went to Chicago with Gene to visit their daughter and grandsons, Mrs. James Young and Joey and Danny.

Call this reporter any evening with any news items for this column.

Bob Hanke returned from a 10-day hunting trip on the farm home of his friend, Bill Brunner in Medford, Wis. Bob brought an eight-point deer home with him as a result of his trip. (AME

Arlington Greens

The December games of the Greens round robin bridge group were completed last week and hosted by Mr. and Mrs. Robert Williams, the George Robys, Lester Olivers, Gary Waffles, John Mundells, Dick Sims and the William Lebsocks. High scores to date are held by the Gary Waffles, 10,440; George Robys, 9,810; and the Lester Olivers, 9,750.

The annual Christmas dance, sponsored by the Arlington Greens Community Association held the social spot for 62 Greens couples and their guests Saturday evening. Christmas decorations added a festive touch to the VFW Hall on Northwest Highway and music for dancing was provided by Peter Petten's orchestra. Mr. and Mrs. Fred Damiano of N. Pine Court hosted a cocktail party before the dance for 30 friends and neighbors.

Also hosting a gathering before the dance were the Ron Lundells of N. Hickory. Their guests included the Jerry Kluballs, Mark Jenkins, John Van Diggelens and the Robert Blaines of Prospect Heights.

GUESTS OF the A. J. Tomasos on E. Clarendon were the Ben Lockharts, Dick Sims, Pat Dannas, Don Helblings, Bill Lebsocks, Bob Brights and the William Buehlers.

Mr. and Mrs. William Smits hosted a dinner party in their N. Douglas home before the dance and guests of Mr. and Mrs. Jim Holtz of N. Beverly Lane before the dance were Mr. and Mrs. Jim Otis and the John Gerfens.

A group of their friends and neighbors were guests of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Bright in their N. Douglas home for an early breakfast afterwards.

Taking home prizes were the William Daletskis and the Ron Lundells.

The Ben Zaborowski family of N. Hickory were guests at the 75th Jubilee celebration of St. Hedwig Catholic Church in Chicago on Dec. 8. About 600 attended the affair which began with a Pontifical Mass celebrated by Bishop Aloysius J. Wycislo, Auxiliary Bishop of Chicago, with a dinner afterward in the school hall. Highlight of the day for the Zaborowskis was being presented to Bishop Wycislo. They were guests of Rev. Joseph Zaborowski, pastor of the parish.

Allison Brown of N. Dryden celebrated her seventh birthday on Tuesday of last week at an after-school party for John Bishop, Monica Linke, Lindsey Mesmer, Laura Pettenuzzo, Susie Waffle, Pamela Fall and sister, Dianne, who helped host the party. Mr. and Mrs. Walt Brown joined the Don Andersons for a weekend at Starved Rock Lodge.

ANOTHER birthday celebrant early in December was 9-year-old Sandy Jahnke of N. Belmont Ave. Fourteen classmates and neighborhood friends attended her Saturday afternoon party.

Also celebrating her ninth birthday was Marilyn Rateike of N. Pine Court. Attending her dinner party on Dec. 4 were grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Schalk, Grandma Rateike and an aunt, Mrs. Stanley Potempa of Chicago.

A family party observed the birthday for 2-year-old Carol Bengal in her N. Haddow Court home. The weekend of Dec. 8 the family motored to Jackson, Mich. to visit her great-aunt and uncle, Mr. and Mrs. Leo Bettendorf.

Still another birthday celebrant was 4-year-old Daryl Ann Reed of N. Hickory. Guests at her Sunday afternoon party included Steve Wylcyinski, Scott Evans, Eileen and R. J. Hoffman and David Rees. A dinner party later in the day observed the occasion for Daryl and sister, Laura, celebrating her 13th. Grandmother Mrs. C. J. Petrillo, Great-Grandmother Hink of Des Plaines and weekend houseguest, Janet Lunkos, joined the family for the occasion. (A

Open House

St. John's chapter of the Naim Conference will hold an open house Friday, Dec. 27, at 8:30 p.m. in the Knights of Columbus Hall, 760 Pearson St., Des Plaines. All widowed members of the Roman Catholic church are invited.

The Rev. Timothy A. Sullivan, M.A., S.T.L., spiritual director of Naim Conference, will speak on "The Psychology of the State of Widowhood." A social hour will follow the meeting.

St. John's chapter, second largest of the 26 in Naim Conference, was organized about four years ago. Its members include residents of Elk Grove Village, Mount Prospect, Prospect Heights, Arlington Heights, Buffalo Grove and surrounding unincorporated areas. (ACM

2 Nike Bases Now Manned by Guard

Four Nike Hercules missile sites formerly manned by active Army Air Defense personnel of the 45th Air Defense Artillery Brigade are in the process of being transferred to Ilinois Army National Guard units.

Sites at Lombard and Homewood already have been converted, and those at Lamont and Northfield are slated to change in the spring.

IN THE CHANGE-OVER, Illinois guardsmen have assumed full responsibility for keeping the equipment in readiness 24 hours a day. A cadre of technicians on full-time duty can retaliate effectively in case of air attack. Remaining members of the unit are citizens who attend regular drill and who would report immediately to their respective Nike site in case of attack.

The same training as that required for active Army Nike missile crews is required to prepare a National Guard unit. For new missile units nearly a year of intensified training takes place. The full-time personnel attend school at the Army Air Defense Center, Ft. Bliss, Tex., and all personnel train with the active Army air defense crews at the sites which the guardsmen ultimately take over.

The National Guard units, although an integral part of the air defense system when they become operational on site, retain their identify as state units under command of the governor of the state.

IN AN EMERGENCY requiring use of these units for combat, operational command would be exercised by the commander-in-chief, North American Air Defense Command, through the commanding general, USARADCOM.

When the National Guard units accepted their on-site Nike mission, they passed from a historic role of augmentation forces to one of full partnership with regular units to meet an initial attack in the event of war, according to Col. James P. Strauss, commander of the 45th Artillery Brigade in Arlington Heights and the Chicago-Gary defense complex.

Air Guard Wing Passes Inspection

The 126th Air Refueling Wing of the Illinois Air National Guard recently passed its first operational readiness inspection with an "outstanding" report.

The wing includes the 126th Air Refueling Group commanded by Lt. Col. Warren E. Bristow of Hoffman Estates.

The inspection by the Tactical Air Command checked out the unit's ability to perform its assigned mission under potential stresses of a national emergency. The inspection team was headed by Col. Marion F. Caruthers from 12th Air Force Headquarters.

THE FACT that the unit's tankers hit the required four rendezvous areas on the dot and the quality control procedures used in fuel handling came in for special accolade.

Of technicians and supervisors assigned to maintenance the inspectors said "each section was performing in an outstanding manner." Condition and appearance of the assigned KC-97 aircraft was "excellent." The airborn communications navigation branch was one of the "highest observed in Air National Guard units inspected."

Guardsmen of the 126th, based at O'Hare Field, drill one weekend a month for which they get regular military pay and earn retirement points.

In Marianas

Daniel R. Salmen, yeoman seaman apprentice, USN, son of Mr. and Mrs. Daniel Salmen of 706 E. Olive St., Arlington Heights, is serving with the staff of Commander Naval Forces, Marianas, Marianas Islands.

Liquor Licenses Become A Sensitive Village Issue

It looks as though sooner or later Long Grove village trustees are going to have to decide where to draw the line when it comes to handing out liquor licenses. The question, called "a sticky one" by one board member, will probably require much airing of opinion and debate.

Mrs. Marie Nehrbass, who applied for a "limited" license at the November meeting, repeated her request before trustees at the Dec. 9 session. "Limited" in her case would mean no bar service; that liquor could only be served with meals at her Crossroads Exchange shop. Eying her neighbor, The Village Tavern, Marie Nehrbass argues that it ought to be a free country and what's right for one ought to be allowed another.

However, the board, which seems to be equally divided on the subject of the Nehrbass license, realizes the pleas for more and more of them could easily become an endless chain of headaches.

AT PRESENT Long Grove's liquor and zoning ordinances provide for one full license, such as held by The Village Tavern. A special type permit, applying only to country clubs, has been issued to Indian Hills and Long Grove Country Club.

Before the Nehrbass request for a license is granted, trustees must pass a new amendment to the village liquor ordinance and to the zoning ordinance. This requires that Commissioner Harold Wilder and members of the plan commission take it up for consideration and bring the issue before the people at a public hearing.

At Thursday's session trustees asked Counsel Murray Conzelman to draw up an ordinance stipulating Mrs. Nehrbass's request. Said ordinance will be read and discussed at the January meeting. No vote will be taken until possibly in February. In the meantime board members are anxious to know how the average Long Grove resident feels.

At the meeting Nicholas Nickl was reappointed to the plan commission and Boyd Anderson was appointed to fill a vacancy on the zoning board of appeals.

Its countryside carpeted with a crust-hardened layer of snow, its antique shops festooned in their holiday colors and Kildeer's outdoor tree daily coming to light at dusk, Long Grove slips into the mood of Christmas. Whether it's at a Willowbrook Woods skating spree, a Mardan Woods bridge get-together or Mrs. Chris Jenkins' kitchen where last Friday she and children, David and Leanna, kere trying out a new cookie recipe, the Yuletide spirit prevades.

IF KILDEER pupils linger longer than usual over their lunches in the school's all-purpose room it's because of the unusual ornaments hangin g from the ceiling. The cooks, Mrs. Veronica Kurschner and Mrs. Alberta Merle, blew up balloons, laced them over with a string filigree, starched and dried them, then broke the balloons. The result is a holiday atmosphere of festive glitter.

As usual, the tree in the hall abounds with handmade ornaments, fashioned by upper graders.

Santa will visit the kindergarten and the classrooms of the lower five grades on Dec. 20 with candy filled stockings.

The annual program on Wednesday featured a presentation, "Christmas in Mexico," with first, second and third graders taking part. Director was Mrs. Robert Hill; Robert Stebbins was in charge of music. Assisting Mibs Hill were Mrs. David McCartney, Mrs. Virginia Weston, Mrs. Lynn Wieland and Miss Judith Behm, instructors.

Long Grove Church invites all to join in its observance of Christmas. The most loved tradition is the Christmas Eve service, at which the pageant, written by Harold Turner, will be included in the worship, with songs by the church school children, the junior and adult choir anthems and congregational singing. Harold will be organist and choirmaster for the two services, at 6:30 and 8 p.m. A sitter service, provided by the evening circle, will be available. The traditional Christmas Day Communion service will not be held.

THE Alfred Benevides' home on Aptakisic Road is the first in the area to have a lighted tree in the window, the family having set it in their front window soon after the first of the month. The Tony Bergs seem to be the first ones to have their holiday cards mailed. Mailman Ed Deeke's helper agai n throughout the rush is George Masson. Home from Carleton, he was added to the route Dec. 12.

Forty women of the community, each one attending one of the guild circles, are helping make it a cheerier holiday for someone else. Meeting Dec. 11 at Mrs. Jay Neubauer's home, Mrs. Ed Wachs' morning group packed gifts and made up a basket for a local needy family. Mrs. Malcolm Shroyer's afternoon group, meeting at the home of Mrs. Robert Loudon Sr., filled 30 stockings for Kenwood Ellis Church and sent many gifts. Mrs. Fred Dahlberg's circle made tray favors and wrapped gifts for 16 patients at the Maple Hill Home while gathering Dec. 9 at Mrs. Milton Wingquist's.

The Malcolm Shroyers left Long Grove last Thursday, not to return until the robins come back. Heading for Colorado Springs, they will stop at the home of their daughter, Mary Ann, and their son-in-law, the Donald Shearns. The Shearns and Shroyers will go on to spend Christmas in Santa Fe, N.M., with Alice and family, the Charles Proctors.

Meanwhile Mrs. Anne Avelas is overseeing everything here at the Shroyers', still re-living her recent week's vacation in Puerto Rico with her daughter and family, the Ralph Maxies, who live 45 miles out of San Juan. He is stationed with the navy. Her Waukegan relatives will be dropping in on Mrs. Avelas during the holidays.

HOME ON a thirty-day leave is Corp. David Anstrand who hopped from an O'Hare plane last Wednesday after being based for 15 months at Okinawa. "It hardly seems possible that his four-year term of service is nearly over," says Barbara. David will report to El Toro, Calif., to complete his last six-month stretch. While home the family is hearing of his five-month stay at Viet Nam and his visits to Japan and Hong Kong. Sunday dinner guest of the Anstrands was Dr. Armin Haeussler.

Having lunch with Mrs. Alfred Williams was one of the treats Mrs. Doris Dombrow and Mrs. Charles Buck enjoyed while on a seven-day holiday in New York City. Both Al and Jean seem to be working hard, according to the visitors, with the expectation that possibly Al's parents may join them in the city for Christmas. Ann Buck's mother, Mrs. Albert Tippens of Winnetka, also shared the trip. They saw "Oliver," "She Loves Me" and "How to Suceed in Business Without Really Trying." In Greenwich, Conn., they visited Ann's brother, seeing him perform in one of the community's barbershop quartette programs.

Among holiday gatherings coming up is the coffee Mrs. Don Davison will host Dec. 23.

Friday night's bridge group at the Clifford Marxes included the Charles Anstrands, James Websters and the William Hoebels.

THE MARXES look forward to having their daughter and family, the Harry Stuttses of Washington, D.C. here for a 10-day Christmas holiday. For their son-in-law it will be a breather from duties as aeronautical engineer and a teacher of college freshman math at the University of Virginia's extension school in Washington.

Mrs. William Mason has had to give up some of her social and organizational responsibilities since being employed at The Gingerbread House.

Mrs. Ruth Robinson and son, Gene, have moved from the Umbdenstock house to make their home with Mrs. Dorothy Becker of Cuba Road.

Though now and then the Donald Armstrongs' daughter Kristy, 4, thinks of Clyde, her St. Bernard pet back home near London, she isn't letting his absence mar her holiday delights. She and her mother, Mrs. George Armstrong are dividing their time among the Don Armstrongs, Kristy's maternal grandparents, the Herman Pitkats of Des Plaines, and relatives and friends. Soon the Armstrongs' son, George, will be able to join them from his duties as European representative for United Air Lines for the tail end of the holidays.

THE WALTER Gosswillers' nephew, Eugene Ralph, en route from a business trip to Boston, stopped here to visit while on the way to his home in San Gabriel, Calif. His trip, made in connection with his responsibilities as chemical engineer in the space program, was timed so that he could meet his parents, the Lloyd Ralphs, who had driven here from Mineral Point, Wis., to visit the Gosswillers.

The Gosswillers received word that former Long Grove residents, the Ed McDonalds of Kincaid, Kan., demolished their car in an accident, but remarkably escaped with minor injuries.

When Ed Mahle's brother, Jim and wife, visited here last weekend, the talk centered around the India dinner the visitors had attended last year at the University of Minnesota. Most avid listener was Colette who is gathering Indian menus and ideas in preparation for the Women's Guild Festival of India in January. Colette and Betty Coffin are co-chairmen of the event.

The Lynn Frenches flew here recently from Denver to visit his parents, then went on to Green Bay to spend some time with her parents, the Kenneth Newburys. Also a houseguest last week at the Frenches was Douglas Sargent, one time Kildeer pupil now at Harvard.

The Rush Williamsons are expecting her parents, Lt. Gen. and Mrs. L. E. Woods of Washington, D.C., to spend the holidays.

The Arthur Pottses and the James Towners of Mundelein will gather for Christmas dinner at the Melvin Towners'.

The William Ernstings, Mrs. Leonora Stoerp and the James Mattsons will spend the day with the William Hahnfeldts of Gilmer Road. One time local residents, the Elmer Ernstings of Algonquin Shores were visited last week by the Bill Ernstings.

OUT-OF-TOWN relatives, the Jeffrey Boshes of New York City and Chris Jenkins' aunt, Mrs. Alma Martin, and cousins of River Forest will make it a Yuletide family reunion at the Jenkins'.

Those wishing to share some of their holiday festivities with foreign students of the Chicago area are asked to contact Mrs. Arthur Reimers, NE 4-3316. She will make the arrangements through the Chicago Hospitality Center. The apartment of Nan Riley and her roommate in Evanston is above that of a student who is here from India, he hoping to make the acquaintance of more new friends. He is U. N. Joshi, 1116 Foster St., Evanston.

Along with a depth study of the Bible, members of Long Grove Church's discussion group are discussing Reuel Howe's book, "The Miracle of Dialogue." The group, made up of Mrs. Rush Williamson, Mrs. Fred French, Mrs. Leslie Schauffler, Mrs. Harry Oppegaard, Mrs. Franklin Bivins, Mrs. Anton Berg and Mrs. H. V. Mailland, meets Thursday mornings. New members are welcome.

It has been reported that Kildeer's fourth grade teacher, Mrs. Helen Lakin, much strengthened after her treatment and convalescence, plans to return to her classroom after the holidays to teach a half-day schedule.

A happy birthday on Dec. 24 from his congregation goes to Long Grove's pastor, Al Williams. Our wishes bridge the miles to New York City for a joyous holiday and a satisfying, rewarding New Year for Al and Jean.

From this reporter comes wishes for a Merry Christmas and a Happy New Year. (WP

Trendel Gets Permit To Hook Up to Sewer

Almost 1½ years after seeing a sanitary sewer line laid to his property, E. L. Trendel has a "clear track" for issuance of a permit to allow him to finally use the line.

Not only has the line been laid to Trendel's Cedar Glen subdivision on Algonquin Road just south of Forest View High School, but Trendel paid a $14,000 share of the total $47,000 cost of the line.

The permit was approved at the meeting of the Sanitary District trustees Dec. 12. Walter S. Baltis, trustee of the Metropolitan Sanitary District, noted that the engineering department had recommended the application for a sanitary sewer permit be approved.

The approval was contingent upon the creation of a detention basin or similar facilities in the subdivision so that the storm-water drainage into Weller Creek would not be increased.

Final step before issuance of the permit is approval of building plans by Arlington Heights.

LAST WEEK the school board of High School District 214 approved a joint plan with Trendel. Under the plan the deep swale around the Forest View High School site, just north of the Cedar Glen subdivision, would act as a partial detention basin. A 30-inch outlet sewer where the high school storm-water drainage spills onto the Trendel property will be installed by Trendel without charge.

The ditch at the south boundary of the school, which lies on Trendel's property, will be widened an additional 23 feet at the top for its entire 515 foot length. A supplemental swale will also be constructed to assure that the water on the high school property would never rise above 113.5 feet. This is the lowest elevation on the high school property.

The gymnasium floor, the lowest portion of the buildings, is at a level of 115 feet.

THE SANITARY District with Baltis leading the action, has blocked all sanitary sewer permits to the Weller Creek area for about 1½ years. Previously the district insisted that the Weller Creek Drainage District had to solve the over-all problem of storm-water run-off.

The proposed Weller Creek Drainage District plan would cost an estimated $1.2 million and would be financed by special assessment based on valuation of property. This plan appears to be some time away before complete compliance by all of the property owners in the approximate 1,500 acres reach agreement.

As a stop-gap measure, Trendel and his engineer, Roger J. Patzer, recently proposed to a group of 12 owners of the large parcels of property in the area that a $40,000 combination drainage tile and overflow ground swale be constructed. This interim plan would have served 888 acres of the total 1,500 Weller Creek Drainage District area. The 12 owners controlled about 450 acres.

This was an attempt by the subdividers to get action on the drainage problem in order to get sanitary sewer connection permits.

NOW THE Sanitary District has agreed that individual subdividers may provide detention basin facilities on their own property. If the Sanitary District engineers approve such detention basin plans, it is probable the trustees would approve the sanitary sewer connection permits, Baltis indicated this week.

Trendel had filed a mandamus action to force the sanitary district to issue a sanitary sewer permit. The case was closed last month, with the court refusing to issue the order.

The detention basin facilities, as now proposed, would permit only 60 per cent of the normal flow of water found on the unimproved property, Patzer said. Baltis noted that the Sanitary District only wanted to be sure that the natural water flow would not be increased — the usual result of building and paving.

Says Weller Creek Worst Flood Area

"Weller Creek is the most dangerous flood area in all of Cook County."

These were the words used last week by Walter S. Baltis, trustee of the Metropolitan Sanitary District.

Another comment by Baltis regarding the flooding at Weller Creek was, "A rain anything near the rain we had in 1957 would be simply chaos! There are 100,000 people involved there and they just can't help themselves!"

Baltis said it would be four to five years before Weller Creek would be fully improved, "even at a fast clip." He believed it might take much longer.

The proposed series of detention basins in the Weller Creek Drainage District would remain until Weller Creek is fully improved, Baltis stressed.

HE ALSO emphasized that improvement of flow in Weller Creek could be accomplished by removing the four to five "bad obstacles" which bottle up or choke down the flow of water in the creek. This would be more important than actually working on the stream bed itself, Baltis added.

Typical of the obstacles to which Baltis referred was the bridge at Golf Road. This bridge, and similar bridges, choke down the water flow, he said, causing a backup and flooding.

Booming Interest in Dogs Reported

THE MOURNFUL ONE—"Ehlers Little Jo-Jo," a pure-bred Bassett Hound owned by Mr. and Mrs. Ellsworth Ehlers, 13 N. Lancaster Road, Mount Prospect, casts a wary, mournful eye at staff photographer Tom Grieger, while Mrs. Ehlers keeps a steady hand on the leash. Dogs and their accessories, including "His 'N' Her Doggy Cologne Sets," have become big business in recent years. (Staff Photo).

Staff Writer

The most popular dog in the northwest suburbs is either the miniature poodle or the "Heinz" dog.

Authorities in veterinary medicine and pet shops made this pronouncement. The "Heinz" dog is more generally referred to as "mixed breed." In days of yore before the big boom in the puppy business, the "mixed breed" was known as a "Heinz" dog because of the many varieties found in each animal.

But a mutt is no longer a mutt. He is given a definite species name, such as "mixed-breed poodle," of "mixed-breed cocker," which means simply the most obvious strain of the many mixes in the dog is that of the poodle or cocker spaniel family.

Dog pounds across the nation give these dogs to people who will provide the necessary rabies shots, collar, and tags, as well as a good home.

BUT, IN PET shops, "mixed-breed poodles" are sold for $7.50 plus tags, collar, shots, etc. At Van Oaks Inc., a "Self-Service Pet Shop" at the Mount Prospect Plaza shopping center, "mixed-breed cockers" are sold for $10 each as pups.

Dave Blaue, a representative of that pet shop, said the so-called mixed breeds are the most popular because of price. He said he feels the miniature poodle is the most popular of the pedigreed animals, with German shepherds and beagles running close seconds.

But, the big money in the pet business does not lie in the initial purchase of the pet, nor, apparently, in the food end of the business.

The big mark up items seem to be "accessories," such as "His 'N' Her" doggy cologne sets; rubber beef roasts that look, smell and taste — to a dog — like the real thing.

And in like-real rubber hydrants, and roast chicken, carrots, which aren't going too well just yet, doggy coats and sweaters and booties and beds, and a host of other things.

One woman, who is known for her miniature poodles, has gone so far as to have a "doggy seat" put in the car. This seat is like a baby's car seat except there are no holes for the legs.

Gene Ederer, a representative of Ark Pets, 110 S. State St., Arlington Heights, "The Department Store for Pets," said the big boom in the pet business has come within the last five years. Or, at the most, the last decade.

Ederer, who stacks the popularity pool in favor of poodles, closely followed by schnausers, chihuahuas and German shepherds, said the largest segment of that store's inventory is accessories for dogs and fish.

BUT, YOU don't have to go to a pet store to buy these toys. Most supermarkets today have a special section of colognes, powders, remedies, pills, dishes, leashes, collars, toys, etc., for dogs, cats and birds, as well as case after case of food.

One pet store said that although food is stocked, the majority of food is sold by the supermarkets.

A quick trip through a supermarket, and in some cases drugstore as well, will show that dog food must be big business.

Not too many years ago dog food manufacturers had singing commercials on radio and television.

Apparently that didn't work too well or the dogs didn't pay close attention. These commercials now are aimed primarily at the younger members of the family, hoping these children will influence the purchase of dog food.

One commercial goes so far as to compare its product with beef stew!

As far as Christmas goes, that time of the year when nothing is too good for a friend, our hairy canine friends also fare well.

Gift-wrapped hydrants and turkeys and chickens, all the rubber kind, are under the tree for fido as well as packages for the rest of the family.

Naturally, dogs are well taken care of in the after life too. At least two cemeteries, stricktly for pets, thrive in this area.

ONE IS KNOWN as Pet Haven and can be found on Devon Road near Itasca, while the other is located at Hillside.

The price for burial of a dog at Hillside is $60, which includes the coffin.

A Mount Prospect veterinarian, Dr. Charles H. Esser, said he has cremated dogs and saved the ashes for the owners. Dr. Esser said he saves the ashes in a glass jar, but said cremation urns are available from many places.

Dr. Esser, and a Palatine veterinarian who asked that his name not be used, agreed that dogs are not treated as lower forms of life.

They said "Instead they are treated with respect and care." Both men agreed that dog-owners will spare no expense that is needed for their pets.

Dr. Esser said concerning price, "Price is not too much of a factor once the prospective pet-owner has seen the dog."

Miniature poodles, currently enjoying great popularity, sell for prices ranging from $75 to $150.

The Palatine veterinarian, a member of the American Veterinary Medical Association, said the poodle is becoming a status symbol.

He also said the greater percentage of the dogs he sees reflect the disposition of their owners. He explained that a mild-tempered man, calm, assured, will have a dog of the same disposition, while a man easy to anger will possibly have a highstrung animal.

CANCER, NEMESIS of the human race, is also the nemesis of the canine world. The occurrence of that disease in dogs is prevalent in the middle-aged and older dogs. The vet also said leukemia, a blood cancer, is very prevalent in dogs.

But, according to the vet, the most common ailment is improper feeding and lack of exercise.

How many dogs are currently residing in the northwest suburbs?

A difficult question since most villages agree that a majority of the dogs in the village are not registered.

Palatine, which issues registration tags on a year that begins on June 1 and ends May 31, issued 436 tags in the 1962-1963 issuance year, while 500 tags have been issued to date with nearly six months to go in this year.

Mount Prospect, claiming to have a secret method of counting dogs, issued 1,353 tags at $3 each from Dec. 1, 1962 to Nov. 30, 1963.

That village feels that although some people may not have their animal registered, "there are very few of them because of the system used."

Arlington Heights, meanwhile, has issued 1,872 tags at $3 each, but feels there are quite a few who "didn't buy a license."

Elk Grove Village issued 261 tags in the preceding 12-months period. However, the tags there are $1 for male doge, $2 for sprayed dogs and $3 for female dogs.

Rolling Meadows follows the $3 fee and has issued 625 tags. Village officials said "there are several who get by without registering."

THEREFORE IT would appear there are a lot of people making a lot of money through "our little doggy friends."

These include everyone, practically, except the dogowner. In addition, dogs are classed under Illinois law as taxable personal property.

Pet food manufacturers expect supermarkets to sell some 500 million dollars worth of pet food before the end of this year.

Broken down, that figure would represent $7 out of every $1,000 spent in the grocery store.

Besides that staggering amount, 150 million dollars will be spent this year on such items as beds, boots, coats, collars, pajamas, ribbons, toys, bones, — plus the vet's bill.

It's a dogs life? So who's complaining? (B9

MY BUDDY—Two and one-half year old Leslie Behm appears sincerely safe and happy as she hugs the neck of Xantos (pronounced San-Toes) von Hohe-Linde, one of her family's three German shepherds. Leslie is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth R. Behm, 202 N. Lincoln Ave., Arlington Heights. This breed of dog enjoys general popularity throughout the northwest suburbs, and runs a close second to the miniature poodles. Staff Photographer Tom Grieger said both dog and daughter were completely cooperative—especially after he had been identified to the dog as a "friend." (Staff Photo).

Let's look at the RECORD(S)

By LINDA NORRIS

BRUCE BELLAND, Glen Larson, Marvin Ingram and Ed Cobb are four young men who always wanted to go to college but never thought it would be as the Four Preps, one of the country's most successful vocal groups. . . . Their college appearances have taken them to almost every state of the union, leaving broken attendance records in their wake. . . . In Songs for a Campus Party on the Capitol label, the Preps offer a slight variation from their usual LP's. . . . In this one, each song they perform has had at least one hit version on the best-seller charts in recent months including Days of Wine and Roses, Till Then, Green, Green, I Love You Because and the original Japanese words to Sukiyaki.

Capitol has run the gamut from Lizzie Miles and Leadbelly through Miles Davis and the Adderleys—in putting together 24 classic and traditional, vocal jazz and blues, mainstream and modern performances by some of the best known performers in the jazz field. . . . The deluxe, two-cover package is being released in conjunction with the publication of the book, "Esquire's World of Jazz."

For more than a decade, Jackie Gleason has appealed to the romantic moods of music lovers throughout the country with his Capitol LP's. . . . In Today's Romantic Hits, which Jackie describes as "music for lovers only," he utilizes the lush sounds of his twin-string orchestra. . .'. Instead of going back to record songs that are standards, Jackie offers a dozen new tunes which he feels are going to be favorites for years to come. . . . Included are Danke Schoen, I Left My Heart in San Francisco, Desafindo, More and the theme from The Unforgiven.

School Caucuses: Are They Good or Bad?

Doctoral Thesis Sheds Some Light

by TOM EDWARDS
Staff Writer

The citizens caucus committee system for selecting candidates for school boards has become fairly entrenched in the northwest suburbs in the last decade.

But not every area school district has a caucus system for nominating candidates, and there are still strong objections to the system, and numerous ramifications of it.

Main objection is that the caucus, and therefore the schools, "might be controlled by a few organizations or a few individuals," according to a 1961 study by Arthur C. Muns in conjunction with his work on his doctor's degree in education at the University of Wisconsin. (The study included 261 school districts, in Cook, DuPage and Lake Counties, with 57 replying that they had caucus systems.)

In other words, "it tends to be undemocratic inasmuch as its members come from the upper income and property holding groups," Muns summarized his analysis of the criticisms.

Further, "board members chosen by caucus procedure tend to feel responsible to those members of the caucus who were most influential in securing their nomination rather than to the general public."

OTHER concerns and reservations of the caucus system cited by Muns are:

—The "calibre and/or representativeness" of the members of the caucus committee may be wanting.

—The procedure might "discourage independent candidates," often resulting only in one candidate for each board position rather than two or more.

But, despite these objections, Muns "highly recommends caucus procedure as an effective means of securing well-qualified board members."

Main reasons favoring it, he said, are:

—Candidates with higher qualifications result.

—Pressure group and politically motivated candidates tend to be eliminated.

—The caucus increases general interest in school affairs.

MUNS concluded that school boards in "non-caucus" school districts "are largely self-perpetuating." Truly independent candidates are secondary in number to those hand-picked by incumbent officials, he said, with a "high percentage" of those independents not being elected.

The objections voiced against the caucus system are actually more prevalent in the non-caucus school districts, it appears from the evidence as lined up by Muns.

However, his contacts were limited to school superintendents, school board presidents and an officer of each caucus.

There seemed to be an inherent tendency for the officials contacted to approve the existing election procedure in their school districts, although Muns recorded more dissatisfaction with election procedures in the non-caucus than the caucus districts.

His observation that "most" candidates nominated by caucus procedures are elected holds fairly true in the northwest suburbs.

BUT THERE is a wide range of success and failure. In Arlington Heights it is a rarity for an independent to crack a caucus slate, it is reported. In Bensenville caucus committees have almost completely failed as far as getting their candidates elected.

In Wheeling, caucus candidates have been elected about 75 per cent of the time. In Prospect Heights, a caucus candidate had never been defeated, and there have been only two independent candidates in about the last seven years.

Non-caucus communities include Elk Grove, Hoffman Estates, and Palatine.

ONE OF THE reasons for instituting the caucus system, it is told, was not only to insure qualified candidates — but to simply insure that there would be enough candidates to fill vacancies on school boards. Turnouts for school elections have been notoriously poor.

Even if the interest were high, and the caucus system did tend to restrict the number of candidates, perhaps it might be argued that a limited number would be better than a possible multiplicity of candidates.

Public "lethargy" may be the main enemy of both the caucus and non-caucus systems. Perhaps the chief merit of the caucus system is that it is a means of combating this lethargy.

But the primary fears concerning the caucus system, that it will be a means by which a few can rule, are evidently rooted in society.

MUNS STATES that one-sixth of the caucus organizations in the three counties were apparently being "controlled" by a few individuals.

But such power cliques would be "difficult to have if everyone took part" in choosing officials, according to Mrs. Caroline Hanks, a founder of the Wheeling caucus.

Both Mrs. Hanks and Mrs. Betty Decker, instrumental in the Prospect Heights caucus, believe that the worth of the system lies in the people themselves.

"It is a very pure system, but only as good as the people that are on the caucus," said Mrs. Decker.

Mrs. Hanks feels that the main defect of the caucus system to date is the "lethargy" of the participants. Besides having to continually prompt organizations to send representatives to the Wheeling-Buffalo Grove Caucus, many indiscriminately send anyone who will volunteer or accept the task, she indicated, no matter how disinterested or partisan they may be.

WHICH GIVES further credence to the possibility of control by a few—through default—at least in caucus systems which draw their representatives from organizations (including all local caucuses).

Glenview, however, is one example of a caucus procedure based on precincts. Caucus delegates are elected from each of 22 geographical areas. (See adjoining story.)

Although it is often admitted that cliques or community "power structures" involving a certain few people occur, many assert that they most likely represent the people who are most interested and active, and therefore most able to choose candidates.

On the other hand, these people are often referred to as "joiners." Some contend that many very able people prefer to be independent of organizational affiliation.

AND THERE is always the questions of whether those in the driver's seat continue to always keep the best interests of the school district at heart, no matter how pure their original motivations.

And do such incumbent power structures tend to quash new growth and hinder progress? That is, do caucus committees tend to become monolithic in thinking, weeding out non-conformity? Muns says there is "some evidence" that the "level of consensus" is higher on caucus than non-caucus school boards.

The principles of democracy are rooted in all the people, and the caucus circumvents this, detractors may argue. Answers may be that practical democracy must take the form of representative government.

ONE DEFENDER of the caucus system likened it to a "board of directors of a big corporation." In rebuttal, it was pointed out that such corporate boards represent the ownership, or the head of the company, rather than all the individuals comprising the firm. Whereas the individuals comprising a school district own it rather than the school district management.

In other words, the caucus committee that operates from the top down might leave itself open to being judged guilty of ascribing to a rule by a few—or even by one, the school superintendent, and actually lapsing into the monarchial form of government that the country's founders attempted to avoid.

But the acid test of the overall merit of the caucus system will probably be: In the opinion of the voters, do better school boards result?

Couple Helps Pay for Deaf Class Equipment

Arlington Heights parents of a hard-of-hearing child attending special classes in the Palatine-Rolling Meadows school district have volunteered to split the bill for eight special hearing units with the district.

The District 15 school board last Wednesday authorized payment of its half of the $2,995 bill for equipment including a large amplifier, microphone for the teacher, and eight J. L. Warren hear ing units, plus installation costs and wiring of the room.

The Bowmans' daughter is attending intermediate classes in District 15's Central School. She had attended the primary classes in Elk Grove Village. Both are under a consolidated special program including 10 school districts in the northwest suburbs.

WENDELL Jones, director of special education for District 15, told the school board the present hearing equipment was "usable but obsolete."

The Bowmans sent the board a letter stating their willingness to pick up half the cost of the equipment so "these deaf children have the opportunity to utilize every scrap of hearing they may have."

They added their hope that "all the deaf children in the program may be given every opportunity to succeed in a hearing world.

The new equipment will not tie the child to the desk since it is portable and can be used at the blackboard. It may also be integrated into a normal classroom situation if desired.

THE OLD units must be hooked into a special desk to function.

Jones explained the normal person hears at 10 decibels or lower while the deaf child hears at 90 decibels, necessitating amplification. The amplification would bring out a sound like "S" in the word "singing," he said.

The district's half of the purchase can be amortized over one to 10 years, according to Jones.

He also presented bids from Norelco Phillips for $3,207.10 and Maico for $2,280, but recommended purchase of the J. L. Warren equipment over the others. (A

Rules on Workers Covered by Pay Law

The prevailing wage law covers employes engaged in the transportation of materials to the public construction job site when such employes spread the material as a part of the construction work, Atty. Gen. William G. Clark has ruled.

The act, Clark advised John E. Cullerton, director of the State Department of Labor, does not cover employes who merely stockpile the transported materials.

The prevailing wage law. Clark's opinion said, defines the laborers, workmen and mechanics who must be paid the prevailing wage for work performed in construction of public works, exclusive of maintenance work. The law, Clark held, covers workmen and mechanics whether they are hired by the contractor or the subcontractor.

Laborers and workmen employed by the contractor, subcontractor or public body transporting materials to the job site would come within the operation of the act, Clark's opinion said, and should be paid the prevailing rate of wages, regardless of whether stockpiling or spreading the material by the employees might be involved. Mexico Student Is Guest of Bruce Jackson

Victor Markos, son of Mr. and Mrs. Victor Markos of Monterey, Mexico, visited recently in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Edward S. Jackson, 645 S. Belmont, Arlington Heights, as guest of their son, Bruce.

The two youths are cadets at St. John's Military Academy in Delafield, Wis. They earned a weekend off campus by maintaining excellence in academic and military achievement for a five-week period.

The visit was Markos' first to Chicago. He said he was most impressed by the night-time view of Chicago from the Prudential Building, by all the Christmas preparations and by the huge stores. (CC

Colleagues Rally to Aid Teacher Burned in Crash

A donation of $500, twice-monthly donations from teacher paychecks, and a benefit all-sports show at the Prospect High School Fieldhouse are the continuing efforts being made by teachers of High School District 214 for David Oswald.

His fellow teachers have come to the aid of Oswald, even though less than 10 of more than 300 teachers in High School District 214 have ever met him.

Oswald was injured seriously in an automobile accident on Labor Day — the day before he was to start to work at Forest View High School. First and second degree burns covered more than 60 per cent of his body.

The Teachers' Association of District 214 held a welcome luncheon for all new teachers at the opening of teacher-working sessions, one week before the official opening of school. At this luncheon Oswald indicated his desire to join the association.

During workshop, he also indicated a desire for hospital and medical insurance coverage. Such insurance does not go into effect, however, until the teacher has been contacted by the representative of the insurance firm—a step which was not taken prior to the accident.

THE BOARD of education has told Oswald he can have his job when he is ready to return.

Hospital reports show that there has been a general improvement in his condition. Skin grafts and recuperation from the burns and injuries mean a long recovery period. Hospital spokesmen say his spirits are improving.

But bills continue to mount.

Oswald has no hospitalization or medical insurance.

He has no salary. By law the school district cannot pay him unless he is providing services or has earned sick-time.

TO HELP meet the expenses, the Teachers' Association voted an outright $500 donation. In addition, each payday teachers at Arlington, Prospect and Forest View High School are being asked to contribute to a continuing Oswald Fund.

A benefit basketball-volleyball sports night is being planned by the teachers for Saturday, Jan. 25. The program will start at 8 p.m. in the Prospect High School fieldhouse.

Included will be a teacher-against-teacher basketball contest, a basketball game between the two best intramural teams in the school district and a girls' volleyball contest.

EXTENSIVE half-time entertainment is now being planned. Among the features announced to date are the Prospect Mellotones (girls' singing ensemble), a corps of baton twirlers and the Cadettes marching unit from Arlington High.

"When a teacher needs help, his fellow teachers come to his aid." This was the comment of Dick Eckert of the teachers' association. Eckert stressed, "This type of action draws and retains good teachers to a school district—it is something that cannot be measured financially, but it builds and keeps high morale among teachers."

Wins Award for Use of Plastics

A national first place award for excellence in the use of molded plastics has just been presented to The Lindsay Co., St. Paul, Minn., the water conditioner manufacturer's local dealer announced.

Kendall Hayes of Lindsay Suburban Softwater Co., Lindsay dealer in Palatine, said the company won the third Bachner Award and a $1,000 cash prize in recognition of its "exceptional and ingenious" use of molded plastics in operating parts and design features of the new Princess water conditioner.

The Crown Princess, a compact unit for home water conditioning, was among more than 150 award entries, largest in the history of the competition, according to Hayes. (BB

Features Everything Homemade

Everything from its red and green stuffed clowns suspended in the yule-trimmed windows to the pumpkin pie and hot chili served at the counter is homemade, according to the new proprietor of Long Grove's Peppermint Stick Ice Cream Parlor.

Mrs. Earl Camp, 70 N. Ela Road, who took over Oct. 1, said the Peppermint Stick will remain open throughout the winter.

She will be aided on weekends by her husband, Earl, and daughter, Charlene, 16. Mrs. Camp's mother, Mrs. Charlotte McQuerry of Arlington Heights, also helps. (BB

HINTS TO HOMEOWNERS

by James Fizzell, Associate Farm Advisor

ALERT HOMEOWNERS DIAL DAILY 392-3060

You will soon be participating in an old American tradition, of obtaining, and decorating a Christmas tree. In years past, Dad and the family went into the woods to select the tree or may have cut the most attractive evergreen from the back wood lot.

Nowadays, the selecting is done from the neighborhood Christmas tree sales lot, but it is still an exciting time for the whole family.

MODERN SALES lots give you a tremendous selection of sizes and types of trees from which to choose.

The time-honored favorites are the short-needled varieties balsam and ıglas fir. If you tend toward . e traditional and like to cover your tree with old-fashioned ornaments, this is the type for you. We like to make popcorn balls and paper ornaments at our home. These seem to fit better on a well-branched dark green balsam or fir. Balsam and Douglas firs are usually cut in the wild and have that delicious Christmas tree fragrance.

If you are looking for something more formal, plantation grown pines should fill the bill. Plantation trees usually have more symmetrical shape and are more fully branched than wild pines. White pine has soft needles 3 to 4 inches long, and tends to be somewhat sparse if not trimmed during growth.

SCOTCH PINE has stiff twisted needles of yellowish green color. It makes a dense tree and is often used as a flocked tree. Scotch pine keeps its needles exceptionally well.

Long-needled red pine makes a dense, coarse tree with a broad base. It needs lots of room and large ornaments.

Whatever type tree you select, be sure it is fresh. With the dry season we have had, the trees will tend to be more dry than usual. In your home the tree will use as much as a quart of water daily or even more. Be sure your Christmas tree stand holds enough water. Check it daily.

St. Viator Jayvees in 54-32 Win

St. Viator's jayvees exploded in the first quarter Saturday morning and rolled past Marian Central of Woodstock, 54-32, for their fifth straight victory.

The Lions held a 22-5 advantage at the end of one period and headed the Hurricanes 32-8 at halftime.

St. Viator hit for 19 field goals and 16 of 24 free throws.

Leading the locals' attack was Mike Hogan with 14 points.

Dick Merkel contributed ten points and Mike Hughes nine for the winners.

St. Viator will host Arlington's jayvees this Saturday morning.

Score by quarters:

St. Viator	22	10	13	9—54
Marian	5	3	5	19—32

Ken Vomacka Paces Falcon Soph Gymnasts

Forest View's soph gymnastics team dropped two meets last weekend in the initial competition of the 1963-64 season.

East Leyden posted a 72-60 victory in the opener, and Proviso East handled the young Falcons, 77½ to 54½.

Ken Vomacka sparkled in both meets with four firsts, a second, third, fourth, fifth, and sixth. He scored in nine of the 12 events.

Vomacka posted his firsts on the high bar, parallel bars, and in tumbling. He ruled the high bar in both meets.

Budget Review Is Ordered by Board

Arlington Heights Village Mgr. L. A. Hanson has been directed to bring to the village board a budget for 1964-65 "at or below this year's tax rate."

Announcement was made in a report to the village board Monday from the finance committee, which also announced that planning for consideration of the budget has been changed.

THE COMMITTEE has asked for a complete draft of the budget by Feb. 1. According to the report, "This will mean that the budget may be reviewed in general before it is examined specifically."

The village's new fiscal year, to which the budget will apply, begins May 1, 1964.

This fiscal year's total figure was $1,518,210 — an increase of $162,000 or 12 per cent over the 1962-63 total. But primarily because of increased assessed valuation in the village over which to spread the tax levy the rate was lowered by the one cent per $100.

VILLAGE government in Arlington Heights acco[illegible] for less than nine per cent [illegible] the total property tax dollar. About 70 per cent of that dollar is used to finance public elementary and high schools.

The total village tax rate, including that to repay general obligation bonds, has fluctuated between 42 and 63 cents per $100 assessed valuation in the past eight years.

The 1963 rate was approximately 51 cents per $100. (AF

Public Notice

NOTICE IS HEREBY GIVEN that the Zoning Board of Appeals of the Village of Palatine, Cook County, Illinois, will hold a public hearing at the request of Winston Park Northwest Corporation to consider granting a variance from Article 5, Section 5.02, R-2 of the Zoning Ordinance of the Village of Palatine known as Ordinance No. 0-46-57, to permit the construction of single-family dwellings on each of the lots of said real estate, which said dwellings would leave a side yard of not less than nine (9) feet notwithstanding the limitations of the said Zoning Ordinance as to the minimum "side yard" required thereunder; provided, however, that no more than twenty (20) per cent of the dwellings constructed on all of said real estate shall have a side yard line of less than ten (10) feet; and provided further, however, that in each case where a side yard line is less than ten (10) feet that there shall be no less than twenty (20) feet between the subject building and the building immediately adjacent to the side of said subject building, on the following legally described properties, to wit:

Lots 1 to 10 inclusive; lots 11 to 30 inclusive, in Block 44 and all of Blocks 43, 45, 46 and 47, in Winston Park Northwest, Unit No. 3, being a subdivision in Section 13, Township 42 North, Range 10 East of The Third Principal Meridian, in Cook County, Illinois, according to Plat thereof recorded in the Recorder's Office of Cook County, Illinois, May 21, 1962 as Document No. 18480176.

This hearing will be held on Thursday, January 9, 1964, at 8:00 P.M. in the Board Room of the Village Hall, 54 South Brockway Street, Palatine, Illinois.

All persons desiring to be heard at that time on the question will be heard.

Public Notice

PUBLIC NOTICE is hereby given that the Planning Commission of the Village of Schaumburg will hold a Public Hearing for the purpose of amending Zoning Ordinance No. 163, being the Zoning Ordinance of the Village of Schaumburg adopted December 5, 1961, at 7:30 P.M. January 22, 1964 at 51 Carver Lane in the Village of Schaumburg.

An Ordinance

AMENDING THE ZONING ORDINANCE OF THE VILLAGE OF SCHAUMBURG

BE IT ORDAINED BY THE PRESIDENT AND BOARD OF TRUSTEES OF THE VILLAGE OF SCHAUMBURG:

SECTION ONE: Ordinance Number 163, being the Zoning Ordinance of the Village of Schaumburg adopted December 5, 1961, as amended, is hereby further amended as hereinafter set forth.

SECTION TWO: Section 2.2-1a of Article XIII "Manufacturing Districts" of said Zoning Ordinance is hereby amended to read as follows:

"a. The entire operation shall be conducted within a building or buildings completely enclosed by walls and roof, except as otherwise permitted in this Section as accessory uses, or in the case of public utility installations customarily located outside of buildings; provided, however, that the Plan Commission of the Village of Schaumburg may approve outside storage of materials as part of a planned manufacturing district when such outside storage is compatible with the proposed development."

SECTION THREE: Section 2.3 of Article XIII "Manufacturing Districts" of said Zoning Ordinance is hereby amended to read as follows:

"2.3 Automobile Parking and Loading Facilities. Automobile parking and loading facilities shall be provided as required or permitted in Article VIII except as otherwise approved by the Plan Commission as part of a planned manufacturing district."

SECTION FOUR: Section 3.3-2 of Article XIII "Manufacturing Districts" of said Zoning Ordinance is hereby amended to read as follows:

"3.3-2 All business, production, servicing, and processing shall take place within completely enclosed buildings unless otherwise specified. Within one hundred and fifty (150) feet of the nearest point of any residential district, all storage shall be in completely enclosed buildings or structures, and storage located elsewhere in this district may be open to the sky, but shall be enclosed by solid wall or fence, including solid doors or gates thereto, at least eight feet high, but in no case lower in height than the enclosed storage; provided, however, that the Plan Commission may recommend and the Board of Trustees may grant such other arrangements for storage as shall not create disturbing influences to the use and occupancy of adjoining and nearby property. However, open off-street parking facilities for the storage of motor vehicles may be unenclosed throughout the district except for such screening of parking and loading facilities as may be required under the provisions of Article VIII, except as otherwise recommended by the Plan Commission and approved by the Board of Trustees."

SECTION FIVE: Section 3.4 of Article XIII "Manufacturing District" of said Zoning Ordinance is hereby amended to read as follows:

"3.4 Automobile Parking and Loading Facilities Automobile parking and loading facilities shall be provided as required or permitted in Article VIII except as otherwise recommended by the Plan Commission and approved by the Board of Trustees."

SECTION SIX: This ordinance shall be in full force and effect from and after its passage, approval and publication in the manner provided by law.

Bob and Carmen Bird are still leading in the monthly bridge marathon with a November score of 11,630; Al and Marilyn Leddy remain in second position with 9,910; and Gordon and Alyce Gee are in third place with 7,640.

Wesley and Pauline Buth, N. Lafayette, took two weeks and traveled to Sarasota, Fla., to visit relatives, with stopovers in Atlanta, Ga., Chattanooga and Cleveland, Tenn., visiting friends. Thanksgiving was spent there with friends.

Stephen Dikun Jr. celebrated his seventh birthday Dec. 7 by having "Breakfast With Santa" at Carson's in Randhurst, doing some shopping and viewing a special Christmas show at the Cinema Theatre with his parents, Stephen Sr. and Joan.

The Dikuns are from the East and make their home at 2215 N. Verde.

Nancy Ann Cleveland, 2120 Verde, having to contend with chicken pox for her fourth birthday, Dec. 8, had a quiet celebration with her parents, Herbert and Janice, sister, Maura Ann, brother, Thomas, and grandparents.

PLANS FOR a party had to be shelved because another birthday girl with chicken pox was Pam Dallstream, 2305 N. Lafayette, who could only celebrate her sixth birthday with parents Bob and Hazel, grandparents Mr. and Mrs. Rex Dallstream of Gages Lake, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Mueller of Burlington, Wis., Mr. and Mrs. Charles Dallstream and cousin, Jeff, also of Gages Lake, and Mrs. Roger Grass of Des Plaines.

Pam's brothers, Bobby and David, also have chicken pox.

Christie Larsen, daughter of Hal and Sue of Plymouth Court, celebrated her first birthday Dec. 12. Sharing in the fun were her grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. R. Weddington of Fort Madison, Ia., and Mrs. Lila Kramer of Park Ridge, and friends, Mr. and Mrs. L. Bartnek of Arlington Heights.

A get acquainted coffee to introduce Phyliss Laufer of Champlain Avenue to neighbors was held Thursday. Hostess to 11 ladies was Lois Frey of 2228 Champlain.

Happy 17th birthday wishes go to Roy Laufer.

AUNT LEA Reidy of San Jose, Calif., helped Kimberly Ann Caruso, 1606 Lexington, celebrate her third birthday Dec. 13, along with Kim's parents, Angelo and Gertrude, and brother, John.

Miss Reidy left for home on Tuesday after a two-week stay.

Dec. 15 Jill Goedert, 2009 Verde, celebrated her third birthday at the Chicago home of her grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. J. Goedert, with her parents, James and Renee, and sisters, Meg and Pam. Several cousins also were on hand for the occasion.

Another youngster with chicken pox at birthday time was Christine Schwartz, who was 6 Dec. 16. Because her brothers, Chuckie and Craig, and sister, Cathy, also had them a family-only celebration was held with their parents, Ralph and Helen.

The beating of a drum by a spirited teenage clown led the parade heralding the coming of Santa Claus to Greenbrier Saturday morning.

Headquarters for Santa was the ranch house next to Greenbrier Park, where all wishes were made known and where Santa presented each youngster with candy.

His visit was arranged by the Greenbrier Civic Association social committee. (A

AN ORDINANCE RENAMING BIESTERFIELD PARKWAY TO JOHN F. KENNEDY BOULEVARD

WHEREAS, John F. Kennedy, past President of the United States was held in deep and affectionate esteem by the people of Elk Grove Village, and

WHEREAS, it is both fitting and proper that the name John F. Kennedy be commemorated for the faithful and devoted service which he rendered to the citizens of the United States and the world,

NOW, THEREFORE, be it ordained by the President and Board of Trustees of the Village of Elk Grove Village, Counties of Cook and DuPage, Illinois:

Section 1. That the name of Biesterfield Parkway is hereby changed to John F. Kennedy Boulevard in pursuance to the authority granted to the village by Section 11-80-19 of Chapter 24 of the Illinois Revised Statutes.

Section 2. That the Street Department of the village is hereby ordered and directed to replace existing signs in accordance with the intent of this ordinance and that the Village Clerk is ordered and directed to record a copy of this ordinance with the Recorder of Deeds and that hereafter all village maps and plans and other official acts shall refer to Biesterfield Parkway as John F. Kennedy Boulevard.

Section 3. That the Village Clerk shall send a certified copy of this ordinance to Mrs. Jacqueline Kennedy, wife of the late President.

Section 4. This ordinance shall be in full force and effect from and after its passage, approval and publication according to law.

Auditions Set For Teen Tour

The Talented Teen Foundation is recruiting youth for its second European tour in the summer of 1964. First auditions will be held Jan. 12 strating at will be held Jan. 12 starting at 2 p.m. in the Village Hall at Itasca.

THE TOUR will go by BOAC from O'Hare Airport direct to London, England, and then by motor coach through Germany, Holland, France, Switzerland, Austria and Italy. The troupe of singers, dancers, musicians and novelty acts will again do concerts in these countries.

Purpose of the tour, according to George Koehnke, foundation president, is to develop understanding and good will between the youth of Europe and the United States through music.

Teens from 15 through 21 years with talent in singing, dancing, musical instruments or other skills and of good personality and character are urged to try out, he said.

THEY WILL pay their own way unless sponsored by some organization in their community. Round-trip cost from Chicago for the 23-day trip is $783, Koehnke said. There will be time for sightseeing and visiting with foreign students. Adults and teachers will act as chaperones.

Audition forms may be obtained by writing Talented Teen Foundation, Itasca. (CC

Five Ways to Save!

1. Set up an auto "depreciation fund" in a special savings account. Figure out the monthly rate of depreciation on your auto—and put that amount into a savings account for your next auto purchase. Pay cash — and save the financing costs.
2. Encourage the whole family to save by letting each family member have his own savings account.
3. When you get a raise, save it. You got along without it before and, given time, even a small weekly increase will mount up surprisingly in your savings account.
4. Save with a purpose — such as owning your own home or sending your children to college.
5. When your doctor orders you to quit smoking or cut down on coffee breaks, keep the amount you save—to add to savings.

Chi-Mars Top Cage Division

In last week's action two league leaders were dropped out of the top position in the Arlington Heights Park District Sportsman's basketball league.

The Scooters dethroned Arlington Lanes in a tight battle, 56-53. Rolly Kuebler was high scorer for the night with 23 points. Glen Elms led the Scooters' attack with 19 counters followed by teammate Holt with 15.

Chi-Mars, idle during the first week of play, romped over the Jokers, 54-32, to take the league lead.

Falcons Crush Niles Matmen In Soph Meet

Maury Levy's sophomore wrestlers of Forest View High School had too much strength for Niles West last week with the young Falcons wrapping up an impressive 40-13 win.

Forest View picked up five pins, one decision, a tie, and two forfeits in the Triumph. Fastest fall was recorded by John Brennan at 133 pounds with a clincher in 1:24.

Other pins were registered by Dave Knudson (95), Bruce Barcel (120), Ray Roths (154) and Al Gildemeister (heavyweight). Mike Severns won at 145, and Brian Lampert gained a 5 - 5 deadlock at 165.

Forest View gained forfeit wins at 112 and 180. (SP

Leaders Tumble At Wheeling

Last week was a rough week on leaders in the Wheeling Park District Adult basketball league. The league leading J.C.'s lost their first game to last place Illinois Lock by a score of 50 to 42, and then regained first place with a win over the Air Force, 62 to 43. Anderson's defeated the McDonald Drive-In team 73 to 59 while the Newshawks finally broke into the win column with a 49 to 42 win over Illinois Lock. In other action Henry's Drive-In toppled Martin Metals 48 to 41.

Schedule changes for the coming week will see the J.C.'s play Anderson's and Henry's Drive-In play Illinois Lock on Friday. Other schedule changes have Andersons playing the Air Force on Monday Dec. 30 at 7:15 p.m.

Three Teams Record 3rd League Wins

Three teams recorded their third consecutive victories in last week's Arlington Heights Park District Wednesday night men's volleyball league.

Able Electric rolled over the Brewers 38-21, while the Old MMen put on a second half rally to defeat the 45th Artillery Brigade, 35-20.

The Greens got their third victory by romping over the Waterman Pops 42-18.

The Rockets posted their first win of the season with a 33-25 triumph over the Netters.

The number one contest in this week's action will feature the Old Men against the Greens.

Arlington Volleyball Race Tight

Three teams maintained their unbeaten records in the Arlington Heights Park District men's volleyball league last Thursday.

The Colts romped over the Air Force Raiders 58-11, while the Spikers handed the Old Pros their first loss 20-7.

The Strats had tougher going with the J Boys as the two fought to an 11-11 deadlock at half time. The second half was just as close with the Strats winning, 25-22.

Tonight's game will probably prove to be the most important contest of the first round as the Spikers and Colts meet.

Falcons' Soph Tankers Fall

Elgin Larkin's sophomore swimmers nipped Forest View last week, 30-29, in a meet that consisted of only seven events.

No competition was held in the 150 yard freestyle, 100 individual medley, diving, or 300 freestyle.

Individual winners for the Falcons were Bill Maruda in the 50 freestyle, Bob Glaser in the 50 butterfly, Mike Nolan in the 100 freestyle, and Bob Hughes in the 50 breaststroke.

Forest View won the 200 freestyle relay event with a team of Maruda, C. Brown, Keith Brown, and Nolan.

Prospect's Jayvees in Easy Win

It was strictly no contest between the Prospect and Proviso West jayvee basketball teams Friday.

Prospect raced to a 23-3 first quarter lead, and won the game 63-31. The score was 49-11 at the end of three quarters, before Coach Warren Collier put in everyone but the manager.

Scoring for Prospect were 12 men. Greg Melzer, with 12 points, and Jim LaRocco, with 10, were the only two in double figures.

The win was the third for Warren Collier's Knights.

Sinclair Five Gains Fourth Win

Arlington Park Sinclair picked up their fourth straight win of the season to remain in first place in the Arlington Heights Park District Classic basketball league.

Arlington Park Sinclair got their offense rolling this week as they buried Pure Oil 102-40. Charlie Caughlin led the Sinclair group with 30 points.

Pro Sport stayed right behind the leaders as they battled to a 67-61 win over the tough Charles Klehm's Nursery team.

Jonland Places in Stehman Ice Derby

Gary Jonland placed second in the 440 yard event and third in the 220 yard event at the Stehman Ice Derby in Oak Park Saturday to come home top point winner for the Mount Prospect Club.

Jonland ranks second in the six high point winners in indoor events in the Midget Boys division in the State so far this season, and looks like a good bet for an invitation to the Nationals Indoor championships in March. Tom Tangney captured two fourth place awards in the Midget Boys events, and was Mount Prospect's only other point winner.

Races were held on a 16 lap track at the Ridgeland Common Ice Rink Saturday night. Zero temperatures, brittle ice and a narrow track made for spill filled contests in all divisions.

Finals qualifiers Bob Grady, Jim Zuckermandel and Laura Lawlor were eliminated by falls on the tricky course. In other finals Juvenile Girl Mary Beth Griffin managed a fifth place after an uncertain start.

The Mount Prospect racers will travel to the University of Illinois rink at Champaign next Saturday for the Amateur Skating Association Fund Meet. Racing will be on a 12 lap track indoor. The meet is open to all comers and will attract many of the finest skaters from the midwest.

Ricker Names 2 Policemen, Commissioner in Libel Suit

Two Wheeling policemen and a police commissioner are being sued for a maximum of $200,000 for libel by Richard Ricker of Wheeling.

Ricker, a former reserve police officer, asserts that a report involving him by Police Sgt. Howie Koeppen was wrongfully circulated publicly to the damage and detriment of his reputation.

He charges Police Chief M. O. Horcher and Lloyd Kelm of the Police and Fire Commission with responsibility for circulating copies of the report.

THE POLICE report relates that Ricker was found conducting himself improperly with a woman in a public place, according to the discussion at the Dec. 9 village board meeting.

Ricker also asserts the report itself is improper. His suit was filed Nov. 29.

The matter was the reported subject of an executive session of the village board held early in 1963.

About that time Ricker was suing the three members of the police and fire commission for slander. He asserted he had been erroneously and maliciously accused of being dishonorably discharged from the armed forces. He finally settled for a public retraction from the commission.

HOWEVER, he and Edwin Wahlquist, former police reserve captain, still have pending another suit dating from about a year ago in which they are seeking reinstatement in the reserves charging also that the police and fire commission did not have jurisdiction over the reserves.

At the Dec. 9 board meeting, Police Magistrate Ted Scanlon said he thought the board was giving a poor public image by asking the village attorney how much it would cost before authorizing him to proceed with the defense of the three being sued.

Scanlon's comments followed a statement by Trustee Ralph Neubauer about the previous suit in which Kelm had elected to hire his own attorney rather than accept the services of the village attorney.

TRUSTEE Edwin Smith and Neubauer whipped back at Scanlon that it is entirely a proper and usual procedure for the board to ascertain costs before authorizing an expenditure.

Must Cut Cost of Proposed School

A "first look" by architects on proposed plans and projected costs of the Elk Grove High School had school board members of High School District 214 doing a "double take" Tuesday night.

The "first look" will be given a long, hard "second look" on Jan. 8 — after some changes are made to lower costs.

The Lay Citizens Committee, which has spent three months studying projected plans for the fifth high school in District 214, had voted to recommend a building which would cost about $5.25 million. This would be less than a 10 per cent increase over the $4.9 million which voters approved for Wheeling High School, slated to open this fall.

DISCUSSION at the school board meeting Tuesday indicated projected costs would be substantially above the figure recommended by the citizens committee. Board members asked Scott Kelley of Berger-Kelley-Unteed and Associates, architects for both the Wheeling and Elk Grove High Schools, to redesign building plans, eliminating some of the features originally planned.

One of the areas affected the most was the 13-room convertible team teaching section. School board members agreed to cut this in half.

Board members did set $650,000 as the maximum amount to be asked from voters for purchase of two sites for future school expansion. No locations were specified, but the school district now is in the process of acquiring two sites.

A parcel of 38.25 acres on Willow Road, one-fourth mile east of Buffalo Grove Road, in Prospect Heights is now under condemnation.

A SECOND school site, consisting of 42 acres, is under negotiation. The parcel is located on Central Road in Rolling Meadows. The proposed school site is across from the new Sacred Heart of Mary High School which opened last fall.

The Elk Grove school will be located at an already purchased site at Elk Grove Boulevard and Arlington Heights Road.

A proposal to include a lobby for the Prospect High School Fieldhouse was not settled by the school board. Further discussion of the $175,000 addition will be scheduled at an early meeting.

The referendum for the fifth high school is slated for Leap Year Day, Feb. 29. This was the recommendation of the Lay Citizens Committee.

THE SCHOOL is to be large enough for 2,500 students — the standard used by District 214 at previous schools. Tentative opening date of the Elk Grove High School is September, 1966.

Actual recommendations for the building, sites, financing and referendum came from the Lay Citizens Committee. The 65-member group has been meeting since October studying area growth, building needs, building structures and financing.

The school board accepted the recommendations of the committee without change, but higher anticipated building costs developed Tuesday will bring some revisions to cut expenses.

Once final plans for the Elk Grove High School are developed, the citizens committee will become a public relations group working to pass the referendum.

Reported Statement Irks Buffalo Grove

Objections were made this week in Buffalo Grove to a reported statement by the president of the Tall Trees Homeowners Association during a public hearing of the Glenview Zoning Board of Appeals.

According to the Glenview Announcements, F. Gregory Opelka said a proposed automobile sales and service agency on Waukegan Road in Glenview would attract "greasy spoon restaurants" and undesirable people, including "Buffalo Grovers and some from Meadowdale."

Opelka is a real estate appraiser and vice president of Fairfield Savings and Loan Association as well as president of the homeowners group.

A SIZEABLE portion of Buffalo Grove's population is made up of school teachers, one resident commented.

Village President William Farrington was reported to have registered extreme irritation when informed of the statement.

Jon Symon, a marketing consultant for King's Terrace subdivision in Buffalo Grove and a resident of Glenview, said the statement "is completely irresponsible . . . Buffalo Grove is a thriving little community of honest people." (BG

Buffalo Grove Homes

Richard and Carol Whetstone find themselves the logical family hosts this holiday season, with the fragrance of fir and turkey added to that of a brand new house, at 643 Hickory Drive.

They came here in October from Niles. The third Whetstone is 18-month-old Danny. Richard is a mechanic for Tom Edwards Chevrolet in Elmhurst. The couple's hobby requires absolute togetherness, since it entails his whizzing along on the family motorcycle with her hanging on behind.

The big Christmas Eve party for at least 18 is for the Des Plaines Whetstones and the Park Ridge Koegles, her family.

Rusty Ball is pleased to report that two of the Balls' favorite people, her parents, the Pat Breens, came some weeks ago to 254 Forest Place for the beginning of the holiday season. They will stay through July for the arrival of their new grandchild, before returning home to Shreveport, La.

ALSO DOING the family entertaining this Christmas are the Balmes, at 400 St. Mary's Pkwy. With the elder generation of both families in other states, as in many cases, the local relatives are just Maureen's brother, Neil O'Brian and his family. Glenview friends, the James Bredens will be here, too, for the full day of presents and dinner.

The relieved report from the Venetianer household, 106 Glendale, is that Ed is back from his stay in Lutheran General Hospital. The operation was Dec. 3, his return home, Dec. 11.

The Barten home at 289 Glendale is, ". . . having trouble getting ready for Santa Claus," according to Ruth Barten. Christmas fixings for five children must be squeezed in this year between preparations for the opening of her's and Edgar's new bakery in the area about the first of the year. This is their second venture into batter and frosting, having sold their former Chicago shop some years ago. Edgar is the first of his family to choose the profession, having been an electrician formerly. He trained his wife in professional icing after their marriage, and this will be her sweet responsibility again.

In lieu of convenient grandmas, two local ladies took charge of a friend's children at new baby time.

Larlene Luebke, 280 Melinda Lane, says her pre-schoolers, Ronald, 4½, and Tom, 2½, were in good hands at Sue Jacobsen's when Michael arrived.

LORINE KORTUS, 428 Navajo Trail, had a reassured hospital stay with Constance Lynn with Helen Burbey's 'round the clock hostessing of Norman and Vivian, 8, and Debbie, 6, the first week of December.

"We've lost two whole people," is Carol Bruns' eyebrow-raising remark about the 1200 Club's progress. She refer to the 300 pounds the combined membership of the diet club has dropped since its inception last spring. Members were just a mite reckless Tuesday evening with a chicken salad and jello menu at the Christmas party in her home, 390 Diane. She adds the non-profit, purposeful club can always use new members, and volunteers her telephone number, LE 7-5509.

On the face of it, a three-week vacation in November doesn't seem too encouraging, but Don and Marilyn Smith, 226 Navajo Trail, had a fine one. On the worthy side, much inside painting was done, for a bright holiday season. Then they and Jack and Linda O'Grady, 425 St. Mary's Pkwy. went to the Wagon Wheel in Rockton. Horseback riding, indoor pool swimming, bowling, dancing and excellent food provided the fullest possible schedule.

Sunday's gathering at the Clif Burmeisters, 2 Mohawk Court, was in solemn tribute to the second birthday of Debra Rae. There were 16 of the family and friends for a buffet supper.

DEBRA'S MOTHER, Marilyn is one of the few to include a mouth-watering, complex gingerbread house in the holiday decorations. It was her present at the Christmas party Monday of her sorority, Beta Sigma Phi. This was the last of a year's gifts and cards from her unknown "Beta Buddy." Beginning every year, the national sorority's tradition is that the various chapters hold drawings, with the "sisters" sending small gifts and cards at appropriate times of the year, unsigned, to whomever they "draw."

Robert and Mickey Adams, 602 Maple, join fellow employes of his father, Maynard Adams, this Monday evening, at the Christmas open house for his two shoe stores, The Country Cobblers in Glenview and Old Orchard. The expected bang-up affair, they say, is in his home in Carriage Hill, Glenview.

Boy, 6, Hit by Car After Fall on Ice

Six-year-old Ricky Ryberg, son of Mr. and Mrs. Ronald Ryberg, 2 W. Jeffery, Wheeling, is reported recuperating at Holy Family Hospital after being struck by a car in front of his home Thursday, Dec. 12, at about 3:30 p.m.

Ricky was reported to have slipped and fallen on ice in the street while crossing it in front of an oncoming car driven by Mrs. Adele Kaye of 230 W. Manchester.

Mrs. Kaye reported to police that although she was traveling only about 20 miles per hour, she was unable to stop the car on the ice and slid into the boy.

RICKY INCURRED injuries around his left eye and check. Eighteen stitches were reported to have been required, but no serious complications are expected.

Mrs. Kaye took the boy to his home after the mishap. Mrs. Ryberg went with him to the hospital forgetting to don shoes in her haste.

There are no charges, police said. (W

Dunhurst Heights

The holiday season promises to be a gala one for Wanda and Bob Locy, 277 W. Wayne, as they welcome as neighbors their daughter and son-in-law, Patricia Lee and Gene De Bartola. The DeBartolas arrival in Wheeling preceded by two weeks the arrival of a dgahuter on Dce. 16. Of course, the Locys are proving ideal baby sitters for their other grandchildren, Patricia and Eugene.

The DeBartolas, who were formerly Skokie residents, have purchased the home of Chet and Ursula Bogen at 208 W. Wayne. The Bogens and their children have moved to another Wheeling area.

It may have been some 20 years later, but the little boys who attended the eighth birthday party of John Koeppen Jr., 284 Cindy, must have felt like a part of a segment of "You Were There." The party, held on Dec. 10, had a military motif with flags and planes used for decorations and favors. While Shirley readied refreshments, John showed movies which included newsreels of the Pearl Harbor era as well as cartoons from the past.

In keeping with the theme, grenades were presented to the youngsters, but were as quickly demolished. (The contents were ice cream and fudge sauce, rather than the explosive type.) GI's joining Johnny were Paul Trulzsch, Larry Page, Darryl Prodell, Mike and Stephen Rosi, George Oaks and Tim and Peter Gautchier.

THE EVENING found John feted with a traditional birthday dinner, with grandparents, godparents, aunts and uncles on hand to extend their greetings.

It's belated anniversary greetings to Rose Ann and Jerry Haverkos, 711 S. Merle. Plans for a gala celebration on Nov. 24th were postponed with the tragic events of the nation. Neighbors, however, extend good wishes for their 14th.

We doubt if there is any Dunhurst "mom" who is not busy with holiday preparations, but some recognition should go to those who are squeezing in extra time for the enjoyment of others. Co-ordinating Christmas parties and programs for Mark Twain School are Joann Goins of Merle Lane and Sunny Somogyi of Dennis Road, assisted by some two dozen room mothers. West Wayne's Jane Moore chairmanned the Christmas pageant of St. Mark Church, with the willing assist of Dorothy Glover. Lorraine Lark, 593 Merle, is relieved that St. Joseph's bazaar is a thing of the past and concentrating on her own family foremost on the agenda.

Greeting cards to benefit Wheeling's Scholarship Fund for Teachers of Exceptional Children have found Harriet Abrams, 662 Cindy Lane, and South Wayne's Lillian Stiller in the capacity of salesmen, deliverymen and promotion.

MAKING their debut on the local scene were Rhonda and Reid Hansen, with their organ solos at the Christmas pageant of Good Shepherd Lutheran Church. The daughter and son of Eleanor and Roy Hansen, 762 S. Wayne, haven't determined if it is harder to perform before judges at the Illinois State Fair or a congregation of friends and neighbors. Undoubtedly the proudest one at Sunday's program was Donna Hammond, 577 E. Merle, whose class of 3-year-olds recited with the confidence of seasoned troupers.

Of the male specie, Bob Lueders, 767 S. Dennis, should be singled out as both busiest and bringing the most enjoyment to the little ones. Bob, for the third consecutive year, was the red costumed fellow with the hearty laugh who listened to the gift suggestions of some 400 youngsters at St. Joseph's bazaar. After a brief interlude to collect thoughts, Bob was off to Cub Scout and private parties for more of same.

A novel experience was that of Mary Ellen and Bob Westrich, 363 Maureen Drive. The couple and their quintet found a nearby tree nursery which featured "cut your own Christmas tree." Naturally, the accomplishment could only be followed by a pre-Christmas party of hot chocolate, carols and cookies.

"FIRST things first" was the decision of the youngsters who convened at the home of Marge and Ross Williamson, 266 W. Wayne, to celebrate the sixth birthday of their daughter, Debbie, on Dec. 7. Colorful caricatures of animals (the handiwork of Marge) were pinned on little backs and the guessing of "Who Am I" began. With the solutions came squeals of delight and a multitude of quacks, moos and neighs. Debbie's guests included Eugene Calvin, Fess Brison, Kathy Ball, Timmy and Ronnie Larsen, Linda Brown, Michelle Menia and Mary Weimers.

There was at least one bright spot in the recent life of 6-year-old Paul Anderson, son of Ann and Chester Anderson, 340 Fletcher. His Dec. 2 birthday party, postponed by pneumonia and then mumps, was celebrated belatedly last week. In addition to traditional games, party activities of scrambling for shoes and going through the various contortions of carrying an apple on one's foot was the pursuit of Valerie Holland, Billy Herring, Susan Loitfelner, Mary Ann Holland, Keith and Kent Krueger, Donny Misuida, Cristine McGovern, Kim Sumner and his sister, Kelly. Since the party, misfortune again struck. Paul is now convalescing from scarlet fever.

SURE TO BE fully recuperated for vacation activities is Kenny Seaholm, son of Aileen and Earl, 123 Laurel Court. Kenny is home following an appendectomy last week in Holy Family Hospital.

Another due get well wishes is Billy Marlar, 544 Audrey Court. The 12-year-old son of Mary and Bill is recovering from eye surgery.

Reprieves or just getting away from it all has provided a pleasant interlude for some residents. Having properly feted daughter, Kathy, on being 4 Dec. 5, Ruth and Jack Hyde, 193 George Road, were theatre bound. An evening with "How to Succeed in Business Without Trying" drew rave notices from the couple.

Wheeling's "Twig and Turf" found a reunion as the family of Mrs. Clara Schultz, 536 Audrey, gathered from the surrounding area to honor her on her birthday. The reunion provided additional pleasure for Arlene and Ron Henricks as they discovered other relatives who would venture through the elements to spend the weekend with cousins in the Fort Wayne area.

SUNDAY MEANT but one thing to numerous Dunhurst "dads" — would they or wouldn't they. While most were content to listen to radios, a few were more inclined to adjust TV antennas. Proving Bear stalwarts were Dick Holland, 313 Fletcher Drive, and Joe Harrison, 583 S. Wayne, who were at Wrigley Field for the game. Joe, of course, is also receiving congratulations on his recent appointment to the Wheeling Park District.

Taking the proverbial busman's holiday" Saturday night was Al Rosi, 287 Cindy. Usually on the bandstand with saxophone, Al had a rare opportunity of how it looks from the other side. Al, Marge and neighbors, Shirley and John Koeppen, were off for Chicago's bright lights and the performance of Vic Damone at the new Chez Paree. Additional night life and musical variety was enjoyed with the Pump Room, Adolph's and Bourbon Street. (W

Pupils Give Program For PTA at Whitman

Third, fourth, fifth and sixth grade classes at Whitman School participated in a Christmas program presented for the PTA Tuesday, Dec. 17, at 1:30 p.m., in the school gymnasium. A dress rehearsal at 10 a.m. that morning gave first and second year primary students an opportunity to also view the program.

Third and fourth grade children took part in "Symbols of Christmas," a short Christmas play by Angelin Benke, explaining the origins of various Christmas symbols and how they have changed through the years.

SINGING THE carol, "O Christmas Tree," Mrs. Janet Hilden's class represented these familiar symbols, while the favorite "Deck the Halls," sung by Mrs. Madge White's youngsters, brought holly into the picture. Stockings and Santa Claus were not left out as Miss Betty Toole's class came forth with "Up on the House-Top."

The custom of sending Christmas cards was emphasized by the song "We Wish You a Merry Christmas," sung by combined classes of Mrs. Lorene Typer and Mrs. Elizabeth Hartman.

Youngsters of Mrs. Janet Petty and Miss Petra Reinhard sang the familiar carols, "God Rest Ye Merry Gentlemen" and "O Little Town of Bethlehem," while the bells which often accompany music during the holiday season were represented by Mrs. Dorothy Pernic's class singing "I Heard the Bells on Christmas Day."

FIFTH GRADE students of Irwin Glicken and Miss Helen Streff presented such carols as "What Child Is This?," "Silent Night," and "Away in a Manger," as well as a favorite of the younger set. "Frosty the Snowman." Other fifth grade youngsters of Miss Eileen Wire and Mrs. Francis Katsura entertained with "Rudolph, the Red-Nosed Reindeer," "Go Tell It on the Mountain," and "Winter Sports."

The sixth grade chorus, consisting of Alan Petty's class, sang "Merry Christmas," "Foom, Foom, Foom," "Troika Riding," as well as the traditional "The First Noel."

Other songs sung by the Walt Whitman chorus included "Little Snowflake," "O Come All Ye Faithful," "Wassail Song," and "Angels We Have Heard on High."

The entire program was under the direction of music teachers Miss Susan Ent and Stan McMurry. (W

Forest View Sponsors Food Drive

The Student Council of Forest View High School is sponsoring a canned food drive this week to help the needy in this area.

Any kind of food will be accepted, but canned food is preferable, said Kathie Dunn, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Dunn, 34 Woodcrest, Elk Grove Village, publicity chairman for the drive.

Chuck Fyfe, son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Fyfe, 8 Evergreen, Elk Grove Village; Brian Karp, son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert E. Karp, 45 Evergreen, Elk Grove Village; and Jim Humphrey, son of Mr. and Mrs. E. E. Humphrey, 10 W. Hiawatha, Mount Prospect, head the distribution committee. This committee is working through an organization to distribute the goods.

Some of the area stores have been contacted for donations, and all offers will be greatly appreciated to help make this canned food drive a success, according to Brian Karp, Student Council president. (EKM

GARDEN GAMUT

Jean Szeremeta, 1237 Ridge, was busy this past week caring for Mike Gajewski, son of Ginny and Ron, 1231 Ridge, while Ginny was in the hospital with a new son.

Kay and John Borucki, 406 Cypress, played in a bridge tournament Friday night at the home of Ann and Preston Pugh in Park Ridge.

Al and Barbara Vidmar, 1232 Walnut attended the annual Christmas dinner of the Western and Southern Life Insurance Co. at Bunker Hill Country Club in Niles on Saturday.

Elaine and John Craynon, 1264 Walnut, were guests of United Air Lines on Saturday night at O'Hare Inn. John, since retiring from the Navy, is an employee of United.

South Jr. High was the scene of much merriment on Sunday afternoon, when the Arlington Heights Gardens Home Owners Association had the annual Christmas party for the children.

GENE POTAS, Bert Eland and Ken Wendt gave excellent performances as the clowns and George Kempsell did a grand job, as he did last year, of "you know who." The pixies, Danita Craynon, Bonnie Bestvina, Kathy Scervino, Tina Prentice, and Betty Jean Sandgren seemed to enjoy distributing the comic and coloring books and the balloons almost as much as the youngsters enjoyed receiving them.

Max Loick of the Arlington School of Music accompanied the children who performed in the talent show and also played carols on the organ for group singing. The performers were Danita Craynon, Lois, Gretchen and Denise Eland, Christine Prentice, Betty Jean Sandgren, Sallie Meyers, Carolyn Colbeck and Cathy Jones.

Others who contributed to the success of the party were Wally Ambrose, general chairman; Warren Loisell, gift chairman, assisted by Don Witomski and Bill Caulfield; Bob Walsh, refreshment chairman, assisted by Ann Marks, Pat Dipillo, Sam and Jackie Scervino, and Al Zanko; and many others, too numerous to mention. There were 450 people present.

Everybody appreciated that Mike Cusak was able to get his friend and co-worker, Ned Locke, to come and be Master of Ceremonies. (A

Activities About Wheeling

Christmas celebrations started over the last weekend. Mr. and Mrs. Leonard Klaproth and their daughter, Lynn, attended the Wheeling Bank holiday party at the Hartmann House. Len, a member of the Foursome, a barbershop quartet, helped supply the entertainment for the evening.

Art Leimetter ended his two-week winter vacation by taking his wife, Dorothy, to the Christmas dinner given by the Lake County Contractors Association at the Waukegan Inn on Dec. 12. Saturday the couple attended the dinner dance given by his firm at the Lindenhurst Civic Center.

Frank Atchison is now at home recovering from minor surgery performed in Holy Family Hospital on Dec. 11.

The 500 Club met at the home of Mrs. Mary Utpadel, 132 S. Wille Ave., on Dec. 11 for a Christmas party that included cards, holiday refreshments and a grab bag.

SCOTT EDWARD, infant son of Mr. and Mrs. Ted Hastings, was baptized at St. Mary Church Sunday. His godparents were Mrs. Margaret Jacobs and Robert Smith, both of Chicago. A dinner for 14 at the Hastings' home followed the ceremony.

Keeping a secret is supposed to be an impossible task for women, but none of Connie Campbell's Center Street neighbors told her that the party at Lois Didier's home on Sunday was for her in anticipation of the new Campbell, due at the end of the month.

Carol Bertrand celebrated her seventh birthday on Dec. 16 with an after school party for Pat Day, Joanne Grossman, Kathy and Carolynn Atchison, Ann Leimetter, Linnell Peavey, Peggy Jessen and Theresa DeMuth.

Homer Maulberger spent from Dec. 10 through 12 in New York City at the United Air Lines Pilots Association meetings. Homer, a non-pilot, is a member of the Barber Q Four who provided the entertainment.

FIRST BIRTHDAY greetings go to the Reilly twins, Patricia and Raymond, who celebrated the day with a family party on Dec. 16.

Christine Krug's birthday is really the 29th of the month, but her mother decided more attention would be given to the event if it were celebrated before the holidays. Chrisie's friends were invited to her seventh birthday party on Dec. 14.

Mr .and Mrs. Lawrence White of S. Walf Road took their three children to Borchardt's on Sunday for the eighth birthday of their daughter, Katherine.

Flick-Reedy Promotes 3 Employes

Flick-Reedy Corp. of Bensenville has announced the promotion of three employes.

Harold Barker, 197 S. York Road, Bensenville, was made customer order supervisor and supervisor of stock, valve and parts orders. He has been with the company 10 years, first as a draftsman in the engineering department and later as supervisor of the order department.

HE AND his wife, Ella, have two children.

Dean J. Sletten of Mount Prospect was promoted to supervisor of industrial and methods engineering and supervisor of scheduling.

A graduate of the University of Illinois with a B.S. degree in mechanical engineering, he was an industrial engineer with Johns Mansville Fibre Glass Corp. before joining Flick-Reedy.

SLETTEN AND his family live at 14 Albert St.

Cliff Hodgkins, 43 Warwick Lane, Schaumburg, was advanced to foreman, bench inspection. He will supervise inspection of all incoming materials.

A seven-year veteran with the Bensenville firm, he holds a civil engineering degree from Pennsylvania Military College.

Dixon To Retire From Bank

Victor S. Dixon, 421 Valley Road, Itasca, retired from Continental Illinois National Bank and Trust Co. Dec. 14 after 41 years with the bank.

He devoted most of his career to servicing corporate and correspondent bank customers in Illinois, Indiana and Iowa.

Dixon entered banking in Michigan, his home state, and Ohio. He started in Chicago in 1921 with Fort Dearborn National Bank, which, through mergers and consolidations, became Continental Bank. He was elected assistant cashier in 1940, second vice president in 1949 and vice president in 1956.

VICTOR S. DIXON

He holds standard and graduate certificates from the American Institute of Banking, a degree from the Graduate School of Banking of Rutgers University and has attended Northwestern University.

Dixon is a member of the Itasca chapter of Lions International and the Itasca Country Club.

He and Mrs. Dixon have two grown children, John and Jane.

Attends Driver Workshop

Thomas C. Klapperich, 3903 S. Wren Lane, Rolling Meadows, accident prevention consultant for the U. S. Public Health Service in Chicago, is among some 250 leaders in business, civic, educational and other professional fields who attended a regional workshop on high school driver education.

The one-day conference at the University of Illinois in Urbana was sponsored by the President's Committee for Traffic Safety. Twelve states were represented.

Purpose of the meeting was to organize public support for quality driver education courses for all eligible secondary school students.

Whitworth Receives Medallion

Hall B. Whitworth of Arlington Heights was honored recently by the Carolinas-Virginia Purchasing Agents Association for outstanding service to the purchasing profession.

The Thomas Award gold medallion presented to Whitworth has been given by the association since 1940 to recognize outstanding individual services.

HALL B. WHITWORTH

Whitworth was graduated from Mississippi Southern State College and took the executive program graduate course at the University of North Carolina.

He joined Champion Papers in 1936 as an engineer, transferred to the purchasing department and later was responsible for traffic and inventory management, plant transportation, materials handling, maintenance, raw materials and shipping. He was recently moved to executive headquarters of his company in Chicago. He now has charge of engineering, real estate, technical services and materials for all plants.

Whitworth joined the Carolinas-Virginia Purchasing Agents Association in 1951 and since that time has served as chairman of many of its committees. He is past president and past director of national affairs for this association. (BB

Mitchell To Manage Bell Office

Fred D. Mitchell has been named manager of the Wheaton business office of Illinois Bell Telephone Co.

The office handles telephone service for residents of Wheaton, Winfield, Warrenville, Carol Stream, Cloverdale, Bloomingdale, Roselle, Hoffman Estates, Schaumburg, Keeneyville and Medinah.

FRED D. MITCHELL

MITCHELL, who already has assumed his new duties, previously was manager of the Summit office. He succeeds Louis O. Gibbs, who has been transferred to the general directory manager's division in downtown Chicago.

Mitchell, a native of Pittsfield, Ill., joined Illinois Bell as a commercial representative in 1051. In mid-1952 he was promoted to service engineer in Alton and in 1955 to commercial supervisor in the general sales manager's office in Chicago.

In 1959, Mitchell became sales manager in Wheaton and the following year entered a one-year commercial training program. Later he served successively as assistant manager in La Grange, Berwyn and Aurora. In July, 1962, he was promoted to manager at Summit.

Mitchell, his wife Shirley and two children reside at 401 N. Tomahawk St., Carol Stream. He is a member of the Carol Stream Jaycees and the Chicago Civic Roundtable. (BB

Ellerthorpe Joins Allstate

Stanley Ellerthorpe, 216 S. Evanston Ave., Arlington Heights, has joined the Allstate Insurance Companies as a senior securities research analyst in the home office in Skokie.

Ellerthorpe is a graduate of the United States Military Academy with a B.S. degree in engineering. He is a member of the Boston Security Analysts Society.

He and his wife, Ruth, have two sons and two daughters.

Villages Mobilized to Wage War on Snow

Workers Proud Of Job They Do

by DON HEINE
Staff Writer

Gently falling snow may shake loose strong emotions.

Snow to a child may arouse images of sleds, skis, snowmen, snowballs, or school-less days.

Snow to an artist may unfurl frosting on the landscape and a setting for Christmas music.

But snow to a suburban car pool rider stirs up negative reactions, of lost hours of work and cold suppers.

Yet there is another group of men in whom the threat of snow spells out the word "challenge."

These are the men who pilot the snow plows and salt-spreaders to keep suburban streets clear for commuters, school bus drivers and shopping housewives.

STREET superintendents in the suburbs think they are doing a good job in handling snow. In fact if some philanthropist were to offer a prize to 'The village doing the best snow clearance work," just about every village around here probably would claim the title and the reward.

Snow plowers like to boast that they have made it possible for residents of their communities to go through a winter without missing a day of work.

A commuter may emerge from his house at 7 a.m. after an all-night snowfall, get into his car and drive straight to Chicago. Once in Chicago, he must exercise care not to stop on a sidestreet, since most of them go untouched by a plow from one winter to the next. In contrast, suburbs hold a prevailing concept that every street, residential or commercial, must be kept clear.

Suburbs have tried a variety of means to overcome snow. They plow, shovel, crush, scarify, blow, haul, salt, cinder, sand and slag it, rather than let nature take its course.

Even snow melting machines have been tried—with dubious results. The melter was demonstrated once to Arlington Heights village employes. Bill Luehring, superintendent of public works, said the idea may become practical at some time in the future, but for the present the melting process is too slow and the problem of water refreezing a serious obstacle.

Arlington Heights and Mount Prospect are two villages which have developed a concentrated enough business district to require snow hauling. In Arlington, the village rents semi-trucks, which can be machine loaded in 60 seconds. Business streets are cleared on one night and parking lots the next.

Where to unload the snow is a growing problem. At present the village of Arlington Heights has seven acres across from the municipal garage, but the time may come when the village may have to find some farmer willing to accept free snow, along with salt and cinders.

ARLINGTON has 14 municipally-owned trucks for plowing. They are operated by the 25-man public works department.

Luehring tries to keep the same men on the same street. The reason is a man gets to know every bump and manhole. Snow plowing has its hazards, like manholes protruding two inches above street level and utility poles near curbs. A speed limit of 20 miles an hour has been placed on the plows and drivers are forbidden to turn around in driveways or fields. All plows are equipped with two-way radios.

Snow handling gives rise to some controversies. One of them is what materials are best for spreading on danger spots.

In Mount Prospect, Street Supt. William Voss uses only salt for spreading, no cinders. Cinders are dirty and tend to block storm drains. About 40 tons of rock salt are needed for the average run throughout the village after a snow.

Addison uses not only salt, but cinders and slag (treated unusable mine material). Bill Marunde, Addison public works superintendent, says that he is using less salt than he did five years ago, but this is largely a matter of personal preference.

In Addison, the village has a rule that plowing will be done only if the snowfall is two inches or more. For less than two inches, salt and cinders are used exclusively.

Plowing is done entirely with two village-owned plows and municipal employes, who on occasion have worked 16 or 17 hours straight.

"I think people are pretty well satisfied with our snow program," Marunde says, "They have been able to get to and from work."

Any village faces a possible complaint that one residential section is receiving preferential treatment. Addison deals with this problem by rotating residential areas in the order in which they are plowed. For example, Green Meadows streets will be plowed first on one snowfall (after commercial and primary streets), and last on the next snowfall.

MARUNDE FEELS strongly that a village can operate most economically and effectively by owning its plowing equipment.

An opposite approach is used in some other villages. Hoffman Estates, for instance, recently signed a contract which will make available nine trucks owned by private haulers. They will be paid on an hourly basis, if and when they are needed. The village also purchased its own $1,000 plow this season.

John Harmon, chairman of the streets committee, says the contract system eliminates the necessity of the village tying up its capital in equipment used only a few times a year. At the same time, the entire village can be plowed in a short time.

The village of Wheeling depends entirely on its own three plows. Jim Bennett, public works superintendent, says they can cover the village in five hours. "It doesn't make any difference whether there's a foot of snow, or an inch," he says. To be cleared, each street must be passed over three times.

Two years ago, in a continuing snow storm, Wheeling plows were kept running for 34 hours straight.

Work of the plows in Wheeling can be augmented by a snow blower, capable of cutting through a drift and tossing snow 60 or 70 feet to reduce further filling in.

Like most villages, Wheeling has an ordinance requiring cars to be taken off the streets after a snowfall of one inch or more. Police were said to have had little difficulty in convincing auto owners that it is of their benefitto co-operate. (A14

KICKIN' IT AROUND

What Are Advantages Of New Basketball Rule?

A NEW RULE IN BASKETBALL has become a main topic of conversation in high school and college ranks.

The rule states that the official will order the game clock stopped for all violations. This means that, in general, the clock is stopped each time an official blows his whistle.

This rule has been adopted nationwide by the National Basketball Committee and does have merit.

Stopping the clock prevents the deliberate stalling within the old rules. You've seen it before. A team is ahead and is trying to kill time, and a boy rolls the ball to the wrong official; another takes the ball out of bounds, then switches with another man. This is eliminated with the new rule.

Cheap baskets which stemmed from confusion also are eliminated. A boy is called for traveling in the forecourt. The whistle blows, and he's not sure what for. The first thing you knew the defensive team grabbed the ball and threw a court-length pass for a sleeper basket.

The burden also has been taken off the officials as they don't have to stop the clock by signal when the ball rolls into the crowd or under the stands. Under the new rule the clock already has been stopped in this situation.

We recall one important college game we saw when a team was down by one point with seconds remaining and the ball went out of bounds. The official forgot to signal, and the timer didn't stop the clock. The game ended before the team could throw the ball in and try a shot.

Rules officials have said that the changes will mean that the clock will be stopped on the average of 28 more times a game. They add that the change will add about four minutes of actual playing time to each game.

So that the additional clock stoppage does not unnecessarily lengthen the game, administrators are insistent that officials have the ball promptly returned to play. In turn officials have been instructed that they must hand the ball to the receiving team for all throw-in situations, unless the throw-in is from outside an end line following a score.

Television people reportedly are unhappy with the rule as it affects college games. Last year they knew an eight o'clock game would end before 9:30. So they figured on three half-hour segments. Now the game can push into the fourth.

Some coaches wonder if five fouls are sufficient with the extra playing time. Actually, you're likely to see more substitution because naturally when you're playing longer, boys get into more foul trouble.

The pros and cons of this new rule will be kicked around throughout the basketball season, but there are several obvious advantages.

At a high school level any additional length to the evening's hardwood program could be offset by an earlier starting time for the preliminary games. Why not a six o'clock start in basketball?

Ten Years Ago This Week . . .

HOWARD LESTER'S Arlington High School varsity basketball team won the Libertyville Holiday Tournament with a 60-56 overtime victory over McHenry. Wayne Mueller and Larry Slinkard collected field goals and Bob Dotts a free throw in the extra stanza.

Denny Maher registered 16 points to lead the Cards in the triumph, and Maher and Mueller, both juniors, earned spots on the all-tourney team.

St. Viator Rolls Past Maryville

Equals Victory Total Of 1962-63 Campaign

St. Viator equalled its entire victory output of the 1962-63 season with a convincing 76-44 conquest of Maryville Academy last Friday evening.

Ron Feiereisel's Lions, author of only three victories in 19 tries last winter, had no trouble reaching that third triumph this time around.

With reserves seeing extensive action St. Viator tossed in 34 baskets and eight free throws in its most convincing win in two years of varsity competition.

ONLY ONE MAN gave the Lions any serious trouble. Mike Spencer, a 6-foot forward, popped in six baskets and seven free throws for 19 markers to tie St. Viator's Jim Murray for game honors.

Murray, who now boasts a snappy 19.8 per game average, tossed in eight baskets against the Terriers and three straight free throws.

In addition to owning an impressive scoring standard, Jim also has been red-hot at the free throw line. In four games he's canned 25 of 31 attempts for an .807 percentage.

JOHN KIDD, a 6-foot-3 junior, got his first chance in a varsity game and responded with 12 points on five field goals and two free throws.

Ten boys broke into the scoring column for St. Viator. In addition to Kidd, other varsity performers counting in their first game were Ron Bakalar with two baskets and Mike Hogan with one.

John Erfort, who had four points in previous relief chores, added four baskets Friday.

ST. VIATOR will be idle this weekend but will swing back into action next Thursday, Dec. 26, when it hosts Little Flower at 8:30 p. m. in the first game of the Chicagoland Prep League's Christmas Tourney.

St. Viator High School will host four games in the tournament with the finals slated for

Prospect's White on Sidelines

Knights to Battle Warriors In Non-Conference Headliner

by MARV PRELLBERG JR

Coach Dick Kinneman should be a happy man these days after his Prospect High varsity cagers swept two games last weekend to get back in the win column.

But this is not exactly the case.

The Knight mentor has had to watch his second high scorer, Dave White, hobble around the Prospect High halls of learning this past week with a partial bone separation in his left ankle.

The sharp shooting Prospect guard, who has been scoring at a 15 points per game clip, sustained this injury near the end of the third quarter in Friday night's battle with Proviso West.

WHITE IS almost certain to be sidelined when the Knights take the floor Friday evening at Willowbrook High, and it is even doubtful that he will be available for action in the Joliet Holiday Tournament which commences on Dec. 26.

However, Kinneman feels that he has in 5-foot-9 senior Tom McClellan a good replacement for the injured White.

McClellan is a good shooter and ball handler, and proved that he could take up some of the slack by scoring eight points in the Proviso West game and seven more the next night in Prospect's win over West Leyden.

EXPECTED to team with McClellan this Friday at the other guard spot is 5-foot-10 junior Bill Phillips, who earned his starting assignment a couple of weeks ago.

Rounding out the starting five will be Keith Bergen, a tough rebounder at center, and forwards Ron Moehling and Rich Freyman. Moehling currently leads the team in scoring with a healthy 20 point average.

Willowbrook has a record of three wins and two losses entering this contest. Last year the Warriors had one of the finest cage teams in this area, finishing with a final record of 21-3.

MOST OF the members of this team have graduated, but senior John Lundquist, (5-11), is a holdover and a mighty good one. Lundquist, a guard, is sporting a 20 point per game average in the Warriors' first five outings.

Coach Tim Toman's Willowbrook five has beaten Prospect the last two years.

"Prospect has always had a tough ball club, and these games are real battles. This one Friday night should be no different," Toman says.

Cards Seek Rebound Friday in Loop Test With Downers Grove

by BOB FRISK

At the outset of the season Lloyd Wasmer looked at his Downers Grove varsity basketball team with cautious optimism.

"We won't have exceptional size but we'll be fast," he indicated. "We're hoping for a plus .500 record."

Wasmer's Trojans are well on their way toward achieving that goal.

Five victories in six games, two for three in league warfare, have elevated Downers Grove from the so-so status it possessed last winter into the ranks of the respectable and dangerous.

Downers is averaging 73 points per game, but Wasmer still sees room for improvement.

"WE'RE STILL not shooting as well as I would like, but I have been satisfied with the over-all play," Wasmer said this week as he prepared his Trojans for Friday's battle with host Arlington.

Although recent results would indicate Downers Grove and Arlington are going in opposite directions, don't let those records fool you. This one could go either way Friday.

Battles West Leyden

Forest View Travels

by MARV PRELLBERG, JR.

The Forest View varsity cage squad has had its first cage success of the season.

After five straight setbacks Coach Ken Arneson's frustrated hardwood warriors apparently decided that enough was enough.

However, it took a stirring last half rally for the Falcons to end their loss skein in a thrilling contest last Saturday evening against visiting Proviso West.

Forest View, down 13 points at the half, came out in the second half a rejuvenated team and whipped the surprised Proviso unit by a 60-50 count.

Arneson is keeping his fingers crossed that his charges can carry this momentum into this Friday night's tilt at West Leyden High.

Coach Tom Plinke has also been having his troubles over in the West Leyden camp in attempting to mold his club into a winning combination. The Knights opened the season with a 95-67 victory over Ridgewood High but have met with defeat in their last three outings.

Deerfield, Maine West and Prospect all claim wins over the West Leyden five, and the Knights are eager to get back on the victory path.

IF WEST Leyden is going to re-enter the win column Friday night, it will have to do it

Prospect High Hosts Matmen

Eight Schools Entered In Two-Day Tournament

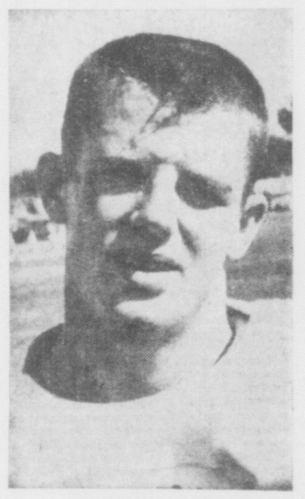
by BOB FRISK

The champ's on the sidelines, and the team title is up for grabs.

They'll crown a new champion Saturday afternoon.

That's the way the Prospect Holiday Wrestling Tournament stacks up on the eve of its fourth appearance.

A schedule conflict has forced powerful Naperville of the Upstate Eight Conference to by-pass the Prospect meet and yield the title it successfully defended last winter.



JIM McMILLAN
Defending Champ

WITH THE Redskins on the outside looking in there's no pronounced favorite for the fourth annual mat headliner that will be staged on Friday and Saturday.

Joining the host Knights will be Downers Grove, East Rockford, Forest View, Glenbard East, Niles West, Prospect, York, and Lake Park. Glenbard is the newcomer.

Competition will get under way Friday at 7 p.m. with the semi-finals and finals set for 10 a.m. and 2 p.m. Saturday in the Prospect fieldhouse.

ALTHOUGH the 1962 team champion won't be making an appearance, two individual titlists are still around.

Prospect's Jim McMillan annexed the 133-pound crown in last winter's attraction and will vie at 145 this weekend. Downers Grove has Bill Mittlefehldt back for another crack at 180, and this Trojan strong man is the odds-on favorite for a repeat.

Look for Downers Grove to have a lot to say about the team championship. Bill Walker has a formidable entry with six boys back who placed in the top four of their weight classes in '62. In that group are one champ, one runnerup, three third place finishers, and one fourth place grappler.

PADDOCK AREA entries Prospect, Forest View, and Lake Park boast some capable individuals who could pick up some of the top prizes offered in this wrestling feature.

In addition to McMillan at 145, Prospect's Dick Mudge will work with Karl Meisenheimer (95), Roy Harnish (103), Ray McKinnon (112), Bill Becker (120), Mike Phillips (127), Rich Greene or George Freeland (133), Bob Virta (138), Chuck Bobinette, Tom Johannesen, or Wayne Petersen (154), Bill Murphy (165), Ed Beier (180), and Mark Pasdiora (heavyweight).

Phillips, McMillan, and Murphy are given strong shots at bracket titles. Phillips finished third at 127 last winter.

FOREST VIEW'S Hal Henson wasn't set on a definite alignment at the outset of the week but will pick his team from these candidates:

Omar Aviles (95); Larry Andrews (103); Randy Haydel or Terry Hayden (112); Arnold Perez (120); Dean Jacobsen or Gary Hodson (127); Bob Jennings or Hodson (133); Jennings or George Derby (138); Derby or Joe Gebhardt (145); Gebhardt or Mickey Colovos (154); Colovos or Fred Prete (165); Prete or Chuck Lemke (180); and Ray Goertz (heavyweight).

Carrying the best Falcon records into the meet will be Andrews with a 5-1 standard at 103 and Derby with a 5-1 mark at 145. However, Jennings was the only Forest View wrestler placing in the top four last winter as he earned a runnerup slot at 127.

LAKE Park's Ralph Krupke also may make some last-minute changes in his tourney lineup but he'll probably go with John Shellcross (95), Brian Neal (103), John Widzisz (112), Mike Killen (120), Mike O'Keefe (127), Gary Kielar (133), Bob Piagentini (138), Don Scott (145), Bill Rice (154), Terry Smith (165), Wayne Ross (180), and Al Libby (heavyweight).

The Lancers' best bets for tourney advancement are Scott, Smith, and Libby.

Scott captured the 145-pound title in last weekend's Elmwood Park Quadrangular and was a district winner at DeKalb. He's 4-0-2 right now. Smith and Libby also claimed Elmwood Park titles and own five victories in the young season.

Admission for the mat tournament will be 50 cents for students with identification and $1 for adults.

Tony Barbaro and Murney Lazier will serve as officials.

Tim Jenning Heads Rings At Evanston

Niles East Cops Team Title; Prospect Third

Evanston and Niles East finished 1-2 in the state gymnastics meet last winter.

Veteran observers predicted these two powerful schoolby teams would be among the classiest entries again this season. They were right.

Niles East collected 97 points for a five and one-half point bulge over host Evanston in the headliner last Friday between the top five finishers in the 1963 schoolboy finals.

RICK FARRIS' Prospect Knights posted 73½ points for a third place finish. Proviso West (50) and Rich East (25) rounded out the field.

Tim Jenning gave Prospect its only individual first with a sparkling effort on the still rings. Tim came through with a 161 total and three-point advantage over Steve Wolf and Mark Kann of Niles East, who tied for the runnerup position.

Brian Williams accounted for nine team points with a second in tumbling, and Al Smith tied for fourth in this event to give Prospect another solid effort.

THE KNIGHTS collected 15 team points on the high bar thanks to a third by Wally Pagel and fourth by Scott Paris.

Also posting markers for the locals were Mike Zadel with a fourth and Bruce Frasch with a seventh on the trampoline, Don Sabey with a fifth and Tom Phillips with an eighth on the side horse, Ed Bangs with a

Downers to Visit

The Cards certainly were shaken by that double loss last weekend, but they're not going to toss in the towel. They'll bounce back and what better time than Friday against the invading Trojans? Remember, the season is still young.

TED WISSEN, Arlington's head man, is in search of some answers, and practice sessions this week have been directed at solving the problems that became apparent again last weekend.

"We lost the ball 25 times against Maine without getting even one shot," Wissen pointed out.

Ted is contemplating some lineup changes, but wasn't set on a definite alignment Tuesday. "I've been doing some experimenting in practice, and we'll just have to wait and see how things work out," he added.

DOWNERS GROVE features some hot shooters with senior guard Randy Thingvold owning the most handsome credentials at this stage of the season. Thingvold, a starter last year until shelved by a leg injury, is scoring at a 20 points-per-game clip over-all with a 16.3 mark in league action.

But you can't concentrate your defensive efforts on Thingvold alone. Johnny Martinek, a 6-foot-2 senior who saw some duty as a junior, dazzled Glenbard West with a 33-point production last Saturday, and Mickey Smith, an all-league football end, is averaging 13.7 in loop action.

Actually, Wasmer has four boys scoring in double figures in West Suburban play. Jeff Schubert (6-3) has 31 points in three games.

RAY CHLADEK, a 6-foot-3 senior who was slated to fill the starting center slot at Downers, is healthy again after a bout with a bad knee, and he'll suit up Friday.

"The doctor gave him a clean bill of health, but I don't want to use him right now unless it's absolutely necessary," Wasmer said.

Chladek was bothered by that knee last year, but finished out the season with 103 points over the final 10 West Suburban games. He's also an excellent rebounder.

Falcons' Wrestlers Drop Pair

Niles West, Proviso Win in Final Match

Niles West and Proviso West recorded carbon copy victories over Forest View's varsity wrestlers last weekend.

In both meets Hal Henson's Falcons jumped out to 13-5 leads after five bouts.

In both meets the Forest View lead dwindled and the outcome hinged on the heavyweight match.

Both meets were decided by 20-19 scores.

In the Friday evening encounter with Niles West the Falcons used a tie by Omar Aviles (95), decisions by Larry Andrews (103) and Randy Haydel (112), and pin by Arnie Perez (120) to claim a 13-5 lead with seven bouts remaining.

Niles started its rush at 145 after Gary Hodson (133) and George Derby (138) had fashioned successive decisions for Forest View and given the locals a 19-5 advantage.

Prospect still held a 19-17 lead with one match remaining, but Niles' Novotny racked up a two-point takedown with 27 seconds left in the third period to win a 3-1 heavyweight tussle over Ray Goertz.

AVILES GOT things started against Proviso West with a pin in 3:41 at 95 pounds and when Andrews (103) and Haydel (112) posted one-sided wins the Falcons held an 11-0 lead.

Thanks to a tie by Dean Jacobsen (127) and victories by George Derby (138) and Joe Gebhardt (154), Forest View carried a 19-11 lead with three bouts remaining.

Proviso West closed the gap to two points with decisions at 165 and 180 and cemented a thrilling victory with a 13-6 outcome at heavyweight.

Still looking for that first dual victory of the season, the Falcons will hook up in the Prospect Holiday Tournament this weekend. The next dual encounter for Henson's grapplers will be Saturday, Jan. 4, against West Leyden.

Arlington Sophs Rock Elgin, 54-0

Arlington was near-perfect last week in a 54-0 soph wrestling victory over Elgin.

Actually, perfect in this case would have been pins in each of the 12 weight classes.

Guy Vena's Cardinals had to "settle" for eight pins, three decisions, and a forfeit in the one-sided decision.

Fastest pin was a clincher in one minute at 127 pounds by Chip Douglas.

Also racking up falls were Steve Hedberg (103), Bruce Conti (112), Peters (120), Dave Gooding (133), Don Costella (165), Ted Armstrong (180), and Mark Frase (heavyweight).

Claiming decisions for the Smeed (145), and Robin Moreau (154).

Cardinals Win Soph Gym Meet

Arlington's soph gymnasts reached 90 for the second time in three victories and hammered visiting LaGrange Saturday afternoon, 93-30.

Wayne Selvig's Cardinals had trouble with only one event as they dominated the inexperienced Lions. Arlington swept the top three slots in every event but the parallel bar.

Bert Schmitt sparked the winners with 20 points on two firsts and a second.

Schmitt topped the parallel bar and high bar and finished second on the rings.

Other firsts for the Cardinals were picked up by Steve LeVan on the side horse, Roy Rettberg on rings, and Bob Weber in tumbling.

Indians, Panthers Top Falcon JV's

The Forest View Jayvees dropped a pair last weekend, losing 41-37 to Niles West on Friday evening, and 64-46 to Proviso West on Saturday.

The Falcons overcame a five point halftime deficit to tie Niles West 30-30 after three periods, but faded in the final session. Gary Maxwell led the Falcon scoring with eight points. Jeff Grismer, Jack McRae and Bryan Borgardt had seven each.

A second quarter disaster was fatal in the Saturday loss to the Panthers. Leading 15-9 after one period, the Falcons were outscored 26-7 in the second quarter and never recovered.

Proviso West center Paul Zemen led all scorers with seven field goals and 13 foul shots for 27 points.

McRae topped Forest View scorers with 12 points.

Forest View	4	11	15	7—37
Niles West	5	15	10	11—41
Forest View	15	7	10	14—46
Proviso West	9	26	13	16—64

Prospect Wins

Four pins and two decisions gave Prospect High School's frosh wrestling team a tight 26-22 victory over Proviso West last week.

Posting the pins for Neil Anderson's Knights were Cowan (112); Smith (127), Anderson (154), and Gurstung (165).

Hansen and Stiefbold came through with decisions at 103 and 145 respectively.

Niles East Tops Card Wrestlers

Suburban League Power Never Trails in Win

Powerful Niles East rolled past Arlington's varsity wrestlers last Saturday afternoon, 30-12, handling the Cardinals their second dual loss in five meets this season.

The Suburban League hosts moved out to an early lead and never trailed.

Julie Fliehler's Arlington outfit closed the gap to five points on three occasions but couldn't pull into the lead.

After three straight Niles decisions to kick off the meet, reliable Bob Conti gave Arlington three markers with an impressive 4 - 1 victory over Mark Gilhooley at 120 pounds.

CONTI RECOVERED from a scoreless first period and used a second period reversal and predicament in the third stanza for a three-point decision.

Rich Munk came through with a 6 - 0 victory at 127, and the Cards appeared ready to threaten for the lead. Rich handled Ira Upin with four points in the first period and two in the concluding stanza.

Niles' John Smart decisioned Doug Duss, 2-0, at 133 pounds, but the Cards picked up three more markers on Bill Anderson's nifty 8-3 conquest at 138. Anderson scored four in both the first and third periods with a pair of takedowns and reversals.

THE TWO teams traded decisions again in the next two bouts. After Niles' Bob Heller blanked Ken Rozek at 145, Charley Hood gained a 7-0 win over Harv Hoffman at 154. Chuck had a near-fall in the final period as he picked up five of his points.

Niles East swept the three final bouts with two pins and a decision.

Pirates Ease Past Wildcats

The Palatine freshman edged Wheeling 27-21 last Saturday for their fifth victory of the season.

The match was still in doubt going into the final match with the Pirates holding a slim 22-21 lead. Palatine heivyweight John Reid cinched the decision by pinning Wildcat Tom Josephs in :07.

Other Pirate winners included Wayne Moloznik, Tom Styczykowski, Bill Gill, Greg Timmons, Al Perez and Bob Salinas.

Wildcat winners were Jerry Hawkinson, Bruce Barcel, Dave Kist, Paul Berwanger and Joe Goffman.

Niles East Sophs Snap Card Skein

A string of three straight victories was snapped Saturday as Niles East's sophomore wrestlers bumped Arlington, 29-15.

The loss was the first for Guy Vena's Cardinals in four meets.

Arlington had one pin with Bruce Conti at 112 pounds. Peters (120) and Kirk Wolter (138) registered decisions, and Tom MacCarthy (103) and Chip Douglas came through with ties.

St. Viator Sophs Post Fourth Win

St. Viator's sophs remained unbeaten Friday as they rolled past Maryville Academy, 49-32, in the varsity preliminary.

Larry Nomellini's Lions pulled away in the second quarter and carried a 25-17 lead at the intermission. They outscored the Terriers by nine points in the final half.

Paul Dumke paced the Lion scoring with 15 points on six baskets and three free throws, and John Loughman added 12.

In four games this season St. Viator's sophs have failed to reach double figures only twice in 16 quarters.

St. Viator	11	14	14	10—49

West Leyden Rallies, Tops Knight Jayvees

Prospect's jayvees led for three quarters Saturday, but fell behind in the important one as they lost to visiting West Leyden, 47-44.

The young Knights led by four going into the final stanza, but were outscored 16-9 in the last eight minutes.

Forward Jim Larocco scored 17 points to lead his team. Greg Melzer chipped in eight.

Warren Collier's men saw their record lowered to 3-2.

Card Frosh Win

Tom Dunn registered two firsts and a fourth in leading Arlington's frosh gymnasts to a one-sided 87½ to 44½ victory over Proviso West last week.

Dunn headed the high bar and parallel bar events and finished fourth on the side horse.

Falcons' Tankers Bumped by Larkin

Elgin Larkin lost both relays but won eight other events in fashioning a tight 48-47 varsity swimming victory over Forest View last week.

The host Royals showed their biggest advantage in the 100 yard breaststroke with a first and second.

Otherwise, Keith North's Falcons turned in a creditable performance in defeat. They only picked up one individual first with Bill Reising in the 50 freestyle but added two relay triumphs.

WORKING ON the victorious 200 medley team were Mike Bedozian, John Hittman, David Lueck, and Jim Larson. They covered the distance in 2:05.3 for a one-second victory.

Tom Blair, Cliff Hadick, Scott Peterson, and Reising teamed up for a 1:43.4 clocking and triumph in the 200 freestyle relay.

Forest View registered seven seconds in the reversal. Picking up the runnerup slots were Darryl Oberg in the 200 and 400 freestyle, John Buezek in the 200 individual medley, Blair in diving, Hittman in the 100 butterfly, Hadick in the 100 freestyle, and Bedozian in the 100 backstroke.

The summary:

Three Area Squads in Soph Meet

Paddock area entries Forest View, Prospect, and Lake Park will join five other schools this weekend in the Wauconda Frosh Soph Wrestling Tournament.

Competition is slated to get under way at 6:30 p.m. Friday with the preliminaries. The semi-finals and finals will be staged Saturday at 6:30 p.m.

Joining the local schools at Wauconda will be Lake Forest, Kenosha, Wis., Naperville, Grayslake, and the hosts.

Trophies will be presented to the first place winner in each event with medals for second and third.

Bob Therry, Art Serfling, and Wayne Whitmore will handle the officiating for the two sessions.

Admission will be 50 cents for students with identification and $1 for adults.

Falcons, Leyden

against a Forest View quintet that played championship caliber basketball in the second half of its last outing.

Arneson feels that the Falcon effort in the second half was typical of the caliber of play that his squad is capable of displaying, and that the win has put a new spark of confidence in the Falcon team.

"It was our defensive play in the last half that earned us the ball game," commented Arneson. The Forest View head mentor feels that if his squad continues to improve its defensive and rebounding prowess, there will be several more Falcon victories this season.

A COUPLE of pleasant surprises for Arneson were the performances of Brian Karp and Russ Barger in last week's encounters. Karp threw in seven points in the Proviso West win, all at crucial times, and provided hopes that there may be some much needed scoring forthcoming from the center position.

Barger, a guard, popped in 17 points in the two games, 13 against Niles West Friday and four Saturday in the Proviso West contest, to prove his value as a sixth man or part time starter.

Pre-season dope had a 6 foot 5 inch junior, Jim Stich, as the man to fear on the West Leyden quintet. However, Stich has been sidelined with an injury, and attention has shifted to a pint-sized guard, Jim Nardiello (5-7) and a rugged 6 foot 1 inch sophomore, Rich Izzi, as the key cagers for coach Plinke.

Second Half Rally

Arlington Sophs Stop Maine East For 1st Victory

A second half explosion carried Arlington's frosh-soph Cardinals to an impressive 58-44 victory over Maine East Saturday evening in the second half of a weekend doubleheader.

Bob Baker's sophs, trailing 23-16 at halftime and apparently headed for their fifth straight setback, turned on the power in the final two quarters.

A 16 - 6 advantage in the third stanza gave Arlington a 32-19 lead, and the locals erupted with 26 points in the final seven minutes.

The loss gave Arlington a split for the weekend. Hinsdale had handled the Cards Friday evening, 41-29.

FORWARD Jim Jorgensen and center Bruce Hubbard were the offensive mainstays as Arlington blitzed Maine East with Jorgensen tossing in 19 markers, 14 in the second half. Hubbard added 16 and this duo teamed with Jim Whittington to give the Cards some solid work under the boards.

The Cardinals had trouble mounting any offense in the first half Saturday with two eight - point stanzas. A free throw by John Blomquist tied the count at 11-all, but Maine pulled away and held a 23-16 halftime bulge.

Score by quarters:

Arlington	8	8	16	26—58
Maine East	11	12	6	15—44

THE FRIDAY outing was a different story. Hinsdale held a 24-12 halftime lead and had no trouble posting a 41-29 decision.

The Cards showed some spark in the second half, but the Imps never lost their composure.

Guard Tom Pfuetz was high for the victors with 15 points on six baskets and three free throws. Jorgensen topped Arlington with 10 markers on a four and two evening.

Sportsman's Notebook

by Jim Carns

THE OLD SAYING—I should have stayed at home—could not have been truer last weekend. Or perhaps I should have stayed in the home state.

Late season goose hunting at Swan Lake and Fountain Grove public hunting areas in Missouri had always been good, so a weekend trip put me down there to see friends, old hunting partners and (I hoped) some close-range geese.

Friends I saw. One was Jim German, game biologist for the Missouri Conservation Commission and manager of Fountain Grove reserve and public hunting area near Chillicothe, Mo.

He had some bad news. Since opening day the hunting had been, in a word, lousy. The second part of a split goose season had opened Dec. 10, and by Saturday, Dec. 14, all but the diehards were cold, discouraged and home.

The day before the total kill was 66 geese for both hunting areas—about one for every three hunters. There were a total of more than 90,000 geese on the two reserves, but they weren't heading out into neighboring fields to feed. If they were going anywhere it was down to Cairo, Ill., to take the southern air.

Well, this seemed rather strange to me and others in a party of four brave souls who started the day in a goose pit at a brisk 3 degres below zero and saw it warm to a summery 10 above. How could they leave?

Not a bird, save curious hawks and crows, flew close enough to speed the circulation until 4 p. m., and even then a magnum load could only have hurried the Canadas on their way to a friendlier climate.

Back at Fountain Grove headquarters German gave us the day's report: a single bird brought in for the entire day. It couldn't have gone much better at Swan Lake.

We turned in our three dozen decoys and began making excuses. They were easy to find, but the one really bitter pill was that Illinois hunters had good shooting near Cairo. How could I write off the extra miles and license fee spent in seeking an out-of-state pot of gold?

The book of experience gets thicker, and as an act of mercy the chance for redemption seems assured. Unless a miracle fills the Illinois goose quota, a special season should begin Jan. 1—ending when the number is reached.

One must not depend too heavily on the habits or whereabouts of migrant flocks, but certainly there should be enough geese sheltered in the southern tip of Illinois to warrant a weekend trip.

As for out-of-state hunting, the idea does not leave me quite as cold as a Missouri goose pit. Next time it will be after a species not found in Illinois anywhere but the Brookfield Zoo.

Moehling, Freyman Carry Scoring Load As Knights Triumph

by BOB SETLIK

Prospect, minus the services of all-conference guard Dave White, still had little trouble handling visiting West Leyden Saturday night.

The main reason was that the team's two other lettermen, forwards Ron Moehling and Rich Freyman, scored enough so the Knights didn't miss White.

Moehling threw in 24 points and Freyman 21 to lead Prospect to a 69-58 victory.

White, injured the previous night, sat on the bench with his 15 point per game average. He didn't dress for the game, and probably will not play for at least another two weeks.

THE KNIGHTS took a 9-0 lead at the outset, and never were headed. They retained a margin that fluctuated from seven to 13 points the rest of the evening.

Even without White, Prospect figured as the favorite. Leyden has won only one of its four games. Counted among its defeats is one to Deerfield, a team that has distinguished itself the past two years by losing all but that game.

Leyden's Tom Plinke wasn't observed offering a shoulder for Prospect's Dick Kinneman to cry on. Plinke has lost the services of Jim Stich, a 6-5 220 pound junior who was the team's leading rebounder and second high scorer last year. Stich, like White, is on the injured list.

WHILE MOEHLING did most of his scoring the first three periods, Freyman waited until the final eight minutes for his best effort. During this time the willowy 6-2 senior pumped in six field goals and two free throws, accounting for 14 of his 21 points.

Moehling pushed his average to 20 points per game for the first time; Freyman raised his to 13.3.

No one else was in double figures for Prospect.

WHITE'S substitute, Tom McClellan, while showing neither the speed nor shooting ability of his teammate, scored seven points and played a creditable game.

The game was marked by numerous fouls and poor free-throw shooting. Prospect made only 15 of 29 free throws, an improvement over the previous night's performance when the Knights made a bare six for 16. Leyden was able to make but 18 of 37 charity efforts.

By winning both of this weekend's games Prospect upped its record to 4-2. Kinneman again started Keith Bergen and Bill Phillips, two juniors whom he has indicated he will probably stay with the rest of the year. Each scored six points.

WATCHING FROM THE SIDELINES as Prospect toppled visiting West Leyden Saturday evening was the Knights' all-conference guard Dave White. White, a three-year regular at Prospect and the area's leading candidate for post-season honors, suffered a partial dislocation of his ankle against Proviso West and will definitely miss Friday's game at Willowbrook. His status for the Joliet Holiday Tournament is a question-victory. (Staff Photo).

Falcons Win First! Shock Proviso West With 2nd Half Rally

by MARV PRELLBERG, JR.

Forest View's varsity cagers hadn't caused much excitement this season, but last Saturday evening Ken Arneson's hardwood squad electrified the home crowd with a second half rally that turned a seemingly sure defeat into a thrilling 60-50 comeback victory over Proviso West.

The Falcons had absorbed their fifth straight loss the previous evening at Niles West, and, after the first half had ended Saturday, it appeared to everyone, except Arneson and his squad, that the loss string would continue.

However, Forest View took on a completely new look in the third quarter and reduced a 13 point halftime deficit into a two point difference when the third quarter ended.

TO THE pleasant surprise of Falcon boosters Arneson's charges continued to completely outplay Proviso West in the final period and went on to claim their first victory of the season.

The first half was highlighted by the Proviso Panthers scoring almost at will from their pattern type offense.

ESPECIALLY effective was guard Chuck Simons who popped in seven field goals and one free throw for 15 points to lead Proviso to a seemingly comfortable 32-19 halftime margin.

FOREST VIEW came charging back in the early minutes of the third quarter. In the first four minutes of this period the Falcons scored nine straight points, holding the Panthers scoreless and closing the gap to 32-28.

Proviso West held on to four and six point leads until the waning seconds of the quarter. A lay-in by Falcon guard Joe Mueller, after he stole the ball, followed up by a two point jump shot by forward Russ Barger narrowed the margin to a 36-34 count when this frame ended.

The Falcon point string continued in the opening minutes of the final quarter, and quickly Forest View took its first lead in the game, 38-36.

COACH JOE Hartley's Proviso West cagers tried desperately to regain the lead, but, after the score was 48-47 in favor of Forest View, the Falcons registered 12 straight points to put away their first win of the year.

Mueller, who sat out the first quarter, paced the Forest View scoring with 19 points. Forwards Dick Arneson and Garron Kokai chipped in 12 and 10 points respectively for the Falcon. cause.

Simons and John Hobard led the Proviso West attack with 19 and 16 markers respectively.

Maine East Coasts to 60-34 Win

by BOB FRISK

You can't go over seven minutes without scoring and expect to win many basketball games.

Arlington found that out the hard way Saturday evening in a trip to Maine East High School.

Harassed by an effective press and guilty of numerous floor errors, the Cardinals hit the skids late in the first period, saw a tight game ripped wide open, and never recovered in a 60-34 reversal.

Arlington trailed 7-6 with 2:07 remaining in the first period.

It was 19-6 with 3:03 left in the first half, and Maine was coasting in with its sixth straight victory of the season.

FOR THE THIRD straight game a second quarter lapse helped seal a Cardinal defeat.

At York the Cards were outscored by nine markers in the second period, and the Dukes went on to post a 19-point win. Last Friday Hinsdale's victorious Devils enjoyed a 22-11 advantage in the second quarter.

At Maine Saturday Arlington checked in with only three markers in that horrendous period.

THIS WASN'T the type of game that folks will want to remember. After Bernie Brady's Blue Demons erupted in the first half, Arlington fans were forced to sit back and witness the proceedings with little to shout about.

Forward Dan Sherman tried his best to pull the Cards back in the game with a flurry of seven markers in the third quarter, but it was to no avail. Unbeaten Maine just increased its advantage and carried a 42-18 lead into the concluding quarter.

THE BENCHES were cleared in a final period that saw 34 points registered on the scoreboard.

Jeff Jonswold, Maine's top man all season and a three-year veteran on the varsity, collected 20 points to head both teams. Sherman was high for Arlington with 11 points as ten boys broke into the scoring column for the losers.

The loss was the Cards' third straight after two straight wins.

Niles West Staves Off Falcon Rush

Early Lead Holds Up In 56-45 Cage Win

by MARV PRELLBERG, JR.

Niles West piled up an early lead against the Forest View varsity basketball team last Friday and staved off several Falcon rallies to record a 56-45 win on the Niles court.

This was the second victory over Forest View this season for the Niles West five, and it was the Falcons' fifth straight loss against no wins.

The first quarter proved to be the decisive period as the Niles squad hit on nine of 15 field goal attempts and took an 18-5 lead at the quarter's end.

FOREST VIEW proceeded to outscore the Indians 40-38 in the next three quarters, but couldn't make up the first period difference. Three times the Falcons came to within six points of tying the game, but each time the rally ended at this point.

Coach Ken Arneson's Forest View cagers had a cold night in the field goal department, as they hit on only 34 per cent of their attempts, whereas Niles West shot at a 44 per cent clip.

Noticeably missing in the Falcon attack was guard Joe Mueller, who was the team's leading scorer prior to this game with a 14.8 per game average. Mueller played approximately two minutes of the first quarter, but was yanked after his play was noticeably affected by a foot injury.

RUSS BARGER filled in for Mueller and played the best game of his prep career, as he pumped in 13 points and pulled down eight rebounds.

Niles West featured a balanced scoring machine with four of its starters scoring in double figures. Guard Rick Kreiter led the victors with 13 points and was aided by 10 point efforts from teammates Jim Schnidt, Lloyd Gussis and Ed Bruksch.

Dick Anderson, forward, paced the Falcons with 14 markers.

Knights Roll On At Frosh Level; Handle Deerfield

Prospect fought off a Deerfield rally and claimed a 48-40 frosh "A" basketball victory Saturday morning.

Lou Schairer's Knights held a 25-13 halftime lead but were outscored 17-9 in the third segment.

A 14-10 fourth quarter gave the talented Prospect crew another victory.

Tom Lundstedt was high for the Knights with 14 points on six baskets and two free throws. Al Shers collected 13 and Tim Empkie nine.

Mroz was high for Deerfield with 21 points.

Score by quarters:

Prospect	15	10	9	14—48
Deerfield	5	8	17	10—40

Dave Kingman rimmed 14 points as Earl Benoche's 'Bs' rolled to a 36-27 victory. The score was tied at halftime, 12-12.

In other 'A' action previously unreported Prospect bounced Evanston's young Wildkits, 51-32. The Knights turned a close game into a rout with a second half explosion.

Shers collected 20 points in this victory and was aided by Dan Carda with 11, Lundstedt with 10, and Empkie with eight.

Knights' Jayvees In Split

Prospect's jayvee wrestlers settled for a split last weekend.

The Knights hammered Proviso West Friday, 31-16, but suffered a 28-14 loss to West Leyden Saturday.

Three forfeits aided Prospect against Proviso although the locals also picked up a pin, tie, and three decisions.

Individual winners were Bill Kalvog (103), Sid White (120), Jim Zaehler (127), and Smith (heavyweight). Davis (165) was involved in a 3-3 deadlock.

Only four boys scored against West Leyden with Zaehler and Smith repeating. Bill Carlisle posted a pin in 1:15 at 112, and Greco triumphed 3-1 at 133.

Haarlow Leads Devil Five Past Cardinals

by BOB FRISK

Here's some good news for West Suburban Conference basketball coaches.

There are only three boys in th Haarlow family in Hinsdale, Ill.

Through the years these Haarlow youngsters have helped make life miserable for opposing coaches.

First there was Bill Haarlow, a standout forward in the late 1950's. He made all-conference.

Then there was Bob, a slick-shooting, 6-foot-3 forward who made all-conference and all-state.

NOW THERE'S John, a 6-foot-5 youngster. This one's a late bloomer, a starter for the first time this year, but he's helping make the Red Devils a very respectable ball club.

John proved to be one, big headache for Arlington's Cardinals last Friday evening in a West Suburban attraction. He collected 23 points and repeatedly came up with the big basket in the final period when the Cardinals rallied.

Haarlow popped home five baskets in the final eight minutes as Hinsdale pulled away for a 55-47 victory.

TRAILING BY 11 points at halftime and by 13 early in the third quarter, Ted Wissen's Cards gave their fans something to cheer about with a furious rush that closed the gap to six at the break.

In the final period Arlington pulled within four points on four occasions, but each time a Red Devil shook himself loose for an easy layup.

Mike Frase's 20-footer cut Hinsdale's lead to 44-40 with 4:42 remaining, but Haarlow matched that with a layup. Dan Sherman, who showed some clutch work at the free throw line in the windup, canned a pair with 4:16 remaining, but Haarlow responded with another easy two-pointer.

At the 2:45 mark Sherman again connected on two gift throws, and Mr. Haarlow stepped in again to give Hinsdale another six-point bulge.

WITH 1:38 remaining Paul Splittorff hit on two charity tosses and Arlington again trailed by only four, 50-46. John Sandeen matched Splittorff and Haarlow fired in another fielder as the Red Dveils pulled away and cemented the decision.

The two clubs battled on even terms in the first quarter with Shermar contributing three baskets for the Cards, but Hinsdale was red-hot in the second stanza.

With Chip Campbell firing in four long 20-footers and Haarlow also helping out Hinsdale outscored the Cards by 11 and carried a 35-24 lead at the intermission.

THAT FAMINE reminded Arlington fans of the battle in Elmhurst the previous week when host York blew a tight game wide open with an explosive second quarter.

Haarlow was high for both teams with his 23 points. Splittorff topped Arlington with 13 and Sherman added 12.

The Cards had their best night of the season at the free throw line with 15 of 19 finding the mark.

Pro Bowl Holds Lead In Classic

Schoemann Fires 698 To Pace 4-0 Victory

A whopping 698 by Norm Schoemann guided Casares Pro Bowl to its biggest night of the season (2957 total) and a 4-0 victory over Pioneer Lanes last Saturday evening to enable the Pro Bowlers to maintain their slim lead in the Paddock Classic Traveling League.

They needed it because chief challenger Pines Industries put a 4-0 whitewash on the Brass Rail Restaurant to remain just a half point back of Casares' pacesetting figure of 38½.

Other action found Morton Pontiac routing Hamm's Beer by a fashionable 4-0 score, and Rolling Meadows topping Jeffery Lanes 3-1.

SCHOEMANN'S 698 figure has been topped only once this season. Mike Dinschel of Pioneer, tied for first in the individual standings, fashioned a 712 last month.

Norm's average is a modest 182, but he opened with his best game of the season, a 245 and followed with 237 and 216 to complete his big series.

Pines got 600 series from Mike Wagner, Tony Sasso and Warren Walter in its conquest of the Brass Rail. Wagner took the honors with a 223-165-234—622. Sasso was next with 204-194-216—614 and Walter just made it with 194-204-203—601.

Les Zikes and Hal Norum led the way in Morton's rout of Hamm's. Zikes dialed a 213-181-225—619, while Norum carded a 224-188-200—612.

Paul Borvig fired a 157-233-226—619 to lead Rolling Meadows over Jeffery Lanes.

The second position round of the season takes place at Country Lanes Saturday evening. The pairings will be determined tomorrow evening after Morton Pontiac and Rolling Meadows roll off a postponed series.

Falcons' Gym Squad Suffers Two Setbacks

Leyden Edges Locals; Proviso East in Rout

Only two points separated Forest View and East Leyden but 54 separated the Falcons from Proviso East in the opening gymnastics meets last week.

Gay Hughes' Forest View entry showed advantages in four events against East Leyden but still dropped a 67-65 decision.

Proviso East just had too much power for the locals and walked off with a 93-39 victory.

"We're still learning," the Falcons' Gay Hughes reported. "Several boys were competing for the first time. Some just didn't hit their routines."

DISCIPLINARY action shelved two Falcons on the rings and although Forest View showed a two - point advantage, that event could have been decisive.

Individual winners for Hughes' Falcons against East Leyden were Dave Hippensteel on the trampoline, Garth Freeman on the high bar, and Richard Antti on the parallel bars.

Claiming seconds were Steve Kretschmer on the side horse and Antti on rings.

East Leyden fashioned a 14-8 win on the side horse and had a 15-7 bulge in tumbling in gaining its tight victory.

PROVISO East's always powerful Pirates swept the top three slots in four events as they rolled past the Falcons, 93-39.

Proviso had sweeps on the tramp, high bar, rings, and in tumbling and also captured first on the side horse and parallel bars.

Top finisher for Forest View was junior standout Antti who placed second on the parallel bars. Kretschmer was third on the side horse.

Forest View's varsity gymnasts will host West Leyden this Friday, Dec. 20.

Red-Hot Knights Triumph

Prospect's frosh-soph basketball team had its offense turned on full blast last Saturday in an encounter with Deerfield.

Don Arseneau's Knights put together four impressive quarters and belted Deerfield, 75-64.

Prospect was red-hot in the second quarter with 27 points and took a 46-25 lead into the locker room at halftime.

Guard J. D. Thorne paced the Knights with 17 points on six baskets and five free throws. Dan Agard collected 11, and Craig Wolf and Tom Beard tossed in 11 each.

Eleven boys scored for Arseneau's outfit.

Score by quarters:

Prospect	19	27	14	15—75
Deerfield	9	16	14	25—64

Falcon Frosh Triumph

Forest View's frosh cagers rolled to impressive victories over Glenbrook North Saturday morning with both 'A' and 'B' entries posting one-sided decisions.

Ralph Naylor's 'A's' held a 20-11 halftime lead and coasted in with a 58-25 win. Purcell Stybr's 'Bs' triumphed, 42-15.

Cavello whipped in seven baskets for 14 points to lead the Falcons. Gillespie added 10, including eight free throws, and Brasch and Ford tallied eight each.

Score by quarters:

Forest View	13	7	21	17—58
Glenbrook	3	8	7	7—25

TURNER'S 14 points paced the Falcon 'Bs' to their easy 27-point victory. Juske contributed ten markers.

Forest View held a 24-8 halftime lead and outscored the Spartans 18-7 in the final two periods.

"Good defense and ball-handling gave us an edge in this game," Stybr reported.

Forest View	12	12	11	7—42
Glenbrook	7	1	4	3—15

Prospect's Varsity Mat Unit Splits

Knights Top Proviso But Fall to W. Leyden

Those Leyden schools continue to impress in prep wrestling circles.

East and West currently stand between Prospect High and a spotless mat record.

Dick Mudge's Knights hammered Proviso West on Friday before the home folks, 27-11, but dropped a 23-16 decision to West Leyden Saturday.

Prospect will carry a 3-2 dual meet record into its own holiday wrestling tournament this weekend. The Knights' only reversals have come to East Leyden (32-6) and West Leyden.

PROSPECT MOVED off to a rocket start against Proviso West, showing a 15-0 advantage after five bouts, but the Panthers finally cracked the ice at 133 and added two other victories before the meet was over.

Wrapping up successive decisions for Mudge's crew were Karl Meisenheimer (95), Roy Harnish (103), Ray McKinnon (112), Bill Becker (120), and Mike Phillips (127).

After a Proviso victory the Knights got rolling again with Bobby Virta fashioning a 6-5 decision at 138 and Jim McMillan winning 4-0 at 145.

PROSPECT SCORED two decisions in the final four bouts. Bill Murphy counted in every period with a near-fall in the concluding stanza for his 11-2 victory at 165, and Ed Beier toppled Proviso's Hovical 4-2. Beier scored his four points in the opening period on a takedown and predicament.

The Knights saw a 16-8 lead wiped out in the five final matches against West Leyden. The Northlake entry took the lead at 165 when Frank Favia handed Murphy his first loss, 2-0, and then iced the decision with 5-0 and 5-3 triumphs.

PROSPECT HAD taken a quick 3-0 lead in this one when Meisenheimer, turning on a solid effort for the second straight night, opened with a 10-2 win at 95 pounds.

The Foundry Rd. outfit rolled off a string of four straight bouts without defeat with Becker kicking things off on a sparkling 5-0 decision.

Phillips (127) and Virta (138) racked up a decision and fall, and Greene (133), using his riding time, claimed a deadlock. Virta put on his clinches in the final second of the 138-pound bout.

Ron Harstad Stars

Cards Top LaGrange Gymnasts

TRAMP STANDOUT GARY HOLVECK
Records 178 in Victory

LaGrange, a newcomer to high school gymnastics, was no match for Arlington's powerful varsity squad Saturday afternoon.

Tom Walthouse's Cardinals swept the top three positions in five of the six events and coasted to a convincing 95-29 victory, their third straight.

"LaGrange has just started gymnastics this year and did a good job for only five weeks of preparation," Walthouse pointed out. "Give them time. They'll be up there in years to come."

RON HARSTAD was the individual standout for Arlington with 20 points on two sparkling firsts. Gary Holveck and Reid Olson collected 12 and 11 respectively in the rout.

Harstad won the high bar and parallel bar events with a brilliant performance on the latter. The two judges gave Ron scores of 90 - 92 in a beautiful routine. He posted a 138 total in topping the high bar.

Holveck came through with a first on the trampoline and second on the high bar. Ron's trampoline was worth a fine 178 count (88-90).

OLSON took a first on still rings (89-91-180) and added a fourth on the horizontal bar.

Also racking up firsts for Walthouse's Cards were John Ungaro on the side horse (70-59-129) and Dick Rossiter in tumbling (54-54-108).

Arlington's varsity and frosh-soph squads will meet host Palatine squads this Saturday, Dec. 21, at two o'clock. After the Pirate battles, the Cards will be idle until Saturday, Jan. 11, when they meet powerful Evanston.

The summaries:

Post 35-9 Victory

Cardinals Handle Elgin for Third Win in Wrestling

Arlington's varsity wrestlers never trailed as they rolled over Elgin's Maroons last week, 35-9, for their third victory of the 1963-64 season.

Julius Fliehler's Cardinals used a forfeit win at 112 pounds to snap an early deadlock and then fashioned seven straight victories to coast home with the triumph.

Scott Brown got the Cards off to a fast start with an easy 10-5 victory at 95 pounds, but Elgin knotted the score with a decision at 103. A forfeit win gave Arlington an 8-3 lead after three bouts.

BOB CONTI nailed Al Berry in 3:52 at 120, and Rich Munk followed with another Cardinal pin at 127, this one in 1:40. Doug Duss used a first period takedown and third period reversal for a 4-0 victory over Joel Kruse at 133.

Arlington rolled along at 138 as Bill Anderson posted a first period takedown and second period reversal in a 4-0 victory. Ken Rozek gave the locals a 27-3 lead with a 2-0 conquest at 145, snapping a scoreless tie with a third period reversal.

Chuck Hood backed a first period takedown with an escape and another takedown in the second stanza and went on to record a 5-2 win over Dave Klein at 154 pounds.

Arlington's final markers were collected by Steve Castor at 165 pounds. Steve owned a 2-0 lead when he flattened Pete Breskovich in 1:24.

Elgin's Larry Flemming (180) and Wayne Shurter (heavyweight) came through with Maroon decisions to conclude the evening's activity.

The summary:

Arlington 35, Elgin 9

St. Viator Frosh Fall

Marian Central of Woodstock handed St. Viator's frosh basketball team its first loss of the season Saturday morning.

The Hurricanes jumped off to a 27-12 halftime lead and held on for a 40-36 victory.

St. Viator rallied in the second half but couldn't overcome that first half famine.

Dan Collins collected 10 points for St. Viator, and Kevin O'Connell and Frank Hogan chipped in with nine each.

Score by quarters:

Cards Edge Maine

Ralph Morrisett and Jerry Fink tossed in 15 points each as Arlington's junior-varsity basketball team edged Maine East Saturday morning, 44-41.

The Cardinals held a 24-12 halftime lead, carried a 10-point advantage into the final stanza, but faltered in the concluding quarter.

Maine took a 39-37 lead with two minutes remaining, but Arlington rallied for its third victory.

"We played without our regular center, Scott Weber, who was sick," head coach Al Allen said. "However, Morrisett played his first game with us and did a fine job, particularly on the boards."

Although Morrisett and Fink did most of the scoring, forward Scott Somers chipped in with eight points.

Arlington will journey to St. Viator Saturday morning and then will be idle until Saturday, Jan. 11.

Mueller Scores Deciding Goal

A last-second basket by Steve Mueller gave Forest View's sophomores a 44-42 victory over Glenbrook North Saturday morning. The clinching goal capped a second half rally by Rog Steingraber's Falcons.

Irv's Stuns Kelly; Gals' Leader Wins

Charlotte's Pizza is still going strong and there's no letup in sight.

The high-flying leaders of the Paddock Women's Classic Traveling division padded their advantage Saturday evening with 3-1 victory over cellar dwelling Morton Pontiac.

With that decision and a surprising stumble by runnerup Kelly Olds, Charlotte"s now owns a five-point bulge in the gals' league.

Kelly had trouble leaving the gate in competition with Irv's Fire Extinguisher, Co. Irv's fashioned a 2561 team total and impressive 4-0 victory.

A 553 by Winnie Lohse and 537 by Elaine Weber paced Charlotte's to its 3-1 victory over Morton Pontiac. After a slow start Winnie closed with 202 and 206 games.

Penny Smith was high for Morton again with a 535 series.

NANCY DIETZ flipped a nifty 636 series with games of 234 and 203 in pacing Irv's to a shutout conquest of Kelly Olds. Next in line for the winners was Bonnie Kuhn with a 508. Bonnie recovered from two sub-par games and blasted the pins at a 205 count in the third segment.

Edith Wayne was tops for Kelly Olds with a 519. She posted a 192 middle game.

In final action Saturday evening River Rand moved out of the basement with a convincing 4-0 victory over Steve's Restaurant as balance paid off. "Tiny" Davis chipped in with the big series, a 548, but she had some able support from teammates Hazel Steiger (537) and Emily Honickel (501).

Steve's couldn't mount any offensive attack and had to settle for a 2323 team total and loss of four points. Ann Neumann was high with a 493.

Wrestlers Record Split

Forest View held an 11-0 lead after three bouts but picked up just two victories the rest of the way adn dropped a 25-19 jayvee wrestling decision to Niles West last Friday.

The Falcons did bounce back Saturday, aided by three forfeit wins, and handled Proviso West, 28-19.

After Fred Lindemann (95), Dennis Konieczski (103), and Terry Hayden (112) claimed three straight wins aginst Niles West, Forest View went four bouts without scoring.

Richard Zographos gained a 5 - 4 win at 145 pounds, and Bill Wright recorded a snappy pin in 39 seconds at heavyweight for the final Falcon points.

Forest View picked up forfeit points at 95, 138, and 165 against Proviso West with victories garnered by Konieczski (103), Jim Kubic (120), and Wright (heavyweight).

Hayden emerged with a 5 - 5 deadlock at 112.

But Knights Lose White

Third Period Surge Carries Knights to 80-67 Cage Triumph

by BOB SETLIK

What a difference a half makes. A game which began on a familiar refrain as of late ended on a happy note for Prospect Friday.

The Knights defeated Proviso West, 80-67, overcoming a five point half-time deficit with some third period barn-burning. Clamping on a tight full-court press, Coach Dick Kinneman's men outscored Proviso 29-7 in that period.

The period may have been the most important played by Prospect this year. It pulled together a team that had been in the doldrums for two previous games and the first half of Friday's game.

BUT IT ALSO saw all-conference guard Dave White severely injure his ankle. White, visibly in pain, with what later was diagnosed as a bone separation, was helped to the bench and didn't play the rest of the game. He incurred the injury while on defense late in the third period, apparently tangling his leg with a Proviso player.

By that time, visiting Prospect had raced to a 60-47 lead, and White had contributed 15 points. The team's most valuable player last year and second high scorer this year, White has been averaging 15 points per game.

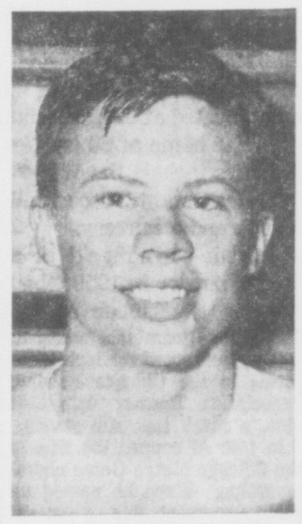
Kinneman unveiled a new lineup, starting juniors Bill Phillips and Keith Bergen for the first time, and switching high-scoring Ron Moehling to forward.

BUT COMMITTING numerous defensive lapses and frequent fouls, the Knights dropped as many as nine points back in the second period after playing Proviso even in the first.

They were a different team the second half. A press caused numerous Proviso errors, Moehling and White began to hit, and Bergen started rebounding like he had early in the game.

Even White's absence didn't hurt. His replacement, senior Tom McClellan, threw in four baskets.

MOEHLING, WHO had led Prospect scorers last year as a forward but was switched to guard this year, looked at home back at his old position. His 23 points led all scorers. Moehling's 11 baskets and one free throw raised his season's average to 19.2 points per game.



RON MOEHLING
Collects 23 Points

"We made some changes and I think we'll be all right from now on," commented Kinneman after the game. He was pleased with the performance of the two juniors, who replaced seniors Tom Neubert and Dave Gobeille in the starting line-up.

Phillips, a 5-9 scrapper, scored seven points but his main value was his defensive play. Bergen scored 10 points and rebounded well.

WHITE HAD played another all-conference guard, Chuck Simons, head-to-head before being injured. Simons was up one point when White was injured, and finished with 23.

Proviso's leading scorer was 6-1 forward John Hobart. He produced 26 points, all on field goals from 10-15 feet out.

It was Prospect's third win in five games. Proviso's record was evened at 3-3, and the Panthers obviously were shaken. They went out the next night and lost to Forest View, a team that won only two games last year and was winless this year.

Arlington Frosh Rout Maine Fives

Arlington's freshman cagers rolled to easy victories Saturday morning.

Ted Ecker's "As" crushed visiting Maine East, 59-26, and Bob Knilans' "Bs" coasted to an easy 39-24 triumph.

In the "A" attraction Arlington raced out to a 31-7 halftime lead and finally put away an impressive 33-point win.

"Our defense was improved considerably over our last game," Ecker pointed out.

Guard Steve Allen, who's carrying a 17.3 per game average, rimmed 15 in this one with five baskets and five free throws. Terry Townley also collected 15, nine from the charity stripe.

Jim Swanezy, recently elevated from the 'Bs', chipped in with five baskets and 10 points.

Wheeling Freshmen Win Pair

Wheeling's frosh "A" basketball team edged Prospect's 'Bs' and routed Holy Cross last week in hardwood action.

Paul Grady's outfit almost blew a 16-point lead against the Knights, but they managed to hang on for a 43-41 win.

Leading 41-25 at the end of three periods, Wheeling saw its advantage gradually whittled away by the onrushing Prospect five.

Scott Bischoff was high for Wheeling with eight baskets and 16 points. Reed flipped in 12 for Prospect.

Falcons' Frosh Wrestlers Fall

Niles West's frosh wrestlers got by Forest View Friday evening on the Falcon mats, 29 - 20.

Forest View posted three pins with Ron Cook at 120 pounds, Ray Vitha at 165, and Phil Reder at heavyweight.

Randy Shutt gained a 6 - 0 victory at 154, and Bob Wintz picked up two points with a tie at 133 to round out the scoring for Bob Walther's Falcons.

Knight Sophs Crush Proviso

Prospect's soph wrestlers overwhelmed Proviso West last week, 43-13, with seven pins in the victory.

Fastest clinchers was in 47 seconds by Bruce Croon at 95 pounds.

Also recording pins for the Knights were Jim Herod (112), Rich Freidinger (120), Rick Bertoglio (133), Nick Rutigliano (145), Marty DeStefanis (154), and Larry Knaack (165).

Bill Wittmeyer (127) recorded an 8-0 victory, and Prospect picked up five points with a forfeit at 103.

RM Bowl Features 36 Lanes

(This is another in the series on the sponsors in the Paddock Classic Traveling League.)

Rolling Meadows Lanes is another of the new sponsors in the Paddock Classic Traveling League.

Managed by Al Jordan, one of the top names in Chicagoland bowling, Rolling Meadows is a 36 lane establishment located at 3245 Kirchoff Road.

The home of 60 leagues, Rolling Meadows additional facilities include the Waterfall Restaurant, a cocktail lounge and a nursery.

Jordan emerged as a 'name' bowler in 1959 when he was a member of the Tarco Toys team that smashed a ten year record for high team series in the Chicago Bowling Association Tourney with 3184 pins, a mark that still stands.

In 1960 Al copped the title in the Chicago Match Game championships. When he passed up the tournament this year, it marked the first time in seven years he has missed the event. Entered six times, Jordan reached the finals on five consecutive occasions, a record in that tournament.

Other Jordan accomplishments include a 204 average in the Chicago All-Star league in 1959. He turned in his top PCTL performance the following year, a 198.

In addition to managing Rolling Meadows, Jordan also handles four Women's Instructional Schools. Al estimates that he teaches 100-150 gals a week.

This season he is active in both the PCTL and the Rolling Meadows Major league. He has lost none of his skill. Through the standings of Dec. 7, Jordan carried a 191 Traveling average, good for a tie for fourth in the individual standings.

Rolling Meadows is holding down seventh place in the Traveling League, but just eleven points of the lead in the tightly packed circuit.

Jordan's teammates include Norb Leja and Dick Nickol of Arlington Heights, Paul Borvig of Palatine, Al Haase of Rolling-Meadows and Tom Kouros of Barrington Woods.

Saturday is Crucial Day For Bowlers

Leading Units Eligible For Paddock Tournament

Saturday is a day of decision for the men.

When the final pins fall at area bowling establishments the field will be complete for Paddock Publications' Inter-League Handicap tournament.

All first place teams in the men's leagues as of Saturday evening, Dec. 21, are eligible for the Paddock spectacular in early January.

Tourney promoter Bob Paddock said this week he expects approximately 110 teams for the men's attraction which will be staged at Rick Casares Pro Bowl in Buffalo Grove on Saturday and Sunday, Jan. 11-12.

"We're encouraging all league secretaries to reserve times in the tournament as soon as possible," Paddock emphasized. "The deadline for entries is Saturday, Dec. 28."

League secretaries interested in reserving time slots should contact Marian Phillips, tournament manager, at CLearbrook 3-1520. Squads will roll on 1:30 p.m. Saturday, Jan. 11, and at 1:00, 3:25, 5:50, and 8:15 Sunday, Jan. 12.

MRS. PHILLIPS sent out tournament information to secretaries of 117 men's and 121 women's leagues, indicating record fields in both kegling headliners.

A team trophy, five individual trophies, and $712.50 in estimated prizes will be awarded to the top squads.

The gals have another week to determine their entries for the tournament at Hoffman Lanes in Hoffman Estates on Sunday, Jan. 19.

FIRST PLACE teams as of Saturday, Dec. 28, will be eligible for the women's tournament with Jan. 4, 1964, set as the deadline for entries.

On Sunday, Jan. 19, squads will roll at 12:30, 3:10, 5:50, and 8:30 at Hoffman Lanes.

League secretaries also are urged to contact Mrs. Phillips at Paddock Publications to reserve time slots for the women's tournament.

New Bowling Deadlines Set

Deadlines for the pickup and delivery of bowling scores for the next two weeks have been moved up to Thursday, instead of Saturday and Monday.

Pickups will be made at the usual bowling lanes Thursday morning, Dec. 19 and 26. Scores for these two issues should be turned in to Paddock Publications office by 4 p.m. each of those two days, for publication in Dec. 26 and Jan. 2 issues.

Normal schedule of pickup and delivery will be resumed, starting Saturday, Jan. 4. (

Holiday Party Merriment Isn't Always Fun-for-All

by BRUCE LADD
Associate Editor

We're on the threshold of the merriest season of the year.

My personal calendar for the next 12 days calls for attendance at no less than 10 holiday parties, cocktail hours, open houses and the like.

They're sponsored by friends, neighbors, relatives and business acquaintances.

All will have one thing in common: liquor will be served.

Can you imagine a party at Christmas-time without liquor? That'd be like the Chicago Bears without Bill George, Joe Fortunato and Mike Ditka. Nothing.

LADD

I mean, how could people "mix" at a party without having fortification of the juice? What would be the drawing card? The attraction?

WITHOUT liquor, the fun-for-all office parties of yesteryear are dying. The do-gooders campaigned and the penny-pinching employers went along. Now it's becoming a crime to sponsor an office party featuring liquor. Too bad.

The no-liquor trend all started with a few guys who couldn't hold their own. You know . . . the guys who get blind and then try to drive home? Bash, bang. They crack up, the cops come and it's gangbusters for all of us.

Of course, the antics of single girls at office parties have hurt the image too. Really, I don't mind what they do on the side, but please girls — don't push the cloud over the office party by hanky-panky-ing there. It's in poor taste.

AND THE straight-arrow married men. They're the ones who sober it up all year long and then—whamo! Out of their minds, you know? The old lady has to come down to bail 'em out. Expensive.

Some employers still believe in the esprit de corps of the office party. But no liquor. Failure.

It seems the only way around the liquor embargo is for a group of employers to organize a party in a private place for the whole office staff. Then the boss isn't held responsible if it gets a little loud or if some accountant decides to become the Wizard of Oz. It's just a people-party then. With liquor.

THERE'S ONE rule that must be followed at parties with liquor. It's the "Law of Continuity." It is: never let the liquor run out. If the supply diminishes, call the liquor store immediately. They have free delivery service. Empty bottles never made a party.

Also, keep an eye on the guy who refuses to drink. There's obviously something wrong with him.

The fellow who nips from his own flask bears watching too.

AND THERE'S the young girl who asks her date to replenish her drink. "I just can't imagine where the last one went," she coos. He brings another, turns his head, and gulpo — gone. She asks again. That's trouble. And hard on the supply.

So, you see, a holiday party is nothing without liquor. No fun at all.

ASK EMPLOYES in the hospital emergency room. And police and ambulance drivers. And widows.

They know the score.

Specialties of the House

Boil small to medium-sized zucchini 7 minutes. Cut in halves, lengthwise and scoop out the centers. Fill with junior foods from jars like spaghetti and beef or macaroni, tomato beef and bacon, then bake in a shallow pan in a 350°F. oven.

To cooked chopped frozen spinach, add salt, pepper, onion juice and 3-ounces of cream cheese. Blend all together. It's easier than creaming spaghetti.

To beautify a tossed green salad, add sieved hard-cooked egg to the top in a falling mound.

Pork chops are delicious when browned on both sides and baked with a jar of strained plums and tapioca (baby food) which has been mixed with grated lemon peel, cinnamon and ground cloves.

Fish fillets baked with soured cream, dill weed and sliced lemon are a Scandinavian idea, well worth trying.

Helen's Favorite:
Chewy Raisin Squares
(Makes 16 squares)

½ cup soft butter
¾ cup firmly-packed brown sugar
1 egg
1 teaspoon vanilla
1 cup sifted all-purpose flour
1 teaspoon baking powder
⅛ teaspoon salt
1 cup oats
½ cup raisins

Beat together butter and sugar until creamy. Blend in egg and vanilla. Sift together flour, baking powder and salt. Add to creamed mixture; beat until smooth. Stir in oats and raisins. Spread batter into greased 8-inch square pan. Bake in preheated moderate oven (350°F.) about 30 minutes. While warm, sprinkle lightly with confectioners' sugar. Cut in squares.

Says All Men Can Respond To Education

ST. LOUIS, (UPI)—Professor Theodosius Dobzhansky, of the Rockefeller Institute, told a Washington University audience that all men can respond to education and, in this sense, they are equal.

"Man's paramount adaptive trait is his educability," Dr. Dobzhansky said. "The biological evolution of mankind has accordingly so shaped the human genotype that educability is a universal property of all non-pathological individuals."

Dr. Dobzhansky said that men should "be dealt with primarily on the basis of their humanity. The practice of treating them according to their race or color is a nefarious one."

Cites Frequent Violations of School Bus Law

Perhaps no law is more often broken by ordinarily law abiding citizens than the school bus traffic ordinance.

In part, this is accountable by previous legislative changes allowing motorists to pass buses stopped in urban areas. However, the last biennial of the state legislature changed this and the present law requires school bus drivers to actuate the flashing signal lights whenever the bus has stopped to load or unload children in rural or urban area. These lights shall remain flashing when children are loading or unloading at the stop. Under the provision of the new law, Illinois motorists MUST stop for school buses when approaching them from either direction in both urban and rural areas.

It should be noted that you are obligated to stop regardless of stop arm. We point this out because a cooperative program of 10 school districts in this area transports special education children in smaller vehicles which do not have stop arms, but do have and use flasher lights.

THESE VEHICLES are clearly marked 'School Bus'' and are therequired color. The very fact of their size does not make them an exception from the law, but rather a more important example of why we have the law. We cannot conceive of a more foolhardy maneuver to pass the flashing lights of these vehicles.

Often parents, seeing the daily infractions, call to report the trespasser. The volume of infractions, however, makes it impossible for us to follow up on every case. In fact, if we were able to have adequate information on each infraction, which often is difficult to obtain, we as plantiff would be in court as regularly as court met.

Police assistance has not aided us greatly in that it would take a police car after each bus, every day, to prevent the infractions.

The success of any law is not by any means in the efficiency of its enforcement, but in its cooperative acceptance by you the public. It is for this reason that we would plead with you, the good citizens of our enlightened Suburbia, to practice safety and abide by school bus traffic regulations.

Too Many Dogs Result in Suffering

I wonder if all or any of the dog breeders ever take time out to realize that they are contributing to the slaughter of dogs. I believe there should be a law against breeding a lot of animals just as a hobby — or just for money.

It is to be complimented when they improve a certain dog breed with better temperament, better coat, etc. But while the dog breeder profits, the dogs he has helped into this world usually end up suffering. So many of the dogs lying dead on the highways — main streets and side streets. So many.

And how about the hundreds upon hundreds of dogs that wind up at animal shelters and the dog pound and don't forget the experimenting labs.

Unless you have seen a dog get hit by a car or truck and watch it cry in deadly pain and unless you have seen all the pedigree and mongrel dogs that stand awaiting execution at animal shelters — you'll not feel as I do. But, if you have seen this or heard of this and have a love for all animals, then I know you will feel as I do.

There are just too many dogs and not enough people to truly love them. If the animal breeders would breed less dogs and sell only to responsible people then there would not be as many suffering or dead dogs.

Friendliness Makes Her Feel Welcome

Just this morning I spoke on the phone to a man at one of our public utility companies about a small problem we have.

This prompted me to write to you.

To us this problem is a nuisance, to him perhaps routine, perhaps boring.

But talking to him reassured me and brightened my day and my faith in humanity.

He was most helpful, even to the point of my being careful not to fall in the process of correcting this problem.

IT MAY BE true that this is his job and duty demands him to be polite, but his was a genuine interest and concern, not a mere brush-off.

Being a first-time home owner and new resident in Mount Prospect, I find this very reassuring.

The people at the phone company, gas company, Public Service and Mount Prospect Municipal Building have all answered my questions and never made me feel it was too much trouble.

They have certainly made me feel welcome in our new community.

I'd just like them to know their kindness is appreciated.

The Way We See It

Tavern Licensing Uniformity Needed

With the passing of a Cook County resolution providing for 4 and 5 a.m. tavern closing hours another big-city characteristic is being thrust on the northwest suburbs — and they are not ready for it.

The resolution passed Aug. 9 by the Cook County Board of Commissioners was ostensibly to remove discrepancy between hours in incorporated and unincorporated areas of the county. The county controls only licensing in unincorporated areas.

Pressure for the resolution came from the Retail Liquor Dealers Association of Illinois — particularly from proprietors in the area near O'Hare Field.

Owners of establishments along the "O'Hare strip" were facing competitors across municipal boundaries toward Chicago who had closing times ranging from one to two hours later than those available in the county.

They got what they wanted. For an extra $1,000 annual licensing fee they could move their closing hours from 2 a.m. on weekdays and 3 a.m. on Sundays to 4 and 5 a.m. respectively.

It was only last May that the county allowed 2 and 3 a.m. shutdown. This, again, was consideration of liquor interests and extra revenue from licenses.

Cook County has taken a big leap in the direction of Chicago's closing laws, but the county commissioners missed both the mark and the point. They put in a higher cash cost ($1,850 total) than Chicago asks for the late licenses, but left out several restrictions.

As the law now stands, an establishment holding a license for sale of liquor by the drink may pay for and receive a late, late license — from a corner tavern to a lavish cabaret.

In Chicago an establishment seeking such a license must meet one or more of three requirements: It must be in a primarily non-residential area (or have the sanction by petition of the majority of residents in the area), or it must meet the city's definition of a restaurant or public place of amusement (such as a bowling alley).

Without these restrictions or stronger ones fitting the residential nature of entire communities in the suburbs, the county action has created a more formidable problem by solving the one it was designed to meet.

Now it is the outlying suburbs which are faced with many forms of pressure for late closing. The place for such late hours is in centers of entertainment or supper clubs, but the county provides no such limitation.

Instead, pressure may be exerted by every village tavern for equal status with its counterpart in unincorporated areas. Orderly annexation may be stalled by demands for late municipal licenses, or such licenses may be established as conditions for annexation.

A resolution adopted in November by Arlington Heights and later unanimously by the Northwest Municipal Conference asks repeal of the county's late closing provision, but this is a long shot and perhaps not the proper answer.

Eventual restriction of such licenses to amusement centers and supper clubs in both Cook County and municipalities within its bounds seems a logical answer, but it would take a model ordinance tuned to the needs and growing pains of the suburbs.

The county commissioners have not provided this model.

Highway Bureaucracy

A few weeks ago we wrote that highway officials should do more to explain and justify their very large expenditures for road construction.

We also predicted it would be somewhat difficult to get these explanations because highway departments receive their appropriations more or less automatically as a result of the earmarked fund system which gives them the proceeds of the gasoline tax.

Now we can write an addendum to that editorial. Highway officials have installed traffic lights at McHenry and Dundee Roads in Wheeling without taking the trouble to advise the village of their plans.

In fact, insult was added to injury because the first news of the lights reached the village in a letter from the highway department stating that Wheeling would have to pay the cost of the electricity to operate them.

Wheeling has long been concerned with traffic at this intersection and its experience could have been helpful.

It was disappointing to note that county highway officials were responsible in this instance. We had hoped they might be quicker than state officials to recognize that villages, schools and parks have a right to be heard on traffic at their doorstep. Suburban traffic problems are not the same as those on the wide prairie, although it would be difficult to convince a bureaucrat that there is a difference.

As we recall it, high-handed action by highway officials contributed much to Gov. Stratton's setback in the suburbs on Election Day, 1960. Perhaps the memory of that will prompt someone in authority now to remedy highway department bureaucracy which persists unchecked.

Flaws in Control Policy

The Mount Prospect Park Board is treading on quicksand.

It has instructed its assistant superintendent, Walter Johnson, to sound the alarm whenever an "extremist" group applies for use of facilities. The board then could meet in emergency session, assess Johnson's judgment, and if agreeing with it, deny the use of park facilities to the offensive group.

Apparently, this plan germinated as a result of the assassination of President Kennedy and is a sincere attempt by the park board to do its bit to promote rational and tolerant behavior.

But there are flaws in the board's action.

Perhaps the most obvious one is the absence of a definition of what is an "extremist" group. Everyone might agree on the Communist Party and the American Nazi Party as extremists. Lots of persons would include the John Birch Society or the Socialist Party of Norman Thomas. Others would condemn the Americans for Democratic Action (ADA) or Americans for Constitutional Action (ACA). And it could go on and on.

A more fundamental objection to the new rule, however, is that it would hurt rather than help the cause of rationality and tolerance. Freedom of speech and assembly are the best antidotes against extremism and the tendency to violence. Denial of these rights simply stimulates the search for extremist answers.

Critic's Corner

Yule Custom Is Corrupted

by PAT ADAM
Staff Editor

It's time we put Santa Claus where he belongs — back in his sleigh.

If we're going to retain the myth of the kindly old gentleman who can visit every child in the world in one night and slip in and out of chimneys with ease, let's keep him the way Clement C. Moore pictured him.

Attempts to modernize Santa Claus have him making his yearly visit in all sorts of vehicles — convertibles, firetrucks, helicopters, airplanes and the latest heresy, a spaceship. He ought to continue traveling his round-the-world circuit in the same old way, by sleigh and eight tiny reindeer.

HUMAN BEINGS drive cars and firetrucks and helicopters and all those other modern contraptions. Only a mythical Santa Claus can pilot a sleigh through the air.

The way we treat Santa Claus is only one criticism I have of how Christmas traditions have been corrupted.

Take the Christmas tree.

Slowly the fragrant and verdant balsam and fir are giving way to flocked and metallic trees . . . and even more outrageous, to an imitation evergreen.

I CONCEDE the beauty of flocked and metal trees. The variety of color in flocked trees makes it possible, in this day of coordinated color schemes, to have one's Christmas tree harmonize with the room decor. But how Christmasy is it?

The trend away from the traditional red and green of Christmas began some years ago. Now blues and pinks, silver and gold, and even white have invaded the holiday scene. Why are we so determined to modernize the colors of Christmas? It's unthinkable that anyone would change the colors of Halloween. Can you imagine any but an orange jack o'lantern or a black witch or a white ghost? The mere thought of colors other than red, white and blue on the Fourth of July is unpatriotic. The colors of Christmas should be as sacrosanct.

Use of greens for decorating home and church is another tradition being whittled away. By all that's ancient, wreaths, centerpieces, mantle and other decorations should be of holly, ivy and other greens. What do we find today? Metal, plastics, facial tissues, foil paper, nuts, fruit —all very beautiful, all very creative, most of them very safe—but they violate the tradition of greens for Christmas.

Even the glorious red poinsettia has a rival—the white flowered variety is growing in popularity.

STOREKEEPERS and postal workers will blacklist me, but I also protest "doing your Christmas shopping early." When jack o'lanterns and masks and other symbols of Halloween disappear overnight and stores are dressed for Christmas on Nov. 1, it's a bit too much.

Shopping early may be easier for everybody. It's certainly more efficient. But the exciting anticipation of Christmas evaporates before the great day arrives, and the letdown on Dec. 26 following so much preparation beforehand makes the day after Christmas dull as last year's fashions.

The week between Christmas and New Year's Day that should be full of holiday fun is needed for rest and recovery from pre-holiday activity.

I ALSO oppose the early and constant playing of yuletide music. Christmas music should lift the soul. Most of us never tire of familiar carols and such works as Handel's "Messiah," but "Jingle Bells" and "Santa Claus Is Coming to Town" and even "White Christmas" and "Silver Bells" become cacophony by Dec. 25 when one has been hearing them steadily for a month.

Traditionalists, we must unite to restore the old-fashioned Christmas. About all we have left is the mistletoe.

Tip to Doll Makers:

Let's Be Meaningful!

by BOB CUMMINS
Staff Writer

A generation ago, dolls came in two main varieties — those that said "mama" and those that did not.

Considerable progress has been made in the intervening years. Now we have dolls that walk, dolls that burp, and dolls that drool pablum on their bibs.

I noticed this year for the first time an ad for a bi-lingual doll. As I remember, she speaks six phrases in English and six in French. For people who are mad at Gen. de Gaulle, a doll is offered that is quite ignorant of French. In fact, she will speak 15 all - English phrases for the same price you must pay for 12 phrases by her bi-lingual sister.

CUMMINS

ALL THIS represents an advance of ingenuity, inventiveness, imagination, and get-up-and-go merchandising.

But the surface has only been scratched. There are many glaring gaps in the doll field that are simply crying to be filled. Here are some suggestions. I offer them to doll makers with no thought of reward except to know that the lives of our children may be enriched on future Christmas morns.

The Cheerleader Doll—Has pleated skirt and sweater with six hashmarks on sleeve. Comes equipped with scoreboard and set of numerals. When owner posts winning score for home team on board, doll leaps into air and does the splits. If losing score is posted, doll buries her head in hands and cries.

THE LIBRARIAN Doll—If you hand her a book, she opens it to the inside back cover, takes a look, and says: "Twelve days overdue. That's 36 cents, please."

The Telephone Girl Doll —If she hears a bell ring, she says, "To reach your party in Joplin, please dial five five seven, two eight nine, four one six three and ask for extension two two six eight. No . . . five five seven, TWO eight nine . . . That is correct . . . Thank you."

The Basketball Player Doll—His elongated proportions are extremely realistic. Jumps in the air and "dunks" ball in the basket. Also available: deluxe model whose hand occasionally gets caught in the hoop, tearing it loose from the backboard. Super deluxe model: in addition to catching hand in hoop, wears contact lenses which fall out, whereupon doll sprawls prone on the floor to look for them.

CIVIL Rights Doll—Marches back and forth. When squirted with a hose, it sings "We Shall Not Be Moved."

Fireman Doll — Comes equipped with furniture and axe. When smoke is blown upon doll, it grabs axe and demolishes furniture.

The Huntsman Doll — Comes equipped with bright red jacket and toy deer. When deer is moved into its line of vision, doll shakes violently, then fires gun into air.

And there are more—many more. But maybe these few hints will get the doll makers moving to provide a more meaningful day for our children on Christmas, 1964.

He Is Part of Us

by RUSSELL HILL

(Mr. Hill is principal of the new Wheeling High School scheduled to open in District 214 next September.)

For centuries scholars have debated the problem as to who is the more influential in shaping history, the individual or the masses.

Some would contend that history is constructed by the movements of the popular masses and that, as Walter Lippmann once wrote, "The real law in the modern state is the multitude of little decisions made daily by millions of men." The opposite school of thought would maintain that history is made by the inspired individual and that the advances of civilization are the results of individual leadership.

HILL

Leadership, according to Plato, was the single effort of an individual intellectually endowed to maintain the status quo or, if necessary, to alter the social order. Such a leadership assumes a closed society and the superiority of one individual over another. It is a leadership which as Mussolini once said, "Asserts the exquisite inequality of man."

BUT THE late President's leadership did not seek the surrender or resignation of our democratic franchise. Rather it demanded that we exercise through intelligent and enlightened action this hard won right of ours.

His was a leadership built upon a faith in humanity and rooted in the concept of the equality of man.

His was a leadership that considered the source of its authority and power not as something divine or noble but as something common. It was a leadership born of his contact with death, comradeship, and love. It transcended the crassness and coarseness of ignorance, bigotry, hate, and prejudice. And yet it was common because it was steeped in the democratic ideal.

THE GREATNESS of the man was that his leadership possessed those qualities so vitally necessary in a free, democratic society. His was a leadership that asserted "Let us join hands to seek ways of conquering poverty, disease, and war," not "Follow me for I know the way."

Or, as Carl Sandburg once said, "Everyone is smarter than someone."

His greatness was our greatness. In a sense it was not that he was great but that he made us great.

His was an eloquent leadership which dealt with the great issues of our time. He could not do this alone so he asked the many to help him.

HE ASSURED us that the fears we feel as we face our future could be overcome by our faith in man—by our spirit.

His leadership affirmed that democracy was not old, but that it was reborn with each new generation.

His was a leadership that began in 1776 and that has been found in all those who have held that highest of offices. His was a leadership that combined the Declaration of Independence, the Bill of Rights, Bull Run, Iwo Jima, thirty-four past presidents, the Emancipation Proclamation, and the Fourth of July into one voice.

Yet he would assert, "I am not these things—these traditions. You are."

Now we know he is a part of our traditions.

And if through our education, experiences, daily living and dreams that tradition is part of us . . . then he is a part of us.

Seeks to Bar Charity From State

CHICAGO, (UPI)—Illinois Atty. Gen. William G. Clark asked Circuit Court to enjoin the National Foundation for Asthmatic Children at Tuscon, Inc., Tuscon, Ariz., from further solicitation of funds.

Clark charged that only a small part of the money collected by the organization for the year ending May 31 had been used to treat, care for and school asthamatic children.

CLARK SAID the total income from solicitations was $1,247,490 and the total payments for treatment, care and schooling of asthmatic children was $170,018.

"If a person were to make a donation of $10 to this charity," Clark said, "he would write one check for $8.60 for fund raising and administrative costs and a second check for $1.40 for the actual treatment, care and schooling of asthmatic children."

Teacher Intern Program Praised

MADISON, WIS., (UPI)—A Ford Foundation official praised the University of Wisconsin for "taking a stand against traditions which have put teacher education in a straight jacket."

Alvin C. Eurich told a UW School of Education convocation that UW's teacher intern program emphasizes learning rather than trying to "teach" a method of teaching.

"An outstanding teacher must draw on his own ingenuity to come up with new and better methods of learning for each learning situation," he said. "The whole emphasis of the teacher internship program is to develop such self-reliance."

EURICH, who is a vice-president of Ford's Fund for Education Achievement, said teacher training should be the responsibility of the whole institution, not just the school of education.

"We do not have one group on campus which has the secret of good teaching," he said. "Anyone who teaches must be concerned with the preparation of teachers."

The teacher intern program was pioneered at Wisconsin by Dr. John Guy Fowlkes with the help of Ford Foundation grants. This year the UW program will place 180 students in two dozen Wisconsin school systems for a semester of teaching experience.

Holiday Art Auction Benefits Hospital

TROUBADOURS SERENADE Mrs. Stan Amren, Mrs. Ed Bruning and their husbands during dinner at Inverness Country Club which preceded auction of oil paintings by the club manager, Alfred Albert. Auction brought $4,000 which was donated to the Women's Auxiliary of Northwest Community Hospital.

Unusual Social Event

by MARIANNE SCOTT
Women's Editor

A new wrinkle on the suburban social scene was introduced the evening of Dec. 11 when 200 invited guests donned their holiday finery and bucked the first snow storm of the year to bid against each other for 16 original oil paintings, with proceeds going to the Women's Auxiliary of Northwest Community Hospital.

The auction was held in Inverness Country Club, where Alfred Albert, the donating artist and also the manager of the club, greeted the guests along with Mrs. Fred Hodgdon, sponsor of the evening. Mrs. Hodgdon, a member of both the Auxiliary and the club, reported that $4,000 was donated to the Auxiliary.

"Going once, going twice, sold to the man with the hair!" were typical of the merry comments of the auctioneer, Roy L. LaLonde, Palatine businessman of many talents, as he stood atop a carpeted pedestal and cajoled the guests into topping each other's bids. Aided by a red-vested assistant, who promenaded through the audience displaying each picture high above his head, LaLonde cautioned guests that any hand raised higher than the neck was considered a bid.

LaLONDE ALSO requested that guests not sit on their hands, and reminded them that this was a charitable cause, deductible, of course. If there were any shills planted in the audience, it was all part of the fun.

The evening began with cocktails and an antipasto hors d'oeuvres table, which was followed by a buffet of Italian foods, which included rice pilaf, veal scallopini, chicken tetrazini, spaghetti, lasagna, crisply-toasted garlic bread, salad and spumoni ice cream.

Introduced during the evening were Mrs. William Peterson of Palatine, president of the Hospital Auxiliary, and Carl Buehler, of the hospital's Board of Trustees.

THE PAINTINGS, which included scenes in Paris and Mexico, portraits, nudes, a ballerina and horses at pasture, brought prices ranging from $50 to $625. Many of the guests, outbid for the painting of their choice, made contributions to the Hospital Auxiliary.

Among the paintings not for sale was a portrait of President John F. Kennedy, which Albert is sending to Mrs. Kennedy.

Albert, described by friends as an extremely versatile and talented person, was born in Switzerland and has managed hotels and clubs all over the United States. He has also owned his own restaurants and is the author of a recently-published book, "Bed, Bath and Bedlam."

"I'VE GOT 300, who'll gimme 350?" called Roy LaLonde, who served as auctioneer Dec. 11 when 16 original oil paintings were sold to the highest bidder in Inverness Country Club. Paintings, all done by Alfred Albert, were donated by Albert and auctioned off with proceeds going to the Women's Auxiliary of Northwest Community Hospital.

HOSPITAL AUXILIARY PRESIDENT, Mrs. William Peterson of Palatine and Mr. Peterson eagerly watch proceedings as 16 oil paintings are sold to the highest bidders during auction last week in Inverness Country Club. Affair raised $4,000 which was donated to the Northwest Community Hospital Auxiliary.

Ribbon Wigs the Rage Of London Partygoers

Ribbon wigs to wear to holiday parties or costume balls are all the rage in London, announces the design director of Norcross, Inc., one of the country's leading gift wrap manufacturers.

A range of colors to match various outfits can be achieved by using Norcross' lustre-tie ribbon. The wig is based with a piece of buckram or old felt hat shape, and the ribbon, graduated in size, is attached to the shape with double-faced cellophane tape.

For a perky look, bows and small Christmas balls top off the creation, and with a little imagination the bow chignon can be curled, changed in color to contrast with the wig, or trimmed with other Christmas ornaments. Complete directions follow.

Materials:

Norcross Lustre-Tie Ribbon, 9/16" wide, about 4 rolls (any color)

Buckram hat shape

1 inch Christmas balls on stems.

Directions:

Cut 4" lengths of ribbon. Glue or tape with double-faced tape in overlapping rows unti lhat shape is covered. Make two graduating size puff bows, following directions on ribbon roll. Attach to wig to form topknot. Decorate with balls.

CURRENTLY THE RAGE of the London social set, according to Norcross, Inc. is the be-ribboned wig. Easily made at home, it requires only five materials for construction. The "Midas Gold" wig above is set off with perky topknot.

Halt Sale Of Grade C Eggs Here

SPRINGFIELD, (UPD) — Illinois retail food stores will have to take grade C eggs off the shelf by March 1, the Illinois Department of Agriculture said this week.

Presently three classifications of eggs—A, B and C—are sold to consumers, according to quality and food value content of eggs.

The agriculture department pointed out that this should not be confused with the classification of eggs by sizes—extra large, large, medium and small.

THE DECISION to discontinue the sale of grade C eggs in retail food stores was reached at a hearing in Springfield and is in line with a similar regulation of the U.S. Department of Agriculture.

Delay of strict enforcement of the regulation until March 1 will prevent financial loss to the state's egg producers and marketers, the Department of Agriculture stated.

Boxes Turn One Gift Into Two

Pretty gift boxes that do after-Christmas duty as decorative closet accessories or drawer organizers turn one gift into two, and make the time spent gift wrapping pay extra dividends.

All you need to make these double-duty gift boxes is a few rolls of Marvalon adhesive covering in assorted colors, and sturdy boxes. The plastic-coated covering transforms ordinary boxes into durable and attractive storage boxes.

SELECT GIFT boxes slightly larger than the size of your gift and fill in the extra space with colored Kleenex tissues. For example, present a sweater in a dress-size box so that several items may be stored in the same box. Shoe boxes and hat boxes are especially welcome gift-holders.

To cover boxes, simply measure and cut the Marvalon covering to size, then peel off the backing sheet and apply.

Cover the outside of the box first, then cover the inside of the box with a monogram, flowers or star cut-outs.

Simply trace the design on the backing sheet and cut out. Peal off backing and apply.

YOU MIGHT cover a hat box with canary yellow, line it with "orange ice" covering, and trim the outside with pink and orange flowers. A square box, covered in pink and trimmed with white star cut-outs makes a pretty scarf holder.

A gift for the career girl might be presented in a shoe tote box covered with red check, trimmed with her monogram in white, and equipped with a carrying cord.

Attach the cord by punching a hole in each long side of the box, just below the edge of the lid. Punch two holes at one short end of the box.

Run the cord over the lid, in through the side holes, and out through the holes on the end. Tie ends of cord to form the carrying handle.

A Final Touch

To give your dinner table a holiday sparkle, keep a roll of towels handy as you set the table. As you set out glassware and silver, give each item a final polish with a soft paper towel to remove all traces of lint and finger smudges.

Extra Vehicles Called to Handle Yule Postal Rush

by PAT ADAM
Staff Writer

Only heavy snowfall poses any problem for the U. S. Post Office Department during the Christmas season.

Otherwise, delivery and pick-up are in efficient and coordinated operation based on past experience and detailed knowledge of seasonal demands, according to Bob Proebstle, assistant postmaster in the Arlington Heights post office.

Considerable snow will slow down deliveries, Proebstle said, and even then, the department has a ready solution — contracting for extra vehicles.

THE NORMAL complement of 13 vehicles is nearly doubled for the Christmas holidays. Two were added in early December and will remain in use through Dec. 27. Another 10 were added Monday and will continue operating through Dec. 24. The more recent additions include five trucks for parcel delivery and five cars and station wagons for collection, special delivery and what are called mounted routes—rural delivery.

The job of coordinating operations and assigning men to deliver is handled by Bernard Zimmer, Rolling Meadows, superintendent of mails; Elmer Meares, Rolling Meadows, assistant superintendent, and Ralph Hardtke, Rolling Meadows, acting station superintendent.

The Arlington Heights office, which handles mail for Elk Grove Village and Rolling Meadows as well as Arlington Heights, has been affected, like all suburban life, by the influx of population and industry.

PROEBSTLE said the office has added an average of about two trucks a year the past two years and will add others in 1964.

Normal repair work is contracted for, each local department using a maintenance firm in the community, the assistant postmaster explained. Major overhauling is done in the regional post office department garage in Chicago.

The average service of a postal vehicle is from six to eight years, he said. The usual mileage on a truck when it is retired from service is about 200,000 miles.

A ONE AND one-half ton vehicle is used for regular, mounted and special delivery and a three-quarter to one-ton truck for parcel post.

Vehicles added for the Christmas season come from the regional motor pool, Proebstle said.

Early Christmas Customs Begun by Patron Saints

Decorating an evergreen tree. Carolling through the streets on Christmas Eve. Hnging stockings on the fireplace mantel. How did these and other old Christmas customs get started?

The Christmas tree dates back to the ninth century and Saint Winifred, who was traveling around Northern Germany preaching Christianity. He came upon a group of people gathered around a huge oak tree to offer human sacrifice to their pagan gods.

According to legend, Saint Winifred hewed down the oak, and a tall fir appeared in its place. The miracle was hailed far and wide and from that day on, it became the custom for the German families to gather about a tall evergreen on Christmas Eve.

MARTIN LUTHER decorated the first tree in the 16th century. He placed candles on a small evergreen to symbolize the stars.

Carolling started in 13th century Italy, St. Francis of Assisi encouraged villages to display the nativity scene and act out the Christmas story in passion plays. Later carols were composed to go along with the plays and the custom of caroling through the streets got started.

One of the most beautiful customs involving carolling is still observed in Austria every Christmas Eve. Beginning with the family living the farthest from the village church, torch-bearing carollers form a procession through the village.

AT EACH HOUSE, the procession is joined by all the inhabitants. Eventually the entire village is part of the procession as it arrives at the church steps.

Saint Nicholas has been leaving gifts for good little boys and girls on Christmas Eve ever since the 4th century. The original St. Nicholas was a Turkish Bishop, noted for his works of charity, who became the patron saint of children.

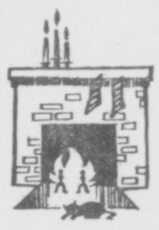
Martin Luther later substituted the Christ Child or Christkindlein for St. Nicholas as the bearer of gifts in Germany.

Later a German colony led by William Penn settled in Pennsylvania, and again Santa changed his name. The settlers had brought Christkindlein with them, but somehow it was transformed into Kris Kringle.

THE DUTCH may have nicknamed St. Nicholas "Santa Claus" for short, but his image as a fat little man with rosy cheeks and white beard comes from the famous American poem "The Night Before Christmas."

During the 19th century, Santa recrossed the Atlantic from the United States and became known as "Father Christmas" in England and "Pere Noel" in France.

The Dutch are believed to have been the first to hang stockings on the fireplace mantel.



One story says it started when St. Nicholas came upon a poor man who couldn't afford a dowry for his daughters. Noticing a stocking hung up near the fire to dry, Saint Nicholas slipped some gold pieces into it.

IN SOME countries, Italy for example, the children put out their shoes instead of stockings.

One of the more modern Christmas customs is sending Christmas greetings each year. In a little over a century — they first got started in England in 1843 — this relatively new custom has become well established.

In that year, Sir Henry Cole commissioned an artist named John Horsley to design a Christmas "greeting" for him because he was "too busy to write to his friends at Christmas."

SINCE THEN, the sending of Christmas cards has become almost universal, although in some countries, greetings are sent for the New Year, instead of Christmas.

This year, more than 3½ billion Christmas cards will be mailed in the United States alone. This is an average of approximately 18 cards per person.

Give Cookies Room to Cool

Christmas cookie baking usually requires more counter space than your kitchen provides. A portable cooking area, where cookies can cool undisturbed, will speed up holiday baking.

All you need is one or two card tables and a roll of Kleenex towels. Set up the tables just outside of the kitchen so they don't interfere with your working space. Cover table tops with two layers of paper toweling.

As cookies come from the oven, transfer immediately from the cookie sheet to the absorbent paper towels. Never permit cookies to cool on the baking sheet unless definitely specified in the recipe.

Be sure cookies are thoroughly cool before stacking or storing. Soft cookies should be stored in airtight containers, crisp cookies require a loosely-covered box or jar.

A Tourist's Place in the Sun

by JACK P. GABRIEL

PAGO PAGO, AMERICAN SAMOA — Winter travelers usually leave home to escape the rigors of cold weather, and American Samoa provides the sort of haven for which the're searching, many time in vain. It's warm in winter, and coolest in July, so that's also a good time to come here.

This unincorporated territory of the United States lies 2,300 miles southwest of Hawaii and 1,600 miles northeast of New Zealand in the South Pacific Ocean, with Tahiti in the Society Islands to the east. There are now over 20,000 residents, according to the Pacific Area Travel Association.

Somerset Maugham wrote a short story, "Miss Thompson," about 45 years ago, the setting for the tale was Pago Pago, and the troubles that beset its heroine, Sadie, a good-time girl, put Samoa firmly on the literary map.

WHEN actress Jeanne Eagles created the role in the dramatization, "Rain," in the early Twenties, it made theatrical history, and was followed by a silent screen version starring Gloria Swanson, an early talkie with Joan Crawford and a later version with Rita Hayworth.

Perhaps none of the action these versions much resembled what goes on in Samoa, but it did create an interest in this Pacific isle, where the rainfall got on the heroine's nerves.

But that was a long time ago, another era, and most people may have forgotten that Sadie's misadventures took place here. It's just as well, too, for Pago Pago does not offer that sort of excitement. Life is rather quiet; perhaps it was in those days also, for the local appeal is not to the barfly who seeks his solace at international water holes.

THE NATIVES here are just about as attractive as their better known Polynesian cousins in Tahiti, and this island is almost as spectacular as that one, which is high praise for everything. Here, U.S. money is used, postage costs the same and there is no frustration by currency, customs or language, although there is almost no frustration by language in any of the countries of the Pacific. English is widely known in all of them.

On the other hand, this is not exactly homelike, for visitors are in a superb Polynesian locale, surrounded by impressive peaks, towering palms, tropical flowers and the over-all soothing sounds of the South Seas breaking playfully along the shore.

There are no great beaches here, as great beaches go, for the island is bordered with coral reef which has prevented the formation of wide beaches. The gleaming white sandy lagoons, however, make up for their absence, complemented by exotic waterfalls, and foliage.

SAMOANS DO have a language of their own, similar to that spoken on other Polynesian islands, and they speak it at home. The young Samoans are bilingual, learning English in school where they are taught just as they would be on the United States mainland. There are even classes for them conducted by television.

Most activity here centers on a pseudo "village green, or maile," in the center of town, which is more like a large village. Airline offices border it, as do some small stores, a movie theater, some bars and even two or three churches. It's a quiet sort of activity until a shipload of cruise passengers arrives here. Then, for a few hours, it becomes a frenetic bazaar, or open air market, when local products are placed on exhibit for sale, and what remain is whisked away when the ship departs. Looking down on this scene is the handsome white home of Governor H. Rex Lee, for it commands a view from a low spur of the western mountains.

There are only two small hotels; neither is glamorous, but they are adequate, and there are plans for a new one. But people do not come here for great comfort. Fishing might be the lure for most of them as nearby waters can be so full of yellow-fin, bonito or tuna that they seem anxious to end up on a dinner table, or as part of a colorful and delicious Samoan feast cooked in an outside oven. What emerges is like manna from heaven must have been.

MARKET DAY — Whenever a ship arrives in the harbor at Pago Pago, American Samoa, the open air market place does a thriving business for tourists. There are plenty of souvenirs on that lovely island in the South Pacific. (T

SAMOA lies right on an air route to Australia and New Zealand, by way of the Fiji Islands, and the planes stop here at no additional fare. It's a good opportunity for travelers to get out and linger awhile.

For more information about American Samoa, write to the Pacific Area Travel Association, 442 Post Street, San Francisco 2, California. (T

1964 Is Year For Britain

Shakespeare Centenary Celebration Scheduled

by JEANNE WELCH
Travel Editor

"The chance of a lifetime" is a loosely-used cliche, but 1964 will literally offer Britain-bound travelers that chance. Only once in every 100 years can one say, "I was in Britain during the Shakespeare Centenary celebrations."

WELCH

In 1964 the 400th anniversary of the poet's birth will find "this sceptered isle . . . this other Eden . . . , " as Richard II called it, celebrating in a variety of ways.

The celebrations will, of course, attract visitors in volume, so early plans and reservations are necessary. It's not a bit too soon to begin planning for an early spring trip.

April 23 is the date for the opening of the new Shakespeare Centre at Avon. On the same day the Royal Shakespeare Theatre, also at Avon, will open the season which will include Richard II, Henry IV and Henry V.

In London Sir Laurence Olivier will be at the National Theatre in Othello. Covent Garden Opera's repertory will include Macbeth, Othello and Falstaff.

London, of course, contains many sites mentioned in the great plays. There's the Tower of London, with its Beefeater Guards in their colorful Tudor costumes, and Middle Temple Hall where Queen Elizabeth I attended a performance of "Twelfth Night," to name only two.

Prices in England are usually a pleasant surprise for U.S. visitors. While quoting prices can be a dangerous practice, it is reasonably safe to say that lodgings and meals are usually 25 to 40 per cent under the prices for comparable accommodations in this country. In London a comfortable but unpretentious hotel room may be $6 to $7, including breakfast. In the delightful country inns, some of them dating from Shakespeare's day, a room is about $4.00, but don't look for a private bath.

A pleasant surprise, too, for the first-time visitor, is the food. Long accustomed to tired jokes about the overcooked, unimaginative food, the dubious traveler instead finds that things have changed. In London's Soho district there are foreign restaurants of every description. In addition, better shipping and refrigeration methods make possible better meals. England is a maritime nation and for the seafood lover this means a great deal. Found on English menus are such familiar items as oysters, prawns, lobsters, crabs, together with the more unfamiliar cockles, winkles, whelks and mussels.

Many airlines offer special winter rates to Britain and the continent, good until May 1, so an April trip would mean not only the avoidance of the heavy summer crowds but an appreciable savings as well.

As a coincidental postscript to last week's column on Old Williamsburg (which, of course, owes much of its heritage to Britain) comes news of an exhibit at Chicago's Merchandise Mart. During the International Home Furnishings Market, Jan. 6-11, an extensive collection of furniture and accessories, Williamsburg reproductions, will be on exhibit at the Mart. Following the closing of the Market, the exhibit will be made available to the general public. It will provide an opportunity for lovers of authentic reproductions to browse around and to learn which local merchants carry the various lines of reproductions. (T

Hotels Through the Ages

Innkeeping Today Is Jet Jump from Centuries Ago

Can you picture yourself sharing your hotel or motel bed with three or more strangers? Or having to knock on all the doors in town in order to find someone who would put you up? Or traveling with all the fuel, food and bedding you and your family would need for the entire trip?

If you can, you'd have been perfectly comfortable traveling at any time in any country during the last 12,000 years! While the hotel or motel that brings business and culture to area communities represents one of the oldest industries in history, innkeeping today is quite a jet jump from what it was only a few centuries ago.

IF YOU had been one of the very first travelers in history to stay at an inn, the year would have been about 10,000 B.C.—the place somewhere in the Orient—and your hotel more nearly a motel. In those days your "room" would have been a plot of ground by a stream rented to you for the night by the landlord. A return engagement some centuries later would have netted you the same plot of ground by the same stream, but this time walled and roofed and much more expensive, no doubt!

The first inns recorded in history were called "khans" or "caravanserai" and there are several possible mentions of them in the bible. However, few inns in Joseph's time were built for that purpose. Most were portions of private dwellings and their standards of cleanliness were notoriously unlike those of the modern hostelry where everything is not only spanking clean but renewed every few years.

In these early inns food was sometimes available, but more often than not all you got from your landlord was sleeping space and an interest in whatever tall tales you could tell of other lands.

While ruins of inns have been found in sophisticated Pompeii and along the well-run Roman roads of the United Kingdom, the need to take along your own bed and board and fuel was common throughout the Middle Ages and the hotel or motel room that is private and has a lock on the door is a pretty modern invention.

IN MEDIEVAL times, most travelers stayed in manors or monasteries. One of the earliest—built in 962 and rebuilt during the 17th century—is the home of the famous St. Bernard dog who rescues travelers with his brandy flask. Originally an Augustine monastery, and still in operation today, it was built high in the Alps between Switzerland and Italy, and seems to have come up with the hotel industry's first recorded public relations gesture, though clean bedding was not supplied.

You could have had sheets, however, and table linen to boot, in the English inns that became famous during the 16th century. One such place advertised (in the spelling of the times): "sumptuous inne . . . verie well furnished with naperie (linens) . . . ech comer sure to lie in cleane sheets wherein no man hath been lodged since they came from the laundresse."

English inns lost their fame to American inns shortly after the American Revolution. Some people have theorized that this happened because the English catered to the aristocracy, which was limited in size, while the American catered to the masses and had more incentive to develop.

IN THE opinion of others, the Yankee traders simply were better businessmen and recognized early that the town with the inn was the town that got both the travelers' dollars, and the prestige of the visiting dignitary. Westport, Connecticut, still recalls with pride in the town annals how George Washington slept "here"—at the local inn—when he traveled from Boston to New York along the old King's Highway!

(Innkeepers had their problems even in those rough and ready days. As the story is told, word had gone ahead to prepare a meal for the General, and his hostess did—a lavish one—only to discover that Washington's set of false wooden teeth couldn't handle it!)

The early inns that housed Washington and subsequently stole England's innkeeping reputation, were homes converted to hold about three large rooms containing three to ten beds each. Each bed was built for three or more people (boots not allowed under the covers), and the landlord counted it a very bad night indeed if each of his beds did not have at least two sleepers. And just as today's local hotel or motel lounge and dining room are gathering places for local clubs and townspeople, the early American inn was the cultural center of the village.

WHATEVER it was that caused America to spurt ahead in the hostelry business, it is a fact that the first hotel ever built as such was the City Hotel put up in New York in 1794. If its 73 rooms don't seem impressive today, it nevertheless held the lead in the industry until Boston built the Tremont House in 1829, where rooms were not only private, but had locks on the doors, water pitchers, hand basins, and as a final blow for luxury—free soap!

Since the grandoise, free-soap days of the Tremont, hotels and motor hotels have changed quite a lot. The biggest hotels in America have 3,000 rooms—not three or 73. You don't travel with your own food, fuel and bedding anymore—the nation's hotels can serve 1,030,000 meals simultaneously.

But some things probably won't change as long as people are people: motels and hotels are welcome businesses because of the dollars they bring to, and spend in, the community—and because of the culture, the tall tales of far lands, and the aura of romance each traveler brings with him to the inn, be it a plot of ground by a stream or the newest tower in Manhattan!

Folkman-Groat Rites Unite Local Families

Gold and white formed the color scheme for the afternoon wedding on Nov. 9 in which Patricia A. Folkman of Mount Prospect became the bride of Charles J. Groat of Rolling Meadows. Adding a touch of "something old" to the decorations in St. Raymond Church were 2-generation-old satin ribbons which were tied to the pews, along with sprigs of ivy.

The bride, daughter of Vance Folkman, 900 Meyer Road, came down the aisle on the arm of her father, following a procession of four adult attendants, a ring bearer and a flower girl.

THE BRIDE'S attendants were all gowned alike in gold brocaded taffeta floor-length dresses with bell skirts and a flowing panel at the back. Their headpieces were fashioned of gold brocaded taffeta loops with a cluster of rosebuds, and they carried cascades of mums.

Matron of honor was Mrs. Mary Finn of Chicago, whose bouquet was of light brown mums. Bridesmaids were Diane Groat, the groom's sister; Linda Black of Arlington Heights and Beryl Slonecker of Rolling Meadows. Their bouquets were of yellow and brown mums.

KIMBERLY Bell, 2½, of Palos Heights, Ill., was flower girl in a green organdy floor-length dress with a floral headpiece and carried a basket of yellow and brown miniature mums.

Serving as ring bearer was 2-year-old Timmy Groat of Mundelein.

Father Daniel Coughlin united the couple in double ring rites. The bridegroom, whose parents are Mr. and Mrs. Bernard Groat of 3401 Bob-O-Link Lane, chose William Cosper of Arlington Heights as his best man. Ushering the guests to their pews were Daniel Folkman, the bride's brother; Ronald Kruse of Round Lake, and Donald Slonecker of Rolling Meadows.

FOR HER wedding the bride wore a chantilly lace gown with sabrina neckline, long sleeves, a basque bodice and tiered bouffant skirt which ended in a chapel train. Her 3-tiered veil fell from a crown of lace petals, and her bouquet was a cascade of spider mums and white roses.

Immediately after the 2 o'clock ceremony the bridal pair visited the grave of the bride's mother in All Saints Cemetery, Des Plaines, and placed a bouquet of white roses there.

A dinner reception in Mount Prospect Country Club feted the couple, and later the guests went to the Vance Folkman home for an open house. During the day's festivities the groom's mother wore a red and black sheath dress with a black pillbox hat and had a corsage of white glamellias with red roses.

THE NEWLYWEDS' 3-day honeymoon was spent in Shawano, Wis., visiting the bride's grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. August Folkman, who are former Mount Prospect residents.

The couple is now at home at 228 Washington Square, Elk Grove Village.

The bride is a graduate of Prospect High School and has been employed by Lester Lawrence & Sons, Elk Grove. The groom, a Palatine High graduate, works for C & C Masonry in Rolling Meadows. (S

Holiday Party For Homemakers

Old Orchard Country Club was the scene of the Christmas party for Mount Prospect Unit of the Cook County Homemakers Extension Association. Held Dec. 18, the party featured a grab bag gift exchange.

At the previous meeting, held in Mount Prospect Country Club, members heard Mrs. Claradehl Upham, home advisor, give the lesson, "Foreign Trade and How It Affects our Homes." Members also joined in the discussion.

Sandy Larsen Is Installed As Bethel's Honored Queen

A bright red backdrop, on which appeared the name, "Sandy," in silver letters, decorated the stage of Arlington Heights Masonic Temple Saturday evening as Miss Sandy Larsen of Arlington Heights was installed as honored queen of Bethel 103, Jobs Daughters, Arlington Heights. Glittering silver trees, bathed in rays from revolving spotlights, added to the setting.

A surprise of the evening was the arrival of a bouquet of pink roses telegraphed to the new honored queen from an aunt in California. Among the guests were Miss Larsen's grandmother, Mrs. Lillian Maier, who came from Florida to be among the honored guests.

The ceremony included an escort of DeMolay members, the rose ceremony by Roy Schaetzlein guardian of the bethel, and the presentation of a bouquet of red roses and the Bethel doll, the latter, a gift from the honored queen's grandparents.

OTHER OFFICERS installed were Sue Livingston, senior princess; Ellen Davis, junior princess; Bonnie Birch, guide; Sue Heilig, marshal; Vicky Slater, recorder; Diane Davis, treasurer; Ruth Moulton, chaplain; Karla Koeneke, librarian, Donna Reed, musician; Linda Broberg, first messenger.

Also Carole Herda, second messenger; Sheryl Thuerk, fifth messenger; Carol Malmquist, senior custodian; Janice Randle, junior custodian; Rollie Banta, inner guard; and Marva Huizenga, outer guard.

Installing officer was Miss Nancy Heilig, who was assisted by Barbara Davis, Barbara Klekamp, Cheryl Dunker, Judy Nixon, Gayle Johnson, Prisca Stiarwalt, Bonnie Smith, Janet Klinkey and Laura Synder. Odes to the flags were given by Marcia Bower and Carol Cory.

MISS DIXIE Alletto signed her name to the roll of past honored queens and presented the honored queen's jewel of office to Miss Larsen, who also received the past honored queen's pin.

Besides Miss Larsen's grandmother, other honored guests included Mrs. Lulu Schulze and Miss Cheryl O'Brien. (S

Palatine Still 'Home' To Recent Newlyweds

A Palatine couple, married Nov. 9 in the local Methodist Church, are making their first home at 124 Teonia Woods in that village. The former Phyllis A. McDougall, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. R. E. McDougall, 207 W. Chicago Ave., is now Mrs. Robert Ambos. The groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. A. Ambos, 125 Teonia Woods.

Rev. Wilbur Childres united the pair before their families and friends at 5 in the afternoon, and later on they were feted at a reception in the Plum Grove Club, Plum Grove Estates.

A WHITE taffeta sheath dress, floor-length with a detachable train, was chosen by the bride for her wedding day. A flower motif was embroidered on the rounded neckline and the edge of the skirt, and it also adorned the pillbox hat which held the bride's bouffant veil in place. She carried a bouquet of white orchids, white roses and stephanotis.

Roberta McDougall, the bride's sister, was her maid of honor, wearing a fuchsia velvet ballerina length dress with an organza apron trimmed in matching velvet. Her pillbox hat was also fashioned of fuchsia velvet, and she carried a bouquet of white mums tied with fuchsia ribbon.

WEARING dresses identical to the maid of honor's were Gail Kotrba of Palatine and Bonnita Hahn of Rolling Meadows, bridesmaids. Serving as flower girl, 5-year-old Jill Herchanbach of Libertyville came down the aisle in a fuchsia dress to match the adult attendants.

John McDougall of Buffalo Grove, a 3-year-old, was ring bearer.

TWO OF the young men who served the groom are friends from college days at Western Illinois University in Macomb. They were the best man, Jack Collins, and an usher, Del Snyder. The other usher was Wayne Hertel of Palatine, a friend of the groom's.

Carol Martin was soloist for the nuptials, and Mercie Heise, organist.

For the day's festivities Mrs. McDougall wore a gold dress with matching accessories and a purple orchid corsage. Mrs. Ambos chose green satin with matching accessories and had a green orchid pinned to her shoulder.

The couple honeymooned for a week at the Wagon Wheel and are now settling their Palatine home.

Both attended Palatine High School. The bride now works in the Arlington Heights office of Illinois Bell Telephone Co., the groom for Photo Plate Corp. in Chicago. (S

Buffalo Grove Women Hold Holiday Party

Old Orchard Country Club, aglow with sparkling gold wreaths and a crackling blaze in the fireplace, was the scene of the Buffalo Grove Women's Club Christmas party Dec. 9. Club members were greeted at the door by Mrs. John Koepke, Mrs. Richard Holtz and Mrs. Harry Rueckel of the program committee.

Simple wool sheaths, rich brocades and the new shift jumpers were among the popular styles worn by the women as they joined friends around the punch bowl.

The Junior Choraliers from Prospect High School sang traditional Christmas carols and also sang a song reminiscent of the twinkling music box days. Following the choral group, a buffet of caviar canapes, assorted salads, rolls and coffee and angel food cake was served.

MRS. DEAN Hanebuth, program chairman, gave out song books and the women sang the ageless Christmas carols, accompanied on the piano by Mrs. Edward Dreber.

A rousing "Jingle Bells" heralded the arrival of "a jolly old man, so nimble and quick, I knew in a moment it must be St. Nick." The jolly gentleman, alias Jack Kranberger, distributed gifts to all.

The party ended with the women lighting the tiny candles, made by Mrs. Marvin Green, and singing "Silent Night."

Heights Woman To Conduct Makeup Program

Mrs. W. R. McLean of Arlington Heights will conduct a program on skin care and make-up techniques Jan. 7 when United States Public Health Service Wives' Club of Chicagoland meets at noon in the Emerald Room of the Sherman House, Chicago.

At the executive board meeting in November, Mrs. R. E. Johnson, also of Arlington Heights, was appointed housing chairman for the club. Mrs. Johnson is currently in the process of compiling a brochure to assist public health service families in locating and to assist in making the move to the Chicagoland area a pleasant experience.

Purpose of the club is to promote the closer association and mutual well being of the wives of public health service personnel.

RAND & CENTRAL MOUNT PROSPECT

ITEM: Fragile glass Christmas tree ornaments and chip-prone figurines from the creche can be protected against breakage and sharp knocks while in storage by wrapping them in a sheet of soft foam rubber. The foam soaks up jolts better than crumpled paper.

ITEM: Pewter, an alloy of tin and other metals, is very soft and must be handled carefully to avoid scratching. Wash in hot, sudsy water, rinse, and polish dry with a soft cloth. If tarnished, use a silver polish. A soft luster enhances pewter.

ITEM: Modern science has an answer to the iron rust in water supply problem. Plastic pipe is a good replacement for badly corroded or rusty metal pipe, and it can be installed rather easily.

ITEM: When you plan and prepare meals for the family or a community function, think about each step. Some foods, such as frozen desserts can be made in advance and kept in the freezer; preprocessed, ready-to-cook products can be real time-savers; but, if your budget is limited, home prepared dishes are more economical.

(before you know it, there will be none)

This cheerful message is not meant to give you the holiday jitters. Your friendly stores and shops at Old Orchard simply want you to know ('tho time is fleeting) you can shape up your Christmas gift list in short order if you hurry over now.

Charity Group Observes Christmas

HAPPY WITH THEIR Christmas gifts are Mrs. J. A. Koerner, Mrs. George Bond and Mrs. M. R. Kephart, who are among the newer members of the Arlington Heights Chapter of the Infant Welfare Society. Besides the gift exchange among themselves, members brought infants' and children's clothing which will be donated to the station where area chapter members aid doctors and nurses in their work with underprivileged children. Christmas card sales by the charity group netted $250, making a total of $3,000 earned during 1963. (S

Family Yule Party For Masons, OES

Arlington Heights Masons and OES will sponsor their annual Christmas party for members and their families Friday, Dec. 20, at 7:30 p.m. in the Masonic Temple on S. State Road, Arlington Heights. There will be games, a clown and Santa Claus with gifts, according to members.

Members convened Dec. 12 for their regular monthly meeting with the new officers serving for the first time. Miss Beverley Albrecht and Neil Lingingston, newly - installed worthy matron and worthy patron, served in the East. Miss Albrecht announced her committees and also the scheduled dates and events for the coming year.

NEXT REGULAR meeting of the chapter will be held at 7:30 p.m. Dec. 26. This will be a Christmas party and members are asked to bring a gift for the grab bag.

All OES members in the community are invited to attend meetings, which are held the second and fourth Thursdays of each month. (S

Stephen A. Mundy Takes Bride in Ft. Lauderdale

Melrose Park Methodist Church in Fort Lauderdale, Fla. was the scene of a double ring ceremony Nov. 16 in which Stephen A. Mundy, son of the Arthur C. Mundys, 632 Burton Place, Arlington Heights, took as his bride, Miss Fay Roberts, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Roberts of Wilmington, N.C. The service was followed by a reception for 75 in the Yankee Clipper Hotel on the beach at Fort Lauderdale.

The bride was given in marriage by her brother, Jerry Roberts, and wore a gown of luster satin fashioned with floor-length belled skirt, detachable back panels and a beateau neckline. She carried a bouquet of white orchids and white feathered carnations.

ATTENDING the bride as maid of honor was Jean Catlow of Fort Lauderdale, who wore a rose peau de soie gown with elbow-length sleeves, and trimmed with bows at the pleated skirt. She carried a bouquet of pink carnations. Milly Kirkpatrick was bridesmaid and wore a rose peau gown of identical style to that of the maid of honor. Also in the wedding party was a 10-year-old ring bearer, Billy Catlow.

Charles Hansen III of Pompano Beach was the groom's best man and usher was Eugene Higgins.

The groom was graduated from Arlington High School and the University of Miami, and he and his bride are now residing at 2620 S.W. 19th St. in Fort Lauderdale, where he is associated with the Florida Power and Light Co. (S

Petite Brunet Is Automotive Pioneer

by JODY CARR

Quite successfully, members of the fair sex have invaded the previously all male worlds of government, medicine, engineer- and more. There are certain areas in which a woman can handle a job as well as any man, and sometimes better.

Now a brand new field awaits the female who is willing to give it a go . . . the rather challenging job of automotive customer relations, which is really just a fancy name for "complaint department" in spades.

CARR

Our pioneer is Miss Freda Shipley, a small but mighty brunette who spends many hectic hours each day at a large automobile agency. According to Miss Shipley, the company policy is to maintain satisfied customers, and she's there to do just that. She works hand in glove with her service manager, keeping tabs on the customers' problems and making sure everything is done to their satisfaction.

TO MY WAY of thinking, there are gayer ways to spend one's time, but Miss Shipley is sold on her job, and her boss is sold on her ability. "Freda," he says, "is one in a million." Apparently, this job definitely is best handled by a woman, but she has to be the right woman.

Qualifications? Immunity to pressure, top flight disposition, a way with people and absolute poise. All these Miss Shipley has. She has developed a rapport with the mechanics in the service department, the salesmen and the manufacturer, all of whom were dubious at first about a woman in their world.

Her duties are interesting and varied. Not only does she serve as a one-woman public relations department. She also sells, interviews, does some of the firm's newspaper advertising and acts as the president's good right arm.

MISS SHIPLEY says hers has been an uphill battle all the way. As is often the case when a woman invades a man's bailiwick, she is constantly confronted with the problem of convincing someone that she is capable of handling her job. But step by step she is paving the road for any of the rest of us who would like to try our hands at this kind of thing.

From what I saw during our interview, a classified ad for someone to fill Miss Shipley's job might read something like this:

"Wanted: Large automobile dealership needs attractive woman experienced as psychiatrist, secretary, saleslady, executive, mechanic, lawyer and public relations consultant."

I doubt that you'll see a classified ad for a job like this. It is a brand new field for women. But if the challenge interests you, you might try convincing an automobile dealer that his business needs you.

To help you along this line, tell your prospective employer to talk to Freda Shipley's boss about it. If that doesn't convince him, he's unconvinceable.

Mail-Worthy Yule Cookies Say 'Wish You Were Here'

A box of homemade Christmas cookies mailed to out-of-town friends and relatives is a wonderful way to say "wish you were here for the holidays." To make sure your gift arrives whole and delicious, follow these suggestions:

1. Mail early—Your package will fare better if mailed before the rush during the last two weeks before Christmas. Of course, your friends also will enjoy sampling the thoughtful treats during the pre-holiday season.

2. Select "mail-worthy" varieties. Cookies that keep their fresh flavor at least a week and cookies that do not break easily are the best candidates for mailing.

For example, chewy or crunchy cookies pack well, as do thicker ice box cookies. Delicate meringues or perishable drop-cakes are not good travelers.

3. Wrap carefully—First, select a firm box. As you place cookies in the box, wrap individually in Kleenex tissues. Use a variety of pastel tissues to create a gay holiday effect. Fill in any extra space with additional crumpled tissue.

Gift-wrap the box, then cover with corrugated paper. Place in a slightly larger outer box, seal and label.

Before you take it to the post office, mark the package "Fragile" . . . and, "Please Open Before Christmas." (S

THURS., DEC. 19, 1963

Time-Savers In the Home

The Christmas season is a time when friends drop in and refreshments are served frequently. Before the increased entertainment activity, it's wise to "holiday-pro" your floors and furniture.

AN EXTRA-heavy coat of wax will help protect your table-tops from rings caused when drinking glasses are placed carelessly on the table. Moisture and spills stay on top of the waxed surface, rather than staining your precious furniture.

A good beeswax paste, a strong arm, and a roll of soft paper towels provide the best protection for your furniture. Apply wax sparingly and rub to a high lister with paper towels. One application, before the holiday season, will last through the festivities. Just buff up with a fresh paper towel each day when you dust.

Your floors need "holiday-proofing" to. To protect hardwood and vinyl tile floors from holiday traffic, clean and apply two coats of wax. A thorough waxing not only protects floors, but requires just quick wipe-ups during the busy season.

Fashion Board Wraps-Up Season with Gala Party

With 1963 rapidly coming to an end, the Wieboldt Junior Fashion Board bade a fond farewell to the fun-filled days as fashion board members last Tuesday evening in the conference room, which was transformed into a "Winter Wonderland" for the occasion.

Fashion counselor, Mrs. Marcella Schwind, introduced guests, Mrs. Helen Keane, Miss Sue Dameron, Ralph Lang and George Burns, who spoke briefly to the graduating board members and their mothers, wishing them well and thanking them for their excellent work. Barb Rucker, the "Teen Queen," then presented each of the guest speakers with an honorary scroll.

AWARDS FOR participation in board activities were presented to Donna Dearen, Barb Rucker, Sandy Bouda, Jerilyn Tabbert and Diane Klopf by Mr. Burns, the store manager. Diplomas were awarded to all the board members, and were taken from an attractice "diploma tree" designed by Ralph Lang for the occasion.

The serious part of the program then gave way to the "fun part of the evening." Donna Dearen, taking over as mistress of ceremonies, introduced each girl and her talent, taking part in a program of singing, dancing and reciting. Movies of the fashion shows in which the girls participated were also shown.

To end a perfect evening, refreshments were served from a buffet table. Interviews for the next Fashion Board will take place early in January, 1964.

Nut Balls Among Season's Treats

by LOIS SEILER

Christmas in the John Everett Morgan household signifies such goodies as coffee cakes, cookies and roasted nuts being baked in Mrs. Morgan's kitchen.

"It wouldn't be Christmas without certain favorites being prepared each year," Mrs. Morgan commented. And her family's favorites include a Christmas coffee cake which resembles a bouquet of holly, rich and deicious cookies called nut balls, roasted almonds and a potato sausage stuffing for the Christmas turkey.

The nut balls are a "melt in your mouth" type of cookie containing chopped almonds. Shaped like small balls, the baked cookies are shaken in a bag of confectioners sugar while they are hot. These are a delightful cookie to include in a Christmas assortment.

Mrs. Morgan's recipe for roasted almonds is one which her mother always made, and is now a tradition in the Morgan household. These almonds are simply roasted in butter in the oven, salted liberally and cooled. They keep well in a tightly-covered container, and are always a welcome holiday treat.

Not only are Heather Morgan's coffee cakes enjoyed by her family, but by her friends and neighbors as well, for each year she makes a goodly number for Christmas giving.

"This can easily be done ahead of time," Mrs. Morgan explained, "for these cakes freeze nicely." She forms a foil container for each cake, wraps them in Saran and stores them in the freezer. Thus they are all gift-wrapped as well as tightly-sealed, and need only be tied with a red ribbon before they are given away.

THESE YEAST coffee cakes are made in either round or square 8-inch pans, topped with sliced apples and sprinkled with cinnamon and sugar. Green colored sugar and red cinnamon candies are used for decoration, and as the cakes bake the apple edges curl and brown, with the finished product looking like colorful holly.

One recipe makes four cakes, and they are good served hot or cold. What could be more appealing than a decorative and delicious coffee cake for breakfast on Christmas morning?

And for that turkey dinner, you'll want to try Mrs. Morgan's interesting and unusual potato sausage stuffing.

This recipe has been in Mr. Morgan's family (all Connecticut Yankees) for generations. It calls for finely chopped boiled potatoes, bulk sausage and bread crumbs tossed together with onion, celery and seasonings, and moistened with water, butter and sausage drippings. Giblets may be added if desired.

"This dressing can be made a day ahead," Mrs. Morgan said, "although the turkey shouldn't be stuffed until baking time."

This is a moist and solid dressing with a different flavor that makes it delightful holiday dinner fare.

Looking forward to enjoying these Christmas specialties are the Morgans' two children, Russell, 4, and Brian, 10 months. The Morgan family lives at 1805 N. Kennicott in Arlington Heights. Mrs. Morgan is a member of Pi Beta Phi Alumnae Club.

AS ROUND AND WHITE as a snowball are the delicious Christmas Nut Balls baked by Mrs. John Everett Morgan of Arlington Heights. Looking forward to sampling their mother's rich and delicate cookies are Mrs. Morgan's two sons, Brian, 10 months, and Russell, 4 years old. (SH

NUT BALLS

1 cup butter
½ cup confectioners' sugar
1 teaspoon almond flavoring
1 tablespoon vanilla flavoring
2 cups flour
½ teaspoon salt
½ cup chopped almonds

Cream butter and sugar. Add flavorings. Mix in flour and salt. Stir in nuts. Chill in refrigerator for one to two hours.

Roll by hand into small balls. Bake at 325 degrees for 25 minutes on ungreased cookie sheet. Quickly remove them with a spatula and shake the hot cookies gently (4 to 5 at a time), in a bag of confectioners sugar to coat well. Gently remove cookies from bag with tongs. Cool cookies on waxed paper or tea towel.

ROASTED ALMONDS

1 pound blanched almonds
⅛ to ¼ pound butter
Salt

Melt butter in a large roasting pan in a 350 degree oven. Add nuts and spread in a layer. Stir to coat, adding more butter if needed. Roast until lightly browned, stirring occasionally. Salt liberally and spread on waxed paper to cool. Store in tightly-covered containers.

CHRISTMAS COFFEE CAKE

2 packages dry yeast
½ cup warm water
½ cup sugar
2 teaspoons salt
2 eggs
1½ cups lukewarm milk, which has been scalded and cooled
½ cup soft butter
7 to 8 cups flour

Dissolve yeast in warm water. Stir in sugar, salt, eggs, milk, butter and 3½ cups of the flour. until dough pulls away from sides of the bowl forming a ball and is easy to handle.

Knead on floured board, adding flour as needed. Knead until smooth and elastic and place in a large greased bowl. Cover bowl tightly with Saran Wrap and place in the sun, if possible. Let rise until double in bulk. Punch down and let rise again.

Divide dough into quarters and pat each into a greased, 8-inch round or square pan. Spread top of each with 2 tablespoons melted butter. Arrange thin slices of apple over this, cut in small pieces as for pie. Sprinkle each cake with a mixture of ¼ cup sugar and ½ teaspoon cinnamon.

Sprinkle cakes liberally with green colored sugar. Sprinkle ¼ cup red cinnamon candies on the top of each cake. Cover with Saran and let rise for 30 minutes.

Cover cakes lightly with foil and bake at 400 degrees for 10 minutes. Remove foil and bake 20 minutes more. Let cool about five minutes in pan before removing them.

Make foil containers for each cake and wrap in Saran. Store in the freezer. Serve hot or cold.

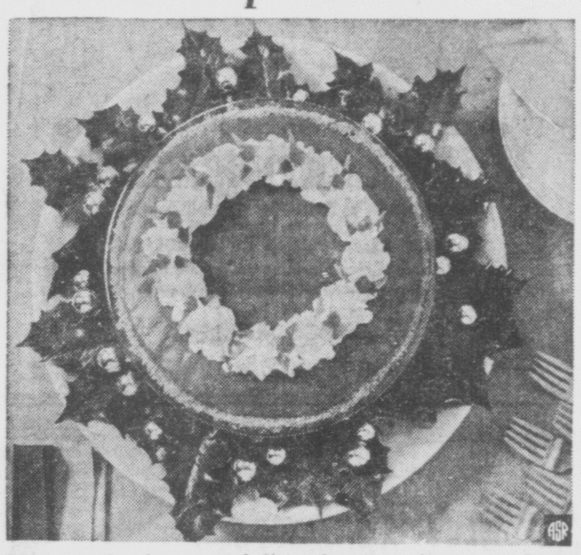
POTATO SAUSAGE STUFFING

5 cups bread crumbs
5 cups finely-chopped boiled potatoes
1 pound bulk sausage, browned
½ cup sausage grease
½ cup butter
1 large onion, chopped and browned in butter and grease
1 to 1½ cups chopped celery
1½ teaspoons pepper
2 tablespoons poultry seasoning
Water

Toss all ingredients together and mix well. Add enough water to make a moist but not soggy dressing. Giblets may be added, if desired. This dressing can be made a day ahead, but do not stuff turkey until baking time.

Makes enough stuffing for a 12 pound turkey. (SH

Christmas Spectacular



Whatever the dessert at holiday dinner, it must be of a spectacular nature—and one of the handsomest is Christmas Chocolate Pie. The chocolate chiffon goes into a crust of mellow corn flake crumbs.

The pie derives its chocolate flavor from semi-sweet chocolate morsels, the same candy-like pieces the children love for out-of-hand nibbling. And thanks to the presence of reliable unflavored gelatin, the filling requires little cooking—only the few minutes necessary to dissolve the unflavored gelatin and melt the chocolate morsels.

For the rest, Christmas Chocolate Pie simply chills until ready for serving.

CHRISTMAS CHOCOLATE PIE

Crumb Crust:

4 cups corn flakes, crushed, or 1 cup corn flake crumbs
2 tablespoons sugar
⅓ cup butter or margarine

Put corn flake crumbs, sugar, and butter in a 9-inch pie pan. Place in moderate oven (350 degrees) 5 minutes or until butter melts; remove. Mix well and press mixture evenly and firmly around sides and on bottom of pie pan. Chill.

Filling:

1 envelope unflavored gelatin
½ cup sugar
⅛ teaspoon salt
1½ cups milk
1 6-ounce package (1 cup) semi-sweet chocolate morsels
1 teaspoon vanilla
1 cup heavy cream, whipped

Mix together unflavored gelatin, sugar and salt in saucepan. Stir in milk and semi-sweet chocolate morsels. Place over medium heat, stirring constantly, until morsels are melted, about 5 minutes.

Remove from heat; beat with a rotary beater until chocolate is blended. Stir in vanilla. Chill, stirring occasionally, until mixture mounds when dropped from a spoon, about 15 minutes. Fold in whipped cream.

Turn into prepared pie shell. Chill until firm. If desired, make wreath on top of pie with circle of additional whipped cream; garnish with pieces of candied cherries and citron. Yield: one 9-inch pie.

Here's HAUGH to Plan a Party

A Krazy Kookie Kut Up Party Is Ideal Family Party Fun

by DOLORES HAUGH

Mmmmm smell those cookies baking in the oven? That is a yummy part of Christmas. This year plan a family Krazy Kookie Kut Up Party.

INVITATIONS

Leave invitations for the family under their pillows if made of paper or alongside their breakfast plates one morning, as our children are as busy as we are. The invitation should be a cookie that you made (doesn't everyone bake a pre-Christmas batch?) and when making them, pierce them with a sardine can key so that a hole will bake right in them. If made of paper, use sandpaper, trim with cherry and tie on either with ribbon or string, a tag which reads:

Dear Family:

Our annual cooky decorating night will be ----. Please plan to attend as you are so good at decorating cookies. I have a few surprises for you too.

Signed -Mom

State time, too, as for younger children you will want to have it right after supper or on a Sunday afternoon.

PREPARATIONS

Be sure all the dough is chilled and ready as well as the equipment such as cookie press, cutters, and all kinds of pretty sugars, and cookie decorations. Place a quantity of these in muffin tins for easier handling. Be sure that you have plenty of space for each busy worker. A pretty apron for all participants is also a must and to add a little extra touch, make chef's hats out of white paper bakery bread bags and add a spray of holly to each. This gives the true party feeling.

Now, for the surprises. Try the following for fun.

1. From large double or triple recipes, divide dough and tint in chocolate, pink and green. For fun add almond to the pink, mint to the green, retaining plenty of white dough. Roll white dough to desired thickness on floured board and let small fry drop balls of colored dough, the size of large marbles, anywhere on the dough.

Roll again and cut with cutters. Your animals or cookie shapes will be spotted in the most attractive way.

2. Take a small box, oblong in shape about 4 inches x three inches and use this as a cookie cutter, or you may use a round coffee can lid. In the center of this piece of dough, use a cookie cutter, ie, a Christmas tree. Carefully remove center design making sure you do not disturb the outer circle or oblong of dough.

With sharp knife cut this remaining section into uneven sections and bake. Then package the center design and all pieces in plastic wrap for gifts as these make excellent puzzle cookies.

3. Make your own cookie cutters from the tooth side of wax paper cartons.

4. Use small fry for center trimmers - they place all cherries and nuts in the center of each small butter cookie. Be sure you assign jobs when the family arrives as it can be chaotic without a little preparation.

Be sure, too, that jobs change so interest is kept. By assigning jobs to those capable of them, you will have less mess but this, too, can be helped by working on newspapers which catch spills and can be easily gathered up and disposed of.

After the cookies are cooled, packed and a large sampling of each kind placed aside on a pretty Christmas tray or plate, have your family gather for a few carols while the hot chocolate and coffee is warming up. Then on your prettiest Christmas plates, and with Christmas napkins, have your Krazy Kookie Kut Up tasting session. It may sound like a lot of work, Mom, but of such things memories are made.

Happy tasting and don't forget to send some Krazy Kookies to someone less fortunate than yourselves. That is the giving part of Christmas! (S

'Fun Without Fuss'

Colorful Party Goods Aid Holiday Hostess

Busy hostesses will be pampering themselves with a "packaged maid service" and enjoying fun without fuss this holiday season with gay, colorful, work-saving paper party products.

There are more bright holiday patterns available this year than ever before, with many coming in matching paper cups, plates, napkins, coasters, table covers and centerpieces.

WHETHER it's a formal party, a family reunion or just an informal get-together, paper party service will be allowing hostesses to spend more time with their guests, by keeping them out of the kitchen. No dish washing after the party is also a welcome relief for the tired hostess.

Here are some suggestions for easy entertaining with paper party products during the holidays:

1. For the children at family gatherings, paper service at their special table adds to the holiday excitement—and you don't have to worry about your best china getting broken.

2. When decorating your home for the holidays, use several honeycomb centerpieces. They're particularly attractive on mantels, dining room tables, hall tables, and in front of picture windows.

3. Save on dish washing by using paper cups and plates for Christmas breakfast and those late Christmas night snacks.

4. Create a holiday atmosphere in the children's lunch boxes by including Christmas napkins and coasters during Christmas week.

5. Prepare for unexpected visitors or those who just drop by to say "hello," by placing candy, cookies and other holiday treats around the house in paper plates. Don't forget paper cups around your punch bowl.

6. Chances are you don't have enough china for a buffet party. Don't let this stop you from having your friends over for a party, however. Use paper cups and plates and all the matching accessories—napkins, coasters, table covers and centerpieces.

Danger in Misuse Of Barbiturates

Do you consider drug addiction part of a remote, sinister world of crime and vice? If you do, you will be surprised to learn that thousands of well-intentioned persons have become "hooked" on barbiturates, reports the Illinois State Medical Society.

Properly used — and this means under a doctor's supervision — barbiturates can relieve symptoms in a variety of conditions. In small doses they have a calming effect useful in the management of simple nervousness. Larger doses include sleep and needed sedation in times of extreme stress.

Your doctor may prescribe barbiturates to reduce the frequency and severity of epileptic seizures. Or, he may prescribe them to reduce tensions predisposing to ulcers and high blood pressure.

IT IS MISUSE—rather than use of barbiturates—that results in the tragic condition known as barbiturate addiction.

Although the barbiturate addict usually is a psychologically maladjusted person who morbidly "experiments" with the drugs, legitimate users also may become addicted if they exceed dosages prescribed by their physician.

Once "hooked," the barbiturate addict is easy to recognize. Invariably he undergoes startling and terrifying personality changes whenever the drug is withheld or no longer available to him. He becomes restless, quarrelsome, and sometimes even abusive — truly not the "person you used to know."

These changes are due to a psychologic dependence on barbiturates. With prolonged addiction the problem of psychologic dependence is compounded by a real physical need for the drugs due to chemical changes that take place in the body.

ALTHOUGH no current statistics are available, figures quoted at the First White House Conference on Narcotic and Drug Abuse last year suggest that there are 8 to 15 times as many persons suffering from habitual misuse of barbiturates as there are narcotics addicts.

If your physician has placed you on barbiturate medication, follow his instructions religiously. As prescribed, barbiturates are helpful and harmless. Used indiscriminately or as a "crutch," however, they pose a dangerous threat to health and happiness.

Colors Red, Green Part Of Christmas Festivity

The colors red and green are an integral part of the Christmas story.

The red is explained by the Rust Craft Greeting Cards in its Christmas card entitled the "Legend of the Christmas Rose." According to this ancient story, a little shepherdess, watching from afar as the Three Wise Men presented their gifts to the Christ Child, wept because she had no gift to offer.

FLOWERS sprang up where her tears fell, says the legend. She gathered them and hastened to present them to the Infant Jesus. While she was kneeling at the crib, His hand touched the petals and they turned a beautiful red.

A similar legend from Mexico tells how the flaming red poinsettia came to be connected with Christmas.

A poor Mexican boy went to church on Christmas Eve in great sadness because he did not have a gift to lay before the crib of the Holy Child. He knelt humbly on the cold ground outside the church and prayed. When he rose, a green plant with dazzling red blooms sprang up at his feet.

THE POINSETTIA was named for America's first ambassador to Mexico—Joel R. Poinsett who brought the flame-hued plant from Mexico in 1829.

Over the centuries, evergreens have played an important part in the Christmas celebration and the color green is symbolic of them and everlasting life.

The early French and English settlers hung pieces of evergreens over their doors to indicate that Christ was present.

HOLLY IS believed to have sprung up where the Infant Jesus took his first baby steps.

Numerous tales are told of how the Christmas tree came to be associated with Christmas. Historians believe, however, that it was Martin Luther in Germany who trimmed the first tree with candles to show his family the splendor of the night on which Christ was born. Later, apples, candy, and colored papers were added to the decorations.

Today the colors red and green dominate Christmas decorations. Red and green are the popular choices for ribbon at Christmastime, yet rank last—16th and 17th—in sales during the rest of the year. (S

Christmas Appeals To All Five Senses

by BETTY AINSLIE

Just bet your house is a bustling with decorations, preparations and celebrations for a holiday which comes and goes much too quickly.

Ever notice that people seem more friendly, laughter more contagious and faces brighter during this month of December?

Probably because in our observance of Christmas there is something appealing to every one of the five senses. What other holiday, for example, encompasses such a long period of preparation for one particularly short 24 hours? What other holiday enjoys such color, sparkle and excitement? What other holiday is so full of sound, sights and the special flavors pleasing to everyone?

First, the good sound of this special day. The silvery ringing of chimes, the throaty boom of bells, the pulsing deep notes of organ music and the blended voices of carolers all unite in filling our ears with the heart-tugging sounds of Christmas.

REMEMBER the street carolers? Seen through my young eyes they meant the great day was almost here. Christmas Eve they gathered under the yellow light of street lamps and sang carols. The air turned to frost as they sang and the soft pelting of snowflakes turned the corners into Christmas cards. The crunch of snow under booted feet and the cries of "Merry Christmas" as groups of the carolers would stop at houses for coffee and cookies.

There's the sound, too, of decorative paper being wrapped around excitingly shaped boxes —the crinkle of tissue paper being fitted around a special gift.

Perhaps that sound of rustling paper brings back the period when you knew there really wasn't a Santa Claus, but were afraid to admit it for fear the gifts might vanish with this sudden new knowledge.

I CAN remember that short spell in my own youth when the bustle of activity going on below my upstairs room had me too excited to sleep. The squeak of the lid on the cedar chest being lifted and the rattle of paper as surprises were lifted out one by one to be taken downstairs and placed under the tree.

My Dad singing "Come All Ye Faithful" as he took that extra long time shaving on that special morning so that I could be held a captive upstairs until grandparents and aunts, in various stages of hasty dressing, arrived to see me get that first and always remembered look at the tree.

And those trees. They appeared as if by magic on Christmas morning and the full impact of their green beauty decked with tarnished tinsel, China and glass ornaments that were year after year occupants of certain branches; we can probably all remember. The pointed spire for the top and the lights that were fish, camels, angels, stars — all magically bright and wonderful in their yearly appearance. Can't you still see that tree of your own Santa-believing days?

The sounds of this holiday blend with the sights. The sparkle of lights. The accumulation of gifts under the tree, gifts almost too pretty in outer wrappings to open.

THE SIGHTS of stained glass church windows aglow with candle light. Children's faces as they confide their secrets from the pillowed lap of the department store Santas. The flocked trees in rainbow soft hues. The silver ones alive from the colored spotlights playing on their sparkling branches.

We've the taste of candy canes, ribbon candy, cookies in fancy shapes, fruit cake and egg nog. The smell of fresh pine in the evergreen boughs of our green trees, or the essence of bayberry, pine and just plain wax that assails nostrils whenever a Christmas door is opened.

Even our sense of touch is bombarded by the smoothness of ribbon and the crispness of wrapping paper. The prickly feel of pine needles and the coldness of ornaments.

All these add up to the simple wonder of a Christmas which appeals to all senses. But perhaps best of all is that inner feeling of complete peace—of a strange contented happiness as we look down once again at the manger in the Christmas Eve services at our churches. This, the greatest of all our gifts, is given to us free every year by the baby whose birthday we celebrate.

Makeup Tricks For Partying

Holiday parties are the time to look your loveliest. Try these special occasion makeup tricks for the glowing look that matches your festive mood.

The luminous look—radiant as a Christmas candle—starts with your favorite foundation, applied over scrupulously clean skin. Next, apply a tiny dab of moisturizer over the foundation at forehead, cheeks and chin. Blot lightly with a Kleenex tissue, and you have the beginning of a holiday glow.

ROUGH, BRUSHED lightly across the cheek bones adds a natural blush. You can even blend it lightly into the hairline for an extra glow. But if you're wearing a bright red dress, or you have a florid complexion, omit rouge entirely.

The next step in your holiday makeup plan calls for loose powder in a pinkish cast, several shades lighter than your foundation. Press on the powder generously, never rub it in.

Then crumple a Kleenex tissue and brush off the excess, using a light, downward dusting motion.

TO COMPLETE the holiday picture, apply eye makeup. Now's the time to try Christtree green eyeshadow, and to be daring with eyeliner and mascara. Be sure to apply mascara to the lower lashes for the wide-eyed look.

Hold a folded tissue under the lashes when you brush on mascara to prevent unattractive smudges.

After applying mascara, hold the tissue in place a few seconds to allow mascara to dry.

Christmas Cards For 'Home' Decor

DECORATING WITH CHRISTMAS cards has become a popular custom in recent years. Shown are die-cut creations which carry friendly greetings and also blend in perfectly with holiday decor. By Rust Craft. (S

Been wondering what to do with those Christmas cards you've been receiving so that their colorful designs will continue to delight you all during the holidays?

They can be used in a number of exciting ways to supplement your Christmas decorations at home, particularly the big, bold modern designs covered with heavy leafing and sparkle.

THEY HAVE added a dimensional element to many cards—elegant, die-cut lanterns, ornaments, bells, candy jars, snowmen and many more—which in addition to carrying friendly holiday greetings, are designed to become an integral part of a home's holiday decorations.

eBsides decorating your mantels and tree, Rust Craft Greeting Cards suggests these other little "extras" to create a real holiday-at-home atmosphere in any home or apartment.

ALL YOU need is a pair of scissors, some cellophane tape, a ball of colored yarn or ribbon, the Christmas mail—and a little ingenuity.

—If you have a large wall mirror, perhaps in your hall, give it a flowing border of Christmas cards held in place with cellophane tape.

—Pin cards with distinctive designs to your living room drapes.

—If you want the air to be literally filled with Christmas cards, just run crepe paper streamers across the room and attach them with short strands of colored yarn.

—Place a brightly-hued card in the center of the holiday wreath on your door, preferably one with "Christmas Greetings" in large letters.

—DON'T forget the kitchen. This room is given less attention than any other when it comes to decorating at Christmas time.

—As a final touch, place several of your best Christmas cards with religious scenes of the Christ Child, the Three Wise Men or the Madonna, in an appropriate picture frame. It's a grand way to keep the spirit of Christmas in your home all year long. (S

A Gift-Giver's Specialty

Mosaic of Fruit, Nuts Fill Brazil Fruitcake

DELECTABLE WHITE Brazil Nut Fruitcake reveals mosaic of assorted fruits and nuts. Designed for gift-givers, it says "Happy Holidays" in a very special way. (SH

Over the holidays, every homemaker knows one thing about unexpected guests— you can always expect them to turn up. Since the Christmas season is the time of year for most social activity, it's a good idea to keep some festive fare on hand for folks who drop in.

A well-flavored, white fruitcake is perfection for this purpose—it can be prepared in advance yet is delectable enough to serve with pride. It resembles a rich pound cake in texture and each slice, upon cutting, reveals a wonderful mosaic of fruits and nuts.

A PIECE of fruitcake is always welcome with coffee and tea. When the nuts involved are Brazil nuts, the pastry is doubly welcome. The sweet, buttery nuts add incomparable flavor to the cake—and to a variety of other delectable holiday desserts as well.

Many a homemaker loves giving Christmas gifts of foods made from her own kitchen, and just about everyone finds this kind of present especially acceptable. White Brazil Nut Fruitcake is a perfect "gift from the kitchen." Its unusual variety of ingredients provide the "something extra" each cook strives for in a gift.

PREPARE A quantity of Brazil nuts in advance of holiday baking needs. To crack the sturdy shell, place several hours or overnight in the freezer or in the freezing compartment of the refrigerator. Freezing makes the nut brittle enough for effortless cracking. To chop, put them through the coarsest blade of the food grinder; or for larger pieces, use a French knife and a chopping board.

With a ready supply of nuts on hand, you can begin your fruitcake baking—and be sure to make enough for Christmas giving and for at home enjoyment, too.

WHITE BRAZIL NUT FRUITCAKE

1 cup shortening
1 cup sugar
5 eggs
1½ teaspoons grated lemon rind
1 tablespoon lemon juice
2½ cups sifted all-purpose flour, divided
1 teaspoon baking powder
¼ teaspoon salt
2 cups coarsely chopped Brazil nuts
1½ cups mixed candied fruit
1½ cups candied cherries
1 cup white raisins

Cream shortening; gradually add sugar, creaming thoroughly. Beat in eggs one at a time; blend until smooth. Stir in lemon rind and juice. Sift together 2 cups of the flour, baking powder and salt. Gradually stir into creamed mixture.

Toss Brazil nuts and fruit in remaining ½ cup flour; fold into batter. Turn into 2 greased and wax paper-lined 9 by 5 by 3-inch loaf pans or one 10-inch tube pan. Bake in slow oven (300 degrees) 1½ hours. Frost while warm with 1 cup sifted confectioner's sugar which has been combined with 4 teaspoons water.

If desired, garnish with Brazil nut slices and maraschino cherries. Yield: 2 loaf cakes or one 10-inch tube cake. (SH

Bountiful Buffet Featuring Cheese

DURING THE HOLIDAYS prepare a festive buffet table for guests. Simple, yet elegant hors d'ouevres can be made with tangy American blue cheese, which add just the right amount of zest to meats, shrimp and fruits. (SH

Because Christmas is such a special season, the entertaining done at this time also should be special. Most homemakers love simple, quick-to-fix items, but in this festive season it is worth the effort to spend a little more time in planning and preparation.

The food and decorations should in fact, be simple yet elegant. Attractive garnishing is important and easy. Any type of greens, such as parsley and holly leaves, add the needed amount of color and are very easy to arrange. Forethought is the keynote when planning your holiday party.

HERE ARE two unusual recipes for your Christmas party. The layered wedges are a tasty blend of American blue cheese, cream cheese and bologna. Even though the American blue cheese is a specialty cheese, it is economically priced and blends well with the bologna for an inexpensive taste sensation.

The shrimp sauce, that would also be excellent as a chip dip, is a mellow combination of sour cream and blue cheese. The mild flavor of the shrimp is enlightened by the peppy American blue cheese.

When planning your festive fare, don't forget that American blue cheese, fruit and crackers are always party-pleasers.

LAYERED WEDGES

1 3-ounce package cream cheese
¼ cup crumbled American blue cheese (approximately 1¼ ounces)
½ teaspoon garlic salt

Thin to spreading consistency with mayonnaise. Spread cheese mixture on 8-10 thin slices bologna. Pile 4-5 slices on top of each other. Spread top slice with cheese mixture and sprinkle parsley flakes on top. Cover with plastic wrap and chill or freeze. If frozen allow to thaw slowly in refrigerator.

When ready to serve cut into wedges. Spear with colored toothpick and serve. Makes 32 layered wedges—2 stacks.

BLUE CHEESE SAUCE FOR SHRIMP
(Makes 1½ cups)

¼ cup crumbled American blue cheese (approximately 1¼ ounces)
½ cup cultured sour cream
½ cup mayonnaise
1 teaspoon lemon juice
1 teaspoon grated onion

Mix sour cream, mayonnaise, lemon juice and grated onion well. Chill. When ready to serve, garnish sauce with crumbled blue cheese. Serve with cold boiled shrimp. (SH

Kitchen Gifts Are Gay, Bright

Wrapped in shining foil and tied with gay ribbons, a handsome aluminum mold or pan filled with a holiday cake, pie or coffee cake from your kitchen, will make a wonderful, long-remembered. Christmas gift.

Stores are filled with stars and rings and molds of many shapes—pie plates in all sizes. Some are natural silver in color; others, gay coppertoned aluminum, and all are reasonable in price.

ALUMINUM pans and molds are wonderful bakers—even the copper-toned pans are colored with a special material that withstands oven temperatures. And, if you bake ahead and freeze, give them an airtight lid of foil, sealed to the edges, and foods will keep in perfect condition for months.

Leave the foil in place during the one or two hours at room temperature that it takes to thaw the foods. Then add gift wrapping of foil and the food will remain fresh for several days.

When the food has been eaten and enjoyed, the pan will shine for years, being used over and over again for baking and molding, and between times, brighten the kitchen wall with its gay shape. (SH

Gingerbread Crowned By Tangy Hard Sauce

An old-fashioned gingerbread recipe comes to life when it is served with a tangy lemon flavored hard sauce for dessert. Everyone enjoys the spicy aroma and flavor of baked gingerbread, and this old-fashioned favorite is made with buttermilk for added tenderness and flavor.

The gingerbread may be baked in an oblong baking pan. To give it a dressed-up look use one of your prettiest molds. Chill the hard sauce slightly before serving, and when ready to serve, spoon a crown of the tasty hard sauce over the gingerbread. Coarsely grated lemon rind on top of the sauce makes an attractive garnish.

GINGERBREAD

½ cup butter
1 cup sugar
2 eggs, separated
1 cup molasses, dark
1 cup buttermilk
3 cups cake flour
1 teaspoon soda
1 teaspoon salt
2 teaspoons ginger
2 teaspoons cinnamon

Cream butter, add sugar, and cream until light and smooth. Add molasses and beaten egg yolks and mix thoroughly. Sift flour, measure; sift with salt, soda, and spices. Add flour mixture alternately with buttermilk. Fold in stiffly beaten egg whites.

Turn batter into well-greased and floured mold or 9-inch square pan. Bake in moderate oven, 350 degrees, 30-40 minutes. Serve hot topped with hard sauce. Makes 9 servings.

A CROWN OF HARD SAUCE makes this old-fashioned gingerbread a modern-day favorite. Everyone in the family is sure to enjoy this dessert and tangy, lemon flavored sauce. Use your prettiest baking mold for added interest. (SH

HARD SAUCE

½ cup butter (1 stick)
1½ cups sifted confectioner's sugar
1 egg, separated
2 teaspoons grated lemon rind

Cream butter and sugar. Add egg yolk beating constantly. Blend in lemon rind. Fold in stiffly beaten egg white; chill. Makes 2 cups. (SH

Week's Best Food Values

The University of Illinois includes the following in its market report for the week of Dec. 16-21:

Pork supply largest in 19 years, wholesale costs of most poultry and red meat lines sag, and pre-Christmas promotion of wide range of menu-making meats noted.

Heavier weight turkeys better value, geese at seasonal low, and eggs featured as wholesale costs jump. Sub-normal temperatures and rains limit fresh produce bargains, corn scarce; peppers and cucumbers high.

Chicago-area food values are:
Poultry: Turkeys, geese, ducks, fryers;

Meats: Hams, pork butt roasts, steaks, chops, bacon; beef, rib and rump roasts, ground beef, round steak and lamb chops.

LUTHERANS BELIEVE
EVERY MAN CAN BE A PRIEST

Who wants to be? Are you thinking, "That's the last thing I'd want to be?" Perhaps. But it's the first thing you need, and the highest position you can reach!
Do you need a priest? Men always have—to serve as a lawyer before a judging God, and to pay man's fine, offering sacrifices to make up for man's wrongdoing.
How do you get along with God? If God would be reasonable about what He expects, the two of you could probably get on? But can you tell God to "be reasonable"? God is holy, just and exacting. He sets the standards. Can you get along with such a God without a priest?
No man can satisfy God by himself. But God Himself has supplied the Priest. Jesus Christ, the Son of God, took human form to be our Lawyer, our Mediator. What's more, He became our Sacrifice, "The Lamb of God that taketh away the sin of the world." God's Son gave His life and paid for our sin! By His death He "has made us unto our God kings and priests!" (Rev. 5, 10)
Now it is possible for you to go directly to God—with your sin, for forgiveness; in your need for help! You can be your own priest! You can reach God through Jesus Christ!
The friendship of God is such a good thing! Don't pass it up! Your Lutheran friends urge you to seek life's highest position—become a priest before God!

A Half-Century of Respected Service
A Word to New Neighbors
Surveys indicate that there is an annual turnover of 28 per cent in local residents each year. It is not surprising, therefore, to learn occasionally that some newcomers have never heard of us. Your neighbors will tell you of the reputation our firm has earned over the past half-century.

Approve $35,000 Fee For Adamowski Probe

Kevin J. Gillogly, 306 Wa-Pella, Mount Prospect, the attorney appointed to investigate the contingency fund of Benjamin Adamowski, former state's attorney, will receive $35,000 for his services, if recommendations are followed.

Gillogly was appointed to the investigation in December, 1961, and reported his findings in October, 1962. He recommended that no criminal action be taken for the missing money and equipment but did recommend that the present state's attorney, Daniel P. Ward, institute civil proceedings to recover the items.

Gillogly had submitted a bill to Ward for the job for $52,880, which equals 1,322 hours of work at $40 per hour.

The fee of $35,000 was recommended by the professional fees committee of the Chicago Bar Association, and was made to the board of managers.

GILLOGLY SAID he was delighted with the report of the committee and the amount they recommended. The report, 14 pages long, praises Gillogly's work in the case.

The report states that the lower fee was recommended because of the public nature of the case, meaning that Gillogly was performing a public service to be paid from public funds.

Therefore, the committee found that Gillogly should be paid less than the normal fee. However, if the work had been done on a private basis "the committee . . . would have recommended an amount more than the sum recommended . . ."

According to the committee's report, Gillogly's investigation revealed "There was involved the apparent destruction . . . of official records, photographs, fingerprints and reports of investigation into gambling activities.

"THE RECORDS of the disposition of approximately $500,000 entrusted to . . . Adamowski as his contingent fund were also removed or destroyed."

At the conclusion of his investigation, Gillogly also recommended legislation to be enacted to prevent future recurrences of a similar nature.

However, such legislation has not been enacted as yet.

The committee report states: "It is the opinion of the committee that . . . Mr. Gillogly was fully qualified to perform the difficult services which were . . . required."

ACCORDING to the fee report, Gillogly proved that a serious deficiency existed in the statutes and internal regulations pertaining to the state's attorney's office.

"Under the present state of the law," the report states, "nothing can be done . . ." concerning the missing money.

However, the report finds that Gillogly should receive "the maximum" pay for pointing out the deficiencies even though no indictments were returned or other criminal action taken.

Irwin S. Baskas was chairman of the bar association's committee.

PROSPECT HEIGHTS

Brownies and older Scouts in troops in this area have been busy this Christmas season making toys for children in the State Mental Hospital. They were delivered to the hospital by Mrs. Violet Pelt and Mrs. V. Giovannini Dec. 12 so that they could be given out during the holidays.

Brownie troops participating in this service project were as follows: Troop 85 made stuffed toys and crayon holders; Troop 455 contributed assorted toys; and Troop 540 sent nut cups.

Contributions from the junior troops were dolls and dresses from Troop 72, handmade spool dolls and stocking puppets from Troop 790, coloring books and crayons from Troop 887 and assorted stuffed animals from Troop 67.

Cadette Troop 565 contributed handmade bean bags to the Christmas bag delivery.

SOUTH ARLINGTON

Cadette Troop 131, joined by Troop 639, journeyed to the Museum of Science and Industry Dec. 7 to attend the "Christmas Around the World Festival." The girls viewed 21 decorated Christmas trees from different countries, then enjoyed a yuletide program and a Norwegian holiday dinner. The trip was planned by the Active Citizenship Challenge Group.

Dec. 20, Troop 131 plans to carol at the Lutheran Home for the Aged, where they will also take tree decorations they have made from straws. The girls consider the tree decorated in this fashion at the museum the most beautiful one shown.

NORTHEAST ARLINGTON

Junior Troop 41, working on the Dramatics Badge, saw a performance of "The Magic Mountain" at St. Viator High School, after which the girls met the actors, the Pinocchio Players, and saw the scenery and costumes. The troop was accompanied by leaders Mrs. Lawrence Brown, Mrs. Ben Zabrowski and Mrs. Al Kargol.

Junior Troop 805, working on Toymaker Badge, has been making cloth books and animal-shaped bean bags for children at Dixon State School. The girls have collected jewelry and assorted toys to be sent with the handmade toys.

Carolling will take place at Illinois Research Hospital this year by Senior Troop 21; at Northwest Community Hospital by Cadette Troop 294; to bedridden patients within Arlington Heights by Junior Troop 285; and at the Lutheran Home by Junior Troop 899.

Yarn dolls are being made by Junior Troop 684 for the children at Dixon State Hospital.

Many troops have been working on gifts for Cook County Hospital: Troop 285 made hairbows and 200 tray favors in the shapes of clothespin people, soldiers and angels. Brownie Troop 63 collected toys and made hairbows.

Hairbows have also been made by Junior Troop 328 as well as flower vases and stuffed toys. The Scouts also collected paperback books for the patients. Brownie Troop 249 collected new toothbrushes and made lollipop and small toy tray favors. Junior Troop 306 made lollipop tray favors and hairbows. Brownie Troop 511 made bean bag games.

Troop 899 made snowmen favors and is also taking hard candy to the Infirmary Section of the Lutheran Home.

Troop 294 made candy cane horse tray favors, which become finger puppets when the candy is gone, for patients at Northwest Community Hospital.

CUMBERLAND

Girl Scouts of Euclid School are off to a good start under the leadership of Mrs. Paul Berman with assitant leaders Mrs. Steven Lynn, Mrs. Robert Wheeler and Mrs. Robert Brundege. There are 42 girls in Troop 894 and they are, at present, making stuffed animals for mentally retarded children as a Christmas project.

SOUTH MOUNT PROSPECT

Senior Troop 65 entertained Explorer Scouts at a dinner party this month. During the evening the "One-Eyed Jacks," a musical group from Forest View High School, entertained with a Hootenanny and the Scouts and their guests later enjoyed dancing.

Troops 411 and 743 spent a recent day at the Museum of Science and Industry. The troops made the trip by bus and took a nosebag lunch.

Junior Scouts in Troop 744 are working on their Seamstress Badges and at a recent meeting a representative from the Singer Sewing Machine Company demonstrated the proper use of machines and each Scout sewed a bookmark.

Cadette Troop 401 helped sort clothing for the St. Raymond clothing drive in November and several of the girls will hang decorations this month at Northwest Community Hospital.

Senior Scouts from Troop 65 donated and decorated the Christmas tree at Northwest Community Hospital as their annual service project.

Junior Troop 97 sent gifts to Cook County Hospital this year instead of having a gift exchange and Junior Troop 30 prepared a Christmas basket for a local deserving family.

Colonel's Old Bars Pinned on His Daughter

CHICAGO (UPI) — A set of 23-year-old Lieutenant's bars passed from father to daughter at the 5th Army headquarters.

Miss Mary Lee Burnett, 21, of McLean, Va., a senior at Indiana University's School of Nursing, was commissioned a second lieutenant in the Army Nurse Corps.

Her father, Col. Darrell H. Burnett, of the freight traffic section, Defense Management Service, Washington, administered the oath and gave her the set of gold bars he received when he was commissioned in 1940.

Rumsfeld Surveys Civil Rights Bill

A compromise Civil Rights bill, which has been approved by the House Judiciary Committee, apparently has the support of Cong. Donald Rumsfeld, Republican from the 13th District.

Rumsfeld could find little fault with the legislation when he discussed it, title by title, in a recent newsletter.

A section which seeks to outlaw voting discrimination in federal elections was endorsed by Rumsfeld.

"It is unthinkable that any American, otherwise qualified, should be denied the right to vote because of the color of his skin," Rumsfeld commented.

"Certainly there is an urgent Federal responsibility to correct abuses of this most important fundamental right."

About the much discussed "public accommodations" section, the Congressman pointed out that the bill has been modified to bar discrimination in places of lodging and amusement, eating establishments, and gasoline stations.

"IT IS principally aimed at assuring travelers of access to places to eat and sleep and appears to be founded on the concept that when businesses licensed by the state or trafficking in interstate commerce open their doors to the public, they assume an obligation to serve the public without regard to color or race," he explained.

He noted that over 30 states, including Illinois, now have public accommodation laws, some of which are 80 years old.

Rumsfeld did not comment on the section which would permit the Justice Department to hear suits upon written request by individuals denied public facilities (except schools) owned, operated, or managed by state or local governments, if the individual is unable to initiate or maintain legal proceedings.

CONCERNING the bill's other provisions, Rumsfeld said:

Desegregation of public education"There is no assurance that all Americans will achieve the same material rewards, but through equal educational opportunity, all Americans should enjoy a relatively equal opportunity to try."

Civil Rights Commission — "Earlier this year I voted to continue the commission . . . a clearing house on civil rights information.

Cut-off of federal aid—"(This section) requires each Federal Department or agency extending grants, contracts, or loans to prevent such projects from excluding persons from benefits because of race, color or national origin. I have voted for the substance of this title numerous times."

Equal Employment Opportunity—"Outsiders cannot easily judge why one person is selected or rejected in an employment situation. Further, it is important that each business have the widest possible latitude in the selection of personnel. This title was improved by a requirement that a charge by the FEPC must be proved in court by a 'preponderance of evidence' and the elimination of Federal authority to issue cease and desist orders."

ABOUT THE bill in general—"Federal Civil Rights legislation will help solve some of the federal civil rights questions, but will not solve, nor can it solve, problems in race relations.

"By trying to solve race relation problems by stretching the Constitution and extending federal controls, we run the risk of damaging the individual rights of all Americans, white and colored alike.

"These problems—human by definition — must and can be solved finally by human beings —not governments or laws, but in the churches, clubs, schools, businesses, and homes."

Four Rivers of Discontent Feed Negro Revolution

by SHERWOOD ROSS

What produced the racial revolution of 1963? Where did it come from? And will it continue?

To answer this last question first, it is virtually certain that the racial revolution will be resumed in full force next year as soon as the snows melt, and maybe before.

The rising rivers of discontent which gave it birth are still at flood tide, and no amount of wishful sandbagging, however judicious, will prevent an overflow of popular sentiment against racism. Too many long-dormant rivulets and streams have suddenly turned into raging torrents of discontent.

There are rivers of Guilt, African Nationalism, Urban Blight, and Automation all feeding the Negro revolution at this time.

TAKE URBAN blight. The decline of our central cities, from Newark to San Diego, is hitting the Negro harder than any other group, especially in the North, where 98 per cent of 8,000,000 Negroes live in our Big Towns. The physical housing plant which Negroes inherited was run down before they took it over, in most cases, after generations of immigrants made use of it, and left for outer city and suburban housing.

Unlike other immigrant groups, Negroes can change their names but not their color, and access to housing opportunities outside the ghetto is far more difficult for them than Swedes, Italians, Irishmen and Jews. Our cities today, almost without exception, are between 80 and 95 per cent segregated and their condition has worsened in the past decade despite highly publicized gains by Negroes in employment. (Chicago is 92.6 per cent segregated, for instance).

With the housing plants of our central cities tattered by generations of neglect; with the school plants and other services in decline; with the middle-income clashes best able to bear the tax burden "safe" in the suburbs; with the central cities denied home rule by rural-dominated legislatures — our cities are on their way down at a time when Negroes now comprise 15 to 55 per cent of their populations.

As Mayor Richard J. Daley learned on the Fourth of July, he could be booed after marching at the head of a parade for Negro rights. The Mayor had made the mistake of stating that theer are no ghettos in Chicago. A few minutes after the Mayor was obliged to sit down, Sen. Paul H. Douglas, a long-time champion of civil rights, was cheered when he rose to speak.

skilled and semi-skilled workers. running through our Big Cities. Nothing has happened to change this.

A second river is that of automation, chipping away 40,000 jobs a week, inflicting its heaviest hammer-blows upon the unskilled and semi-skilled workers. Three out of every four Negroes still fall into this class. Add to urban blight the problem of unemployment striking one out of six male Negroes in the prime work years; mix in more than 800,000 unemployed and out-of-school U. S. teenage drop-outs, many of them Negro, and you have a recipe for urban discontent. Then reckon with the population explosion . . .

STILL ANOTHER river cresting in our time is that of guilt: the guilt of white Americans over their contributions, by omission or commission, to the subjugation of the Negro people.

While many Americans have fled from the racial question, others have stopped to examine their feelings and have, searching deeply into their thoughts, found themselves wanting as church-goers and citizens. The Negro revolution has not come out of whole cloth. Like the war chest funds being distributed among the leading civil rights groups, much of the support for the revolution comes from outside the Negro community.

There is yet another river of revolution rising: that of African nationalism and independence. No American Negro can fail to look across the Atlantic to where new nations are being minted like coins; where black men, prepared or unprepared, are assuming the reigns of government and the direction of nations. They have catapulted to prestige positions in the UN over night, and their success story has not been lost on 20,000,000 American Negroes.

These are some of the rising currents which produced the flood tide of protest in 1963.

Will the demonstrations continue? Negro leaders from the NAACP, Urban League, SNCC, CORE, and Southern Christian Leadership Conference will see that they do. They will lead the protests, whether direct or indirect, until they see that the squalid conditions in which their followers live and work and school their children are improved. The Negro revolution probably has just begun.

It is not only led by extraordinary and articulate leaders, but it enjoys the support of millions of Mexicans, Jews, Catholics, Asian-Americans, much of the support of such powerful groups as the clergy and campus, and many influential members of the press. Finally, it has a patron saint—a 46-year-old martyr who said that men who faced death together had a right to live and work together. John F. Kennedy.

2 GOP Groups to Back Percy Talk

The Wheeling Township Young Republican Club will hold its Jan. 9 meeting in the Village of Wheeling, and will co-sponsor the appearance that night of Charles H. Percy with the Wheeling Republican Political Action Committee.

Announcement of the co-sponsorship of Percy's appearance was made this week by George T. Coker Jr., YR president.

"The joint arrangement will benefit everyone involved, including the YR club, the political action committee, Chuck Percy and Wheeling area residents," Coker said.

PERCY, 44-year-old board chairman of Bell & Howell Co., and a leading contender for the GOP gubernatorial nomination, has been officially endorsed by the Wheeling Township GOP precinct captains.

According to Bruce Ladd, YR program chairman, a site for the Jan. 9 meeting has not yet been selected. The meeting location will be announced next week, Ladd said.

Membership in the YR club is open to all residents of the township between the ages of 18 and 36. The club meets regularly the first Thursday of the month at 8 p.m.

Designate More For Local Chests

the suburban council for clearance to the designated points have increased 40 per cent during the first and second quarters (six months) of the current fiscal year," Nelson said.

THE SUBURBAN council distributes these funds quarterly and is currently sending out second quarter receipts for July, August and September contributions of the 1963-64 fiscal year, the treasurer said.

Council records show that five area towns are scheduled to receive the following amounts toward their current drive goal: Arlington Heights, $785.38; Elk Grove Village, $205.82; Mount Prospect, $855.28; Palatine, $685.81, and Prospect Heights, $189.22.

Twelve new Community chests and United Funds have applied for council membership.

Interest in the suburban council's clearing house service, Nelson explained, has added 27 new industries thus far with the liklihood of many more.

DESIGNATING their giving has encouraged employes to be more generous in their contributions, he said. This aids the welfare giving base and the resulting services within the entire metropolitan area.

Employers interested in information regarding the Suburban Community Chest Council may call Bishop 2-2950 or Stanley 8-8070. (B9

True Spirit Of Christmas

By BETTY ROGERS

There is an old English carol that is a favorite of mine. Its tune is known to most everyone, and perhaps it is a favorite of yours too. I think the first line of the carol is especially appropriate at this time. It goes . . .

"God rest ye merry gentlemen, Let nothing you dismay."

The Christmas Season has hurried on at a speed that we can't quite keep up with no matter how hard we try. And so it's time to try to take it easy.

At the beginning it's delightful to see the Christmas decorations appear in the stores and around town. And remember the FIRST Christmas Carol you heard? Wasn't it lovely? And the gifts!!! So many wonderful new things to look at and think of buying. Even the bustle of the crowd added an excitement.

But, what NOW? The little elves are so busy getting things ready for Santa's Sleigh Ride, that they haven't been over to your house or mine to help do the dishes, or the laundry, or the ever-present ironing. Dad hasn't seen them at the office either, and for some reason or another, he could use them now more than ever. After all, he has a Christmas card and gift list too.

And so what happens? . . . The pressure builds. Each day it gets greater. There's still more gifts to get, cards to send, cookies to bake, packages to wrap.

"I never know what to get Aunt Martha. She's so hard to buy for." Now be truthful, how many times have you said that? And the packages that have to be sent out of town . . . "I've just got to get those in the mail today, or I may as well not send them!" And there's the toys for the kids . . . "But Honey, you told Santa it was a Barbie doll, not a Midge dolly that you wanted!" . . . "You've changed your mind?" . . . "YOU don't want a dolly NOW!"

Well, that's IT. Pure, unadulterated Panic is setting in, and what happens?

The tinsel of the decorations has become a little tarnished. And if you hear another "Jingle Bells," you just might start to gingle a little yourself. Why did we ever start all this gift giving anyhow? . . . We all know why. It's just that the happy spirit of Christmas becomes a little obscure, a bit forgotten. This, I consider normal for an adult, but I do envy the little people, the children. They don't lose the Spirit of Christmas. True, they don't have the responsibilities that you and I have but they still have many important things to do for Christmas, but they don't panic. I think all children could live in a world of 365 days of Christmas, and love every minute of it. I think it has something to do with their nerve endings.

And so my fellow adults, let's take a tip from the kids. "God rest ye merry gentlemen, let nothing you dismay." Take a little time out for yourself. Rest your weary bones on a bench in the Mall at Randhurst, or stop for just a few minutes and watch someone else's children talk to Santa, "listen" to the words of the Christmas songs. Pause long enough to realize that it's really worth it.

When you are at Randhurst Saturday morning, take time out to go to Town Hall, located in the Concourse Level, at 9 or 10 a. m. to watch the youngsters from Delores Eiler's Dancing School perform. There's no charge for admission. You'll enjoy the show and you will be resting too. Or maybe you'd like to see a fashion show featuring Knitted Wearing Apparel from the Knit and Purl Shop that will be presented in the Tree Top Restaurant on Wednesdays at noon. You are cordially invited to attend. Tell them Betty sent you, and you want to rest a bit while you have something to eat.

If you do take my suggestions, I guarantee that once again you will start anew to hear . . . "Tidings of Comfort and Joy!" Have a happy Christmas, dear friend . . .

'Move Over Darling' Set for Golf Mill

A hilarious movie — easily one of the great comedy hits of the year — handsomely mounted in color and Cinemascope and with two of the biggest stars on today's screen, will premiere (its first run in Chicagoland) at the Golf Mill Theatre.

It is "Move Over Darling," starring Doris Day and James Garner and it open on Friday, Dec. 27 — without a downtown opening.

THE GOLF MILL has been selected by 20th Century-Fox, the movie company that decided on this new kind of first-run operation, to bypass downtown and bring the finest quality entertainment to the neighborhoods and suburbs immediately.

The film has the ingredients for fun and enjoyment. Screened recently and privately for 500 press, radio-TV and theatre people, it brought down the house with laughter and applause.

In addition to Miss Day and Garner, the comedy has recruited such rib-ticklers as Polly Bergen, Chuck Connors, Thelma Ritter and Don Knotts. (Bill

DORIS DAY stars in "Move Over Darling" which opens for a premier showing Friday, Dec. 27, at the Golf Mill Theatre. The movie will not be shown in downtown Chicago.

'McLintock' Coming to Suburbia

A tough, romantic story with comedy overtones is slated to open Friday at the Golf Mill Theatre.

It is "McLintock," the story of a hard drinking, hard fighting, cattle baron played by John Wayne, who meets his match when it comes to tough mindedness in his wife, played by Maureen O'Hara.

AS ADDED treat for children who are out of school for the entire week, the theatre will show "The Three Stooges In Orbit," a full-length feature, every day at the matinee only.

The children can see the Stooges at 1:30 and stay for "McLintock" that starts at 3 p.m. The matinee double feature ends at 5 p.m. (Bill

Special Price For Children

As a special Christmas greeting to the youngsters of Chicagoland, the management of Santa's Village has made arrangements with the Ice Vogues of 1963, an ice revue, to present three extra children's half price performances while the Ice Vogues are at the Polar Dome, Dundee.

All children 14 years and under will be admitted for half price to the 1:30 and 5 p.m. performances, Saturday, Dec. 21, and to the 1:30 p.m. performance, Sunday, Dec. 22. (Bill

Christmas Ball to Offer Dancing, Fun and Surprises

Old Orchard Country Club will be the scene of the Arlington Heights Junior Woman's Club Christmas Ball Friday, Dec. 27. Members, their husbands and guests are planning an evening of dancing and fun, according to the dance chairman, Mrs. Thomas McShane.

The dance committee has some surprises planned for those in attendance, reports the chairman, including a unique "guessing game" involving four members of the Juniors who will appear in costume. Preparing for their roles, while sworn to secrecy, are Mrs. Norm Wall, Mrs. Daniel Wallner, Mrs. Richard Braun and Mrs. Frank Regula.

Following the evening of dancing and fun, a substantial breakfast is planned by the club, at no extra charge.

THE CHRISTMAS Ball is one of this year's fund raisers planned by Arlington Juniors to bring in necessary funds to support the club's many philanthropies. The local club supports many charities endorsed by the Illinois Federation and the General Federation of Women's Clubs in addition to channeling a part of all profits from events such as the current Christmas Ball to local philanthropies.

In the local area, Arlington Juniors finances the schooling of children from two Mexican migrant families. Scholarships to special summer schools devoted to advanced work in music, art and special education are financed by annual fund raising events, as are donations to institutions such as Clearbrook School for Exceptional Children and the Northwest Mental Health Clinic. (S

THE WEB OF mystery surrounding these satin swathed members of Arlington Juniors will be broken Friday, Dec. 27, when they make their surprise appearance at the club's Christmas Ball in Old Orchard Country Club. Mrs. Dan Wallner, Mrs. Norm Wall, Mrs. Frank Regula and Mrs. Richard Braun describe themselves as the "guess what" girls. Dancing will begin at 9 o'clock for members and guests, to be followed by breakfast after midnight. (S

Name Jack Burnett Polar Dome Chief

Jack Burnett, formerly public relations director for the Chicago Zephyrs Basketball club of the National Basketball Association, has been named manager of the Polar Dome Arena at Santa's Village.

The announcement was made by Charles L. Poe, general manager of Santa's Village Corp. at Dundee.

Before being named manager of the Polar Dome, Burnett was publicity director and advertising manager for Santa's Village. He will continue to occupy these posts.

BURNETT HAS been associated with radio and television as a writer and producer of sports and special events programs for many years. He has been associated with WGN in the sports and publicity departments, and was sports production director for the former Dumont TV network.

During the 1950's, he was sports director for the Mutual Broadcasting System.

In the field of publicity and promotion Burnett was publicity director for the Chicago Stadium, the Sonja Henie Hollywood Ice Revue, Sports man's Park Race Track, and was public relations director for the Foote, Cone and Belding advertising agency. He also had his own public relations firm in New York City. (Bill

At Santa's Village

Ice Vogues Open, Running Through Sunday Matinees

The Ice Vogues of 1963 opened at the Polar Dome, Santa's Village in Dundee, Tuesday for a run of six days and nine performances through Sunday.

There will be evening shows through Saturday night at 8:30 p.m., and on Saturday and Sunday 1:30 and 5 p.m. matinees. No evening performances are slated Sunday.

Arabia, Hawaii, Vienna and the American West all inspired themes for the Ice Vogues, the international production of Holiday on Ice being staged this week at the Polar Dome.

It's a sparkling show, full of surprises and breath taking costumes. It moves quickly from theme to theme, alternating between slapstick comedy and really gorgeous productions.

STAGE SETTINGS are limited, and quick bows by the performers keep the show moving at the fast clip.

Primarily attractive excellent skating of the solo ensembles, the superb timing of the comedy routines, the well-planned action of larger skating groups, and the jumps, twirls, and ballet techniques tossed off with surety by the skaters.

Added to these attributes are the costuming which is estimated to have cost around $50,000; peppy, brassy music as provided by Frank Ventrie and his 10-piece band; and an array of beauties which comprise the Glamour "Icers."

DURING THE 2½-hour show, the "Icers" appear as dazzling jewels in shimmering white costumes, as perky paper dolls in a toy box production number, as Western-style chorines in pink satin and feathers, and as jersey-clad ball players in a baseball routine. They're well rehearsed to watch each other's cues constantly, and the lines peel off and rejoin each other smoothly and effortlessly.

There was a winning "houn' dawg" which fluttered its eyes and wagged its tail, a nautical bit featuring well-drenched sailors, and a late-night Romeo who couldn't light his cigarette from the street-corner lamp.

OTHER HIGHLIGHTS are the waltzing couples wearing period Austrian garb, a quartet wearing bright-hued elephant costumes, a group of Pinocchios with long curved noses and boxy costumes, harem girls clicking castanets as they skate, selections from the Nutcracker Suite and Gaite Parisienne, and grass-skirted skaters doing hula-inspired steps.

Ice Vogues of 1963 is a splendid show with much to offer in the way of entertainment for youngsters and oldsters - and those in-between will also get their chuckles and thrills. (Bill

THESE LOVELY glamour icers appear in supporting roles for Tony and Donna Jeanne LeMac in the ballet "Gaite Parisienne" in the "Ice Vogues" which opened Tuesday at the Polar Dome at Santa's Village in Dundee. (Bill

Artists in Gallery's Calendar

Ten artists from this area are included in the first Countryside Gallery Calendar.

Offered by Countryside Art Center, Inc., the calendar consists of 53 pages of halftone reproductions of painting and sculpture chosen by jury as being outstanding art works.

Orville Bolte, sculptor; painters, Louise Elam, Shirley Ericksen, Carole Komarek, Lester Rebbeck, Christine Siegfried, Karl Simmel, William Wimmer and Aloise Zehner, and craftsman, Ruth Murray, live and work in the Arlington Heights area.

Available at the Countryside Gallery, 10 W. Miner St., Arlington Heights, or from Countryside Art Center members, the calendar has been planned as a gift, or catalog of artists' work represented in the Gallery.

Proceeds aid in maintaining the sales and rental gallery and art scholarship fund. (Bill

Apartment Building Sets November Record

Home Construction Continues to Drop

Apartment building in the Chicago metropolitan area in November was the highest for that month since the end of the World War II while single family home construction declined for the ninth time in 1963.

These trends are shown in a survey of new building in the metropolitan area released by Bell Savings and Loan Association.

In the metropolitan area permits were issued for 2,054 apartment units compared with only 942 units for November, 1962.

Suburban apartments reached a record November volume for the entire postwar period with 1,523 units as compared with the previous high of 816 in 1961.

THE CITY OF Chicago had 419 apartment units, nearly twice the volume of November, 1962.

The unincorporated areas reported 112 apartment units as against 81 last year.

Permits for single family dwellings in the area declined 13 per cent from November of last year, 1,398 in 1963 as compared with 1,615 a year ago. There was a drop of 33 per cent in Chicago, eight per cent in the suburbs and 11 per cent in unincorporated areas.

The seasonally adjusted annual housing rate for November declined 11 per cent below the rate for October. Permits were issued at an annual rate equivalent to 47,508 housing units, combined homes and apartment units. For October it was 53,256.

THE TOTAL VALUE of all permits — residential, commercial, industrial and others — dropped 15 per cent to $71,953,893 from $81,842,460 a year ago. The decrease by areas was 16 per cent in Chicago, nine per cent in the suburbs and 22 per cent in unincorporated areas.

Among leaders in home building so far this year were Arlington Heights with 378 homes valued at $9,268,700 at an average cost of $24,520; Palatine with 319 homes valued at $5,305,016 at an average cost of $16,630 and Mount Prospect with 250 homes valued at $4,338,900 at an average cost of $17,355.

The list of communities issuing permits for apartments in November included Addison, 44 units at a total value of $465,000; Arlington Heights, 36 units with a total value of $360,000, and Hoffman Estates, 24 units with a total value of $377,200.

Three Drivers Lose Licenses For Driving While Intoxicated

Secretary of State Charles F. Carpentier revoked the driving licenses and driving privileges of three area residents last week for driving while intoxicated.

Permits of 27 other drivers were suspended for having three violations within one year, and the license of one individual was suspended for driving while his permit was suspended.

Twelve persons whose licenses had been suspended previously but who did not have a total point accumulation of 62 points were granted probationary permits.

Fred G. Racine, 3 E. Hawthorne, and Leonard C. Vogt, 845 S. Wilkie Road, both of Arlington Heights, and Ralph L. Squires, 300 N. Broadway, Palatine, lost their licenses for driving while drunk.

THOSE whose permits were suspended for having three violations were Howard A. Carosella, 916 N. Forrest Ave. and Robert A. Kramer, 532 S. Dale, Arlington Heights; David L. Chevalier, 306 N. Brockway, and John A. Gregorie, 464 N. Willow Wood, both of Palatine; Donald J. Gesicki, 2704 Grouse Lane, Rolling Meadows; Paul E. Farmer, 516 Isa Drive, and John M. Ramirez, 6th and West Strong, both of Wheeling;

Charles R. Horn, 717 N. Eastwood; Harvey Sarner, 707 Windsor Drive, and William J. Steinmetz, 310 N. Maple St., all of Mount Prospect; Clifton M. Liter, 1254 Wendy Drive; Herbert A. Maier, 1017 Whitfield Road, and John P. Seaford, 4140 Pamela Lane, Northbrook; Joseph Riggio Jr., 199 Jamison Lane; Russell F. Rickmann, 540 Thacker St., and Paul R. Sinnott, 126 Hillcrest Blvd., all Hoffman Estates;

Richard Z. Chelminski, 416 S. Mason; Elgin E. Craig, 4 O'Hare Court, and Robert T. Jones, 4N351 Ridgewood, all Bensenville; Scott C. Dean, 265 Berkley Lane, Roselle; Sharon L. Gossett, 19W130 Granville, Itasca; Nicholaus Korte, 229 Forest View, Wood Dale; Roger H. Rosencrans, 6N211 Keeney, Keeneyville; Dennis C. Loebbaka, 97 Blecke Drive; Thomas A. Paleologos, 365 Country Club, and Oral B. Wright, 20W508 Army Trail, all of Addison, and Jon D. Crim, 156 McHenry Road, Long Grove.

James P. Graham, 12 Webster Lane, Schaumburg, had his permit and driving privileges suspended for driving while his license was suspended.

PROBATIONARY permits were issued to James A. Baird, 100 S. Elm; Richard E. Gauthier, 1117 Dogwood Lane, and Gordon G. Gotsch, 118 S. Elmhurst Ave., all of Mount Prospect; Charles R. Erbes, 391 Rosewood Ave., Buffalo Grove; Roger N. Gettleman, 261 Laurel St., Elk Grove Village; John J. Teske, Meadow Lane, and Kenneth E. Wirth, 573 S. Milwaukee, both of Wheeling;

Thomas W. Verne, 2203 Eastman, Rolling Meadows; Frank W. Weinberger, 1225 N. Stratford, Arlington Heights; Alfred T. Berthold, Devon Avenue Rural Route, Bensenville; Dale J. Flaherty, 109 Kankakee, Roselle, and Joseph A. Campobello, 228 Park Ave., Bloomingdale.

Pigeons Spared Again

NILES, MICH., (UPI) — The pigeons in this city have more lives than the fabled cat.

The estimated 4,000 birds that keep messing up downtown buildings and streets have been saved again — this time from serving as dinner for a teacher's pet falcons.

It seems John Kinne, a junior high science teacher, was going to round up the pigeons and feed them to his falcons.

At least, the city council hoped Kinne could rid the city of the pests.

BUT KINNE said Wednesday he has only 10 falcons and they could only handle part of the pigeons. In addition, local residents objected to such "inhumane" treatment.

The council dropped the idea Wednesday. The group will continue to seek $1,600 needed for a poison program to eliminate the birds.

Mayor Mowitt S. Drew earlier rejected the proposal by one businessman to shoot the pigeons.

Give Holiday Rules To Protect Children

For a joyous and safe Christmas this year, Carl F. Krieg, local representative of the Allstate Safety Crusade, gives the following rues for protecting children this holiday season:

Secure every light and ornament firmly on the tree, so that young explorers cannot pull them off. Make sure the ornaments on the lower branches are unbreakable. Don't set up electric trains, self-propelled toys or toys with flammable liquids near the tree.

The wavering flame of a candle fascinates children. Never use candles on the tree or on low tables where seeking hands can reach them.

THE COMFORTING glow from a log burning in the fireplace is a potential source of danger to the young. Screen those tantalizing flames so little hands cannot touch them. Never leave a child alone in a room with an open fire, a lighted tree or a cigarette lighter or matches. Even a cigarette glowing in an ashtray can be dangerous.

The Allstate spokesman advises that every toy be examined before purchase and the same procedure be followed on toys brought into the home by friends and relatives. Toys with sharp edges or toys that could break or splinter should be avoided. See if eyes on dolls can be removed or all or parts of a toy be swallowed. If a part is just glue don, the warmht of a child's breath while sucking on it could melt the glue,, Krieg said.

For little children, beware of toys that are too heavy or that operate on batteries or any type of fuel.

BEWARE OF costumes or play clothing that might be highly combustible and could ignite easily.

Dispose immediately of any plastic bags in which toys are wrapped.

Ann Mahan Ward's Charm Consultant

Ann J. Mahan has been named consultant of the Wendy Ward Charm program at Montgomery Ward's new store in Randhurst Shopping Center.

Miss Mahan will work under Lois Gulbrandsen, who coordinates Wendy Ward activities for all Ward stores in the Chicago metropolitan area.

Before joining Ward's, Miss Mahan was a teacher at the Patricia Stevens Career College and Finishing School in Chicago. From September, 1961 to June, 1963, she taught high school English in Hammond, Ind., and was co-chairman of the school's drama department. From October, 1960 to June, 1961, she was assistant to the sportswear buyer at Marshall Field & Co., Chicago.

Miss Mahan received her bachelor of science degree from Indiana University in 1960, with a major in speech and theater and minors in English and psychology. She has done graduate study in psychology.(BB

Wieboldt's Offers Rental Service

In keeping with ever-increasing customer service, Wieboldt's has announced the establishment of a complete Hertz Rent-All facility in its State Street Store.

Wieboldt shoppers may rent an assortment of items to meet unusual or unexpected entertainment, household and family needs. The service is also available through all Wieboldt's neighborhood stores, it was announced.

CUSTOMERS may use their Wieboldt charge accounts to order any Rent-All equipment either in person or by telephone. Hertz will deliver the merchandise and pick it up after use.

Through this new Wieboldt service, shoppers can meet "one - time - only" needs for numerous articles, without the worry of storage, protection and maintenance of ocasionally used items such as furs for the opera, silver for a party, extra chairs for a bridge club meeting, a guest bed or TV.

Luxury items such as antique silver, oil paintings and other decorative objects may also be rented. Equipment for the care of invalids or convalescents will be available. The service also will offer cribs, playpens, strollers and other baby care articles.

The first department store in the Midwest to offer this rental service, Wieboldt's rental outlet is on the second floor of its State Street store. (BB

Goldblatt Stores Add Books, Records

Books of all varieties — hard bound, paper bound, juvenile, adult, current and best seller — and a wide variety of records are now being featured at cut-rate prices throughout the Goldblatt 31-department store chain, it was announced by Allan A. Marver, president.

The company has just completed a major expansion and remodeling program for its book and record departments throughout the chain, Marver said.

STORES THAT previously did not carry books and records now have book and record departments, he said.

The book and record section of Goldblatt's State Street store has been moved to the second floor and departments have been enlarged or created in 29 other stores.

Each of the departments is furnished with self-selection racks designed for easy identification of all book titles.

AS PART of its over-all expansion program, the company recently announced a three-year project to build auto service centers at all units. During the period of construction, installation of tires and accessories will be handled at service stations near each Goldblatt store.

Check Company Before Joining Freezer Plan

Home freezers and freezer food plans seem to be a fertile field in this area for the fast-talking salesman more interested in selling than in pleasing the customer.

The Chicago Better Business Bureau reports numerous complaints from residents in the area. Many signed up for what they thought was a food plan to save money and discovered too late they had contracted to buy a freezer.

ACCORDING to the bureau, freezer food plan companies offer two propositions. One is for the family without adequate frozen food storage space; it includes a freezer and several months supply of food. The other is for the family owning a freezer; it consists of food for an agreed period of time, usually two years, plus a membership fee entitling the customer to buy food from the seller.

Most salesmen give a true picture of what they have to offer, but not all, the bureau warns. Savings claims are fantasy, it says. Convenience and utility seem to be the most attractive plan inducements.

If there is a $300 or $400 membership fee involved, you have to order a lot of pot roasts and many packages of frozen peas to effect any savings, and there is no assurance the company will be around in another year because these companies have come and gone in Chicago, according to the business bureau.

CUSTOMERS tell the bureau they thought they were signing only for frozen food. Glib salesmen kept them so occupied they found no time to read the contract to learn they also were buying a freezer.

Claims of low prices for frozen foods may be misleading. One customer said she was told she could buy vegetables for 10 cents a package. She found she could—two types. The rest ranged up to 39 cents.

Another customer was told she would receive only "name brands." The brands when delivered meant nothing to her.

The business bureau advises that a company be thoroughly checked before any contract is signed because the money saved may be the customer's own.

McDade Appointed Procurement Aide

Frank D. McDade of Mount Prospect recently was appointed civilian executive assistant for the Chicago Procurement District, U.S. Army, the largest of the 11 procurement districts in the United States.

McDade's job is to assist the commanding officer in the management and operation of the Chicago Procurement District which performs procurement, contract administration and inspection services in many midwestern states for Army Ordnance, electronics and chemical materiel.

FRANK D. McDADE

McDade was graduated from the University of Georgia in 1938 with a B. S. degree in accounting. After graduating he entered government service where he remained until his entry into the U. S. Army in 1941. He was commissioned second lieutenant in 1942 and when discharged in December, 1945, was assistant finance officer at Camp McCoy, Wis. Following World War II, he re-entered government service and has since been active in both accounting and procurement.

McDade remains active in the U. S. Army Reserves, Ordnance Corps, with the rank of lieutenant colonel. He and Mrs. McDade and their daughter, Sue, reside at 400 S. Emerson. (BB

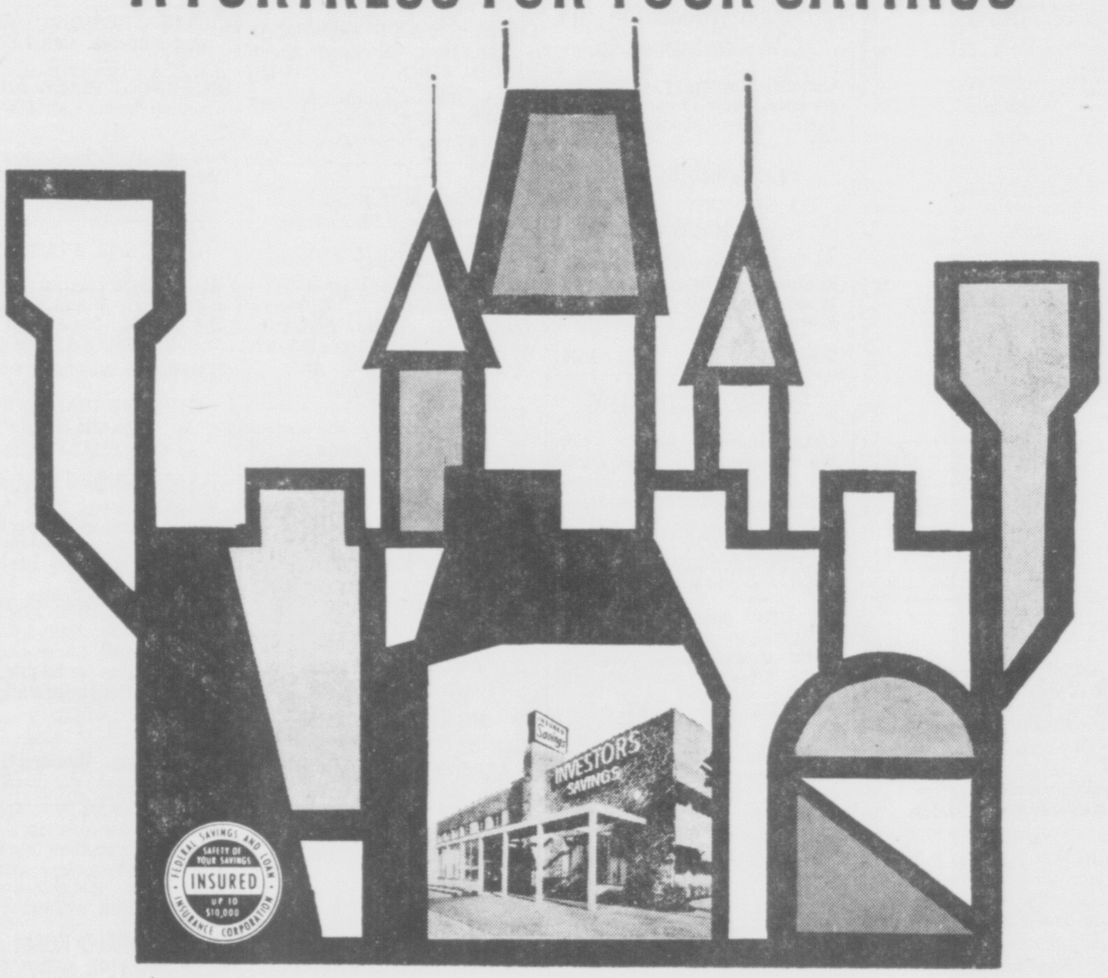
A FORTRESS FOR YOUR SAVINGS



INVESTORS SAVERS EARNED $1,200,000.00

During 1963 Investors Savings distributed over $1,200,000.00 in dividends to savers in all walks of life. White collar workers, engineers, firemen, housewives . . . all enjoyed the satisfaction that comes from watching their savings grow as a result of the generous dividends paid by Investors. Since 1927, our savers have enjoyed both Safety and Profit; no one has ever lost one penny entrusted to the sound, conservative management at Investors Savings. Why not join the many thousands who are receiving these benefits at Investors Savings, a Fortress for your Savings?

To Our Customers and Friends . . .

We from the Knitter's Nook want to take this time to wish all of you a truly MERRY CHRISTMAS.

This is a gay time and a time for reflection. These days we sometimes get swept away with so many externals we forget that without the birth of Jesus we would be doing none of this bustling and scurrying.

As we think toward Jesus' birth we find ourselves humbled. We, who are trying to help you with your knitting problems, hope in your reflections on us you can feel a bit of Christ's teachings in us. We hope, too, you can excuse the times we fall short of your expectations. We think we have the nicest customers around, so it's with glorious feeling we wish all of you a Very Merry Christmas.

School Caucuses Fall Into Four Categories

There are four basic types of citizens school caucus committees in Cook, Lake and DuPage Counties — "organizational, PTA dominated, geographical, and combination organizational and geographical."

This was the conclusion of Arthur C. Muns in his 1961 survey of caucus organizations in the three counties. He undertook the survey in connection with work on his doctors degree in education at Northwestern University.

Muns found 54 caucus committees then. There were 40 of the "organizational" type, with 11 of them "PTA dominated." Eight were of the "geographical" type, and six of the "combination organizational and geographical."

Of the 54, "only one was formed before 1930," Muns reported. "Six caucus committees were formed during the 1930s, five during the 1940s, and 39 . . . since 1950." (The other six did not report the year they were organized, he noted.)

Organizational type of caucuses are the general rule in the northwest suburbs, with the PTAs predominating in membership whether or not they actually can be judged as dominating them.

IN MOUNT Prospect, the caucus by-laws state that at least 50 per cent of the membership of the caucus committee must be from PTAs. Wheeling School District Caucus permits two delegates from each of its five PTA organizations, and one delegate from any other civic organizations.

Most caucus committees accept members only from non-political and non-sectarian organizations. However, Wheeling recently began allowing representatives from each of the churches. (Wheeling's Community Council, and organization of organizations, has also dropped its former ban on representation from political organizations as well as sectarian ones.)

Any elected official or employee of a public body is ineligible for membership on some caucuses, Muns reports, and 15 caucuses require that each member "shall serve as an individual citizen speaking for the best interests of the schools as a whole" rather than for an organization or locality.

OF THE 54 caucus committees, 79 per cent "made some provision for holdover members" from year to year, and most hold two or three committee of the whole meetings per year, Muns stated.

Most also have screening subcommittees to recommend candidates to the caucus, but 29.6 per cent of the caucuses screen candidates as a committee of the whole. Nominations from the floor are also usually allowed.

By-laws often set residence requirements for caucus candidates, and 11 placed a two-term limit of service, beyond which incumbents would not be considered for endorsement.

Three required that more than one candidate be nominated for each school board vacancy, 30 limited nominations to one per vacancy, and eight indicated either one or two, according to Muns.

FIVE CAUCUS committees had from 110 to 122 members, and restricted participation on the committee to any two or three years out of any four-year period.

Glenview School District is an example of a community which uses the geographical caucus system. Using the regular election precincts of the township, one representative from each of the 22 precincts in the district is named to the caucus.

The representatives are elected by the citizens of the precinct. The election takes place at an annual convention, with all voting residents invited to take part. The residents are seated in the convention in sections according to their precinct, with each precinct polling itself to elect its delegates. There then follows a general business session.

Or the precincts may have their own local meetings rather than a district-wide gathering to choose representatives. Glenview has tried both ways, and have found the convention method most successful, according to Thomas Barr, current caucus president. "There is better attendance overall," he said.

GLENVIEW'S caucus assigns two or more of its members to interview each prospective candidate rather than having a screening subcommittee. That is, all of the members may be involved in the screening.

Reports of each of the interviews are made to the caucus as a whole. Each of the candidates also gives a brief personal presentation to the caucus as a whole, following which the selection is made.

Last year the Arlington Heights Caucus chairman, Phillip Gorman, suggested a caucus subcommittee which would take a "year-around role in school board affairs."

Skids, Poor Visibility Peril Drivers in Winter

In winter weather driving it is the sudden skid and inability to see out of windshields plastered with snow and road-muck that often maims or kills the unprepared driver and his passengers.

This is the statement of one of the top authorities on winter driving hazards of the National Safety Council Traffic Conference, Prof. A. H. Easton, chairman of the Council's Committee on Winter Driving Hazards and director of the Motor Vehicle Research Laboratory, University of Wisconsin.

"Tests conducted each year by our committee have given us considerable knowledge about winter driving," Easton said. "It is my belief that many motorists have accidents simply because they neglect equipment."

The Committee on Winter Driving Hazards is made up of automotive engineers from Detroit, test drivers, government officials and university researchers.

"OUR COMMITTEE works in temperatures ranging down to 30 degrees below zero on frozen lakes and fields and snow packed roadways to come up with answers that may save lives," the traffic safety specialist said.

Here are some of Easton's suggestions for safe operation in snow, ice, freezing weather and fog.

"Drivers must be able to see and be seen. Early hours of darkness make it imperative that lighting systems are perfect, with both upper and lower beams properly aimed," he said.

"Keeping lights clean is often overlooked by motorists. Keep a cloth handy to wipe off road grime, and a brush to remove snow," Easton urged.

HE MAINTAINS that failure to keep windshield wipers in top condition causes thousands of winter crashes.

"Drivers neglect their blades and when they hit snow or rain they drive almost blind," he said. "It is foolish to put lives and a vehicle costing several thousand dollars in jeopardy by neglecting maintenance of wiper arms and blades," Easton said.

"Wiper blade rubber must be checked frequently because summer sun bakes the rubber and causes it to harden. The arm pressure must be firm to avoid streaking. Manufacturers recommend an ounce of pressure for each inch of blade length for efficiency in clearing off rain, snow, sleet and road-muck," the educator explained.

"Equally important, our tests at Clintonville, Wis., and in Michigan have proved that in severe conditions, reinforced tire chains are needed," Easton said.

"SNOW TIRES give you half again as much pulling power in snow as regular tires, but when conditions are bad, chains give up to five times as much traction," he said.

Easton urges every driver to keep a set of reinforced tire chains in the trunk for emergency conditions.

He warned motorists to be on guard when the temperature is just above freezing.

"Wet ice at 30 degrees is twice as slippery as ice at zero temperature. The 'polishing' by heavy traffic also makes ice more slippery," he said. (A14

Gift Shopping Bags At Investors Savings

Edward Gregor, president of Investors Savings and Loan Association, announced that shopping bags will be given away at the office of the association, 4353 W. Lawrence Avenue, Chicago.

In noting that Christmas gift shopping was expected to reach an all time high, Mr. Gregor said that he and the association's directors thought that shopping bags would be a useful item, especially during the holiday season.

The association recently passed the $40 million mark in assets. Hours are Monday 9 A.M. to 4 P.M., Tuesday 9 A.M. to 8 P.M., closed Wednesday. Thursday 9 A.M. to 4 P.M., Friday 9 A.M. to 8 P.M., and Saturday 9 A.M. to 12:30 P.M.

The shopping bags are available at the reception and new accounts desks.

Prize Novel Banned from Classroom

MUSKEGON, MICH., (UPI)— The Whitehall Board of Education at its meeting Wednesday was scheduled to discuss a ban on the Pulitzer Prize-winning book "Andersonville."

The book was removed from the reading list of the 11th grade English class by School Supt. Melvin Lubbers at the request of Muskegon County Prosecutor Harry J. Knudsen who said he had received complaints from parents.

The parents, Knudsen said, ojected to profanity in the Civil War novel by McKinley Kantor. (B-9

Says Trailer Courts, Stables Come Under Civil Rights Act

Atty. Gen. William G. Clark has held that trailer courts and horseback riding stables are places of public accommodation or amusement and hence are included within the coverage of the Civil Rights Act.

Clark's opinion, written at the request of Dr. William G. Cole, chairman of the Illinois Commission on Human Relations traced the history of civil rights in Illinois since 1885 when the General Assembly passed a Civil Rights Act prohibiting discrimination in certain places based on race or color.

This act, Clark's opinion said, applied only to inns, restaurants and other named places and to "all other places of public accommodation."

ILLINOIS COURTS, Clark's opinion said, restricted the scape of this latter language so that the meaning of the words, "all other places of public accommodation and amusement," will be presumed to include "only places of the same kind, class or nature as those specifically enumerated."

Clark's opinion said that "a narrow construction of the language of the Act would result in obviously absurd consequences that would not only render the broad language of the statute superfluous and meaningless but would defeat the plain legislative objective of eradicating the evils of discrimination in our public life."

A trailer court, Clark's opinion said, "is like in kind or class and similar to a hotel as both businesses, in general, invite public patronage by offering living facilities to the general public."

AS FOR HOSEBACK riding stables, Clark's opinion held, there is no fundamental difference between them and the amusement places listed in the Act such as theaters, skating rinks, public golf courses, public golf driving ranges, bicycle rinks and public swimming pools.

"All," Clark's opinion said, "are essentially recreational and amusement businesses inviting public patronage for which an admission charge or fee is paid by the general public." (A14

GI Dividend To Reach Vets In Record Time

In response to President Johnson's directive for the earliest possible payment of the $234,000,000 GI insurance dividend for 1964, the Veterans Administration said that the first checks will reach veterans by Jan. 2.

The entire payment to 4,725,000 veterans participating in the dividend will be completed in record time by Jan. 25.

In Illinois, 267,850 veterans will receive $13,336,200, John B. Naser, VA's regional manager for the state, announced.

Naser explained that the speed-up in payments is VA's answer to the President's request as a stimulant to the economy.

Naser reminded policyholders that the preparing and mailing of dividend payments are automatic and require no correspondence fro veterans or their families. In fact, such correspondence might delay the dividend distribution process, he said. (A14
